Reexamining Economic and Political Reforms in Russia, 1985-2000 Vladimir Gel'man, Dmitry Travin, Otar Marganiya, 2014-06-25 Reexamining Economic and Political Reforms in Russia 1985 2000 Generations Ideas and Changes analyzes the impact of generational changes and ideational changes on major political and economic reforms conducted in Russia during the late twentieth century This book examines how the policy agenda was shaped by the ideas of the generations representatives for the sixties and seventies Representatives of the generation of sixties conducted reforms from 1985 to 1991 and invested major efforts in political liberalization but did not pay enough attention to economic reforms On the other hand the reformers from the generation of seventies who were in charge of policy making from 1991 to 1998 were genuinely oriented toward market building but rather insensitive to the democratization of the political regime This book explores how these differences in ideational agendas produced inconsistent and controversial outcomes from both stages of reforms

Enterprise and Social Rights Adalberto Perulli, Tiziano Treu, 2017-06-15 Globalization has led to growing labour fragmentation and widening of gaps in social protection Although the enterprise is increasingly expected to be socially responsible in actuality extreme worker inequalities and social dumping have become ubiquitous worldwide This volume the first to focus attention on the theory of the firm as it reveals itself in today's world from a multidisciplinary perspective underscores the necessity to rebuild a new scientifically controlled

paradigm that acknowledges and regulates the dimension of power in the functioning of the organization In their contributed essays nineteen renowned scholars in labour law and industrial relations rethink the firm its conception its value and its regulation analysing such aspects as the following labour management relations issues that arise when companies go global but workers remain local the firm as a social construction the continuing necessity for collective bargaining concealment of the employment relationship under the guise of self employment concealment of the real employer behind figureheads and shell companies social welfare effects of outsourcing the company's interaction with the network of suppliers and with local education processes determining who actually carries responsibility towards workers overcoming companies drive to enter the global market in response to national regulation realizing the notion of duty of care mechanisms of participation of workers in the management of the enterprise and the persistent limitations that women face in the workplace even when worker participation is advocated With attention to innovative developments in Germany Italy Japan and other countries analyses include case studies of specific companies as well as case law in particular the European Court of Justice's jurisprudence in matters of collective dismissals seconded workers and public contracts In their head on tackling of the fragmentation and blurring of social responsibility in enterprise organization these important essays propose a view of the enterprise as a factor in a new constitutionalisation of labour that shifts employment protection from single legal entities to the network's economic activity thus realigning the legal boundaries of the enterprise with its economic reality As a compelling investigation of how a satisfactory implementation of labour standards in the fragmented enterprise can be guaranteed this book will be studied by entrepreneurs managers consultants corporate lawyers judges human rights experts and trade unionists and will be welcomed by academics and researchers in industrial relations and labour law

Rethinking Institutions, Processes and Development in Africa Ernest Aniche, Toyin Falola, 2021-10-18 African scholarship concerning the nexus between institutions and development is still dominated by the economic perspective of development despite the emergence of the humanistic perspective of development The humanistic perspective is a more embracing encompassing and comprehensive view of development than its economic counterpart and offers a better explanation of the African situation It is essential to examine the relationships between democratic political institutions and human development This collection examines democratic institutions and processes in post independence Africa The contributors examine the political institutional processes in post colonial Africa evaluating the workings of institutions such as education bureaucracy interest groups trade unions and problems of enforcements in Africa It also discusses the relevance of creative arts for political socialization as well as the role effects of privatization on service delivery in contemporary African societies

Mobility and Migration Choices Martin van der Velde, Ton van Naerssen, 2016-03-03 The crossing of national state borders is one of the most discussed issues of contemporary times and it poses many challenges for individual and collective identities This concerns both short distance mobility as well as long distance migration Choosing to move or not across international borders is a complex decision involving both cognitive and emotional processes This book tests the approach that three crucial thresholds need to be crossed before mobility occurs the individual s mindset about migrating the choice of destination and perception of crossing borders to that location and the specific routes and spatial trajectories available to get there Thus both borders and trajectories can act as thresholds to spatial moves The threshold approach with its focus on processes affecting whether when and where to move aims to understand the decision making process in all its dimensions in the hope that this will lead to a better understanding of the ways migrants conceive perceive and undertake their transnational journeys This book examines the three constitutive parts discerned in the cross border mobility decision making process people borders and trajectories and their interrelationships Illustrated by a global range of case studies it demonstrates that the relation between the three is not fixed but flexible and that decision making contains aspects of belonging instability security and volatility affecting their mobility or immobility

Legislative Approximation and Application of EU Law in the Eastern Neighbourhood of the European Union Roman Petrov, Peter Van Elsuwege, 2014-02-24 This book explores the exportation and application of European Union legislation beyond EU borders It clarifies the means and instruments of the voluntary application of the EU s norms by third countries and analyses in detail the process of legislative approximation between the EU and its East European neighbours It also assesses the extent to which the EU is successful in promoting its legal standards abroad The first part of the book addresses the EU s mechanisms and instruments promoting the export of its own laws and practices to other countries Key issues include the post Lisbon constitutional basis for the EU s engagement with its Eastern neighbours Art 8 TEU the different methods of acquis export and the impact of a new generation of Association Agreements providing for the establishment of Deep and Comprehensive Free Trade Areas DCFTAs and ultimately a Neighbourhood Economic Community NEC between the EU and its Eastern partners The second part of the book includes substantive country reports that analyse the process of legislative approximation and application of EU law in the Eastern Partnership countries and Russia authored by leading academics from the countries concerned While currently these countries are not working towards full EU membership the EU encourages them to approximate and converge their legislation with the EU acquis The book also offers a unique picture of current practice of the application of EU law by judiciaries in the countries of the Eastern Partnership and Russia The book concludes with reflections on the multi faceted character of legislative approximation and the challenges surrounding the application of EU law in the EU s Eastern neighbourhood The conclusions reached are highly informative as to the effectiveness of present and future EU external regional policies aimed at the promotion of EU common values and EU legislation into the legal orders of third countries

Prototype Politics Daniel Kreiss, 2016-06-01 Given the advanced state of digital technology and social media one would think that the Democratic and Republican Parties would be reasonably well matched in terms of their technology uptake and sophistication But as past presidential campaigns have shown this is not the case So what explains this odd disparity Political scientists have shown that Republicans effectively used the strategy of party building and networking to gain campaign and electoral advantage throughout the twentieth century In Prototype Politics Daniel Kreiss argues that contemporary campaigning has entered a new technology intensive era that the Democratic Party has engaged to not only gain traction against the Republicans but to shape the new electoral context and define what electoral participation means in the twenty first century Prototype Politics provides an analytical framework for understanding why and how campaigns are newly technology intensive and why digital media data and analytics are at the forefront of contemporary electoral dynamics The book discusses the importance of infrastructure the contexts within which technological innovation happens and how the collective making of prototypes shapes parties and their technological futures Drawing on an analysis of the careers of 629 presidential campaign staffers from 2004 2012 as well as interviews with party elites on both sides of the aisle Prototype Politics details how and why the Democrats invested more in technology were able to attract staffers with specialized expertise to work in electoral politics and founded an array of firms to diffuse technological innovations down ballot and across election cycles Taken together this book shows how the differences between the major party campaigns on display in 2012 were shaped by their institutional histories since 2004 as well as that of their extended network of allied organizations In the process this book argues that scholars need to understand how technological development around politics happens in time and how the dynamics on display during presidential cycles are the outcome of longer processes Cold War Workers

Isabel Campbell, 2025-04-15 When Canada sought to protect its borders and aid its allies during the Cold War many people were recruited to build the emerging security state as construction and maintenance workers engineers members of the armed forces medical researchers and research subjects Security work transformed the lives of individuals families and communities in ways that were both predictable and surprising and both beneficial and harmful the militarization and colonization of Indigenous lives and lands was especially disruptive The opening essays of Cold War Workers intimately portray the complicated effects of Cold War labour upon Indigenous lives Elmer Sinclair a residential school survivor and member of the Canadian Armed Forces achieved equality with white men through his militarized masculinity His more positive professional experience contrasts with those of Indigenous workers on northern radar lines many of whom lost languages connections to the land and other elements of traditional cultures as they sought new skills and better employment Diverse Indigenous experiences of Cold War security work set the scene for the second set of essays which explore the impact of security preoccupations on marginalized groups the study of extreme isolation through scientific experimentation on human subjects the targeting of gay men with psychiatric labelling to enforce an idealized masculinity and the restriction of gender mobility in the Canadian military and the pushback from servicewomen Cold War Workers raises questions about the influence of settler colonial masculine institutional values on those who laboured for the Cold War state and society By comparing the experiences of different types of workers families and communities this volume reveals how race gender and privilege affected people in varied and sometimes unexpected ways Ethnic Relations in Post-Soviet Russia Andrew Foxall, 2014-10-03 While the collapse of communism in Russia was relatively peaceful ethnic relations have been deteriorating since then This deterioration poses a threat to the functioning of the Russian state and is a major obstacle to its future development Analysing ethnic relations in the North Caucasus this book demonstrates how a myriad of processes that characterised post Soviet transition including demographic change economic upheaval geopolitical instability and political restructuring have affected daily life for citizens It raises important questions about ethnicity identity nationalism sovereignty and territoriality in the post Soviet space The Parables of Jesus and the Problems of the World Richard Q.

Ford, 2016-09-09 Remarkable is how extensively in each parable Jesus provides a subtle but rich array of unexpected possibilities hidden within the hierarchies of power so commonplace in his world By doing so he profoundly addresses the perils inherent in the prerogatives of many of us living in today s world In these ancient interpersonal tragedies readers can discover modern global analogues where the powerful still control the powerless and where others of us immersed as we are in privilege are still willing to side with control

Race and Place Deirdre Mayer Dougherty,2025-08-12 Race and Place considers the everyday experiences of community members throughout the process of school desegregation and how race place and truth came to matter in this process in Prince George s County Maryland from 1945 through 1973 The book is organized around several successive policies that emerged in this time school equalization school choice neighborhood schools school construction school closure busing for racial integration and school discipline Dougherty shows how these policies contained and reinforced assumptions about place and created new racial truths about people and schooling

Geopolitics and the Quest for Dominance Jeremy Black,2015-11-25 History and geography delineate the operation of power not only its range but also the capacity to plan and the ability to implement Approaching state strategy and policy from the spatial angle Jeremy Black argues that just as the perception of power is central to issues of power so place and its constraints and relationships is partly a matter of perception not merely map coordinates Geopolitics he maintains is as much about ideas and perception as it is about the actual spatial dimensions of power Black s study ranges widely examining geography and the spatial nature of state power from the 15th century to the present day He considers the rise of British power geopolitics and the age of Imperialism the Nazis and World War II and the Cold War and he looks at the key theorists of the latter 20th century including Henry Kissinger Francis Fukuyama and Samuel P Huntington Philip Bobbitt Niall Ferguson and others

A World of Homeowners Nancy Kwak,2018-09-28 In Latin America Scandinavian housing experts explained that housing is too important a commodity to be subjected to the same general market conditions as other goods but the Americans ridiculed such a stance The Cold War was fought with bricks and mortar not just small hot wars in poor places and the threat of nuclear Armageddon Privatisation began in Malaysia in the 1940s in West Germany Taiwan Burma and South Korea in the 1950s India in 1964 Jordan in 1965 Brazil in 1966 Guatemala and Nigeria in 1967 and the Philippines again in 1968 In the 1960s the US granted loans to expand the private housing sectors in Chile Colombia Costa Rica Ecuador El Salvador Guatemala Nicaragua Panama Peru Uruguay and Venezuela They began housing projects in Rhodesia Zambia and Mali They moved into Senegal in 1972 Botswana in 1973 Tanzania in 1974 and Kenya in 1975 all the while spreading the American dream

Anointed with Oil Darren Dochuk,2019-06-04 A groundbreaking new history of the United States showing how Christian faith and the pursuit of petroleum fueled America s rise to global power and shaped today s political clashes Anointed with Oil places religion and oil at the center of American history As prize winning historian Darren Dochuk reveals from the earliest discovery of oil in America during the Civil War citizens saw oil as the nation s special blessing and its peculiar burden the source of its prophetic mission in the world Over the century that followed and down to the present day the oil industry's leaders and its ordinary workers together fundamentally transformed American religion, business and politics, boosting America's ascent as the preeminent global power, giving shape to modern evangelical Christianity, fueling the rise of the Republican Right and setting the terms for today's political and environmental debates. Ranging from the Civil War to the present, from West Texas to Saudi Arabia to the Alberta Tar Sands and from oil patch boomtowns to the White House, this is a sweeping magisterial book that transforms how we understand our nation's history. The Routledge Handbook of Urban Resilience Michael A. Burayidi, Adriana Allen, John Twigg, Christine Wamsler, 2019-11-27. This volume provides a comprehensive discussion and overview of urban resilience, including socio-ecological and economic hazard and disaster resilience. It provides a summary of state-of-the-art thinking on resilience, the different approaches, tools and methodologies for understanding the subject in urban contexts, and brings together related reflections and initiatives. Throughout the different chapters, the handbook critically examines and reviews the resilience concept from various disciplinary and professional perspectives. It also discusses major urban crises, past and recent, and the generic lessons they provide for resilience. In this context, the authors provide case studies from different places and times, including historical, material, and contemporary examples and studies that offer concrete guidance on how to approach urban resilience. Other chapters focus on how current understanding of urban systems, such as shrinking cities, green infrastructure, disaster volunteerism, and urban energy systems, are affecting the capacity of urban citizens, settlements, and nation-states to respond to different forms and levels of stressors and shocks. The handbook concludes with a synthesis of the state-of-the-art knowledge on resilience and points the way forward in refining the conceptualization and application of urban resilience. The book is intended for scholars and graduate students in urban studies, environmental and sustainability studies, geography, planning, architecture, urban design, political science, and sociology, for whom it will provide an invaluable and up-to-date guide to current approaches across these disciplines that converge in the study of urban resilience. The book also provides important direction to practitioners and civic leaders who are engaged in supporting cities and regions to position themselves for resilience in the face of climate change, unpredictable socio-environmental shocks, and incremental risk accumulation. Conflict Areas in the Balkans Pinar Yürür, Arda Özkan, 2020-10-27. The situation in the Balkans, such as the solution to the status of Kosovo, is currently the largest international political problem in Europe, with the potential to burst into a world crisis regarding the Eastern-Western relations. On the other hand, a successful solution to the problem in the Balkans could serve as a model for solving the Muslim-Christian tensions elsewhere in the world. It is the intention of this book to contribute proposals for solutions to the problems of the Balkans. The starting principle for the solutions to be effective is that they should come in a natural way from the people below and should not be enforced by the political elites from above. Based on self-determination of nations as a starting principle, they should encourage intra-regional cooperation among the regional entities, economic, cultural, sport, as a basis for political, social understanding and cooperation, secondly, accelerate their economic political and social development and thirdly as a final step enable the inclusion of the Balkan countries into the European Union
