W. Hanson,2016-11-07 This book provides a new account of the urbanism of the Roman world between 100 BC and AD 300 To do so it draws on a combination of textual sources and archaeological material to provide a new catalogue of cities calculates new estimates of their areas and uses a range of population densities to estimate their populations A Geography of Infection Matthew R. Smallman-Raynor,Andrew D. Cliff,J. Keith Ord,Peter Haggett,2022-02-10 The last half century has witnessed two landmark events in medical history The 1970s saw euphoria about the defeat of one of humankind s oldest disease scourges with the global eradication of smallpox To set against this the 2020s are experiencing the pandemic ravages of new viral diseases of which COVID 19 is currently the most potent But it is only the latest of a succession of threats A Geography of Infection explores the distinctive spatial patterns and processes by which such infectious diseases spread from place to place and can grow from local and regional epidemics into global pandemics This resource focuses initially on the local scale of doctors practices and small islands where epidemic outbreaks are slight in the numbers infected and in geographical extent Such local area studies raise two questions First how and where do epidemic diseases emerge and second why do more diseases appear to be emerging now To approach such questions implies a shift in spatial gear from painting epidemics with a fine tipped local brush to an expanded palette on which doctors practices and small islands are replaced by regional and global populations Simultaneously time bands are extended backwards to the origins of civilization and forwards into the twenty first century It eventually leads to a consideration of global pandemics both historical for example plague cholera and influenza and contemporary HIV AIDS and COVID 19 and examines the ways the spread of infection can be prevented All chapters are extensively illustrated with full colour diagrams and maps some of which are in colour for the first time Bringing together the authors collective 150 years of experience in research mapping and writing on spatial aspects of medical history this is an invaluable resource for anyone interested in the spread control and eradication of epidemic and pandemic diseases

Emerging Infectious Diseases ,2016 Asia Bond Monitor November 2019 Asian Development Bank,2019-11-01 The quarterly Asia Bond Monitor reviews developments in emerging East Asian local currency bond markets The report discusses key trends in the region s bond markets and the outlook risks and policy options It covers the 10 members of the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and the People s Republic of China Hong Kong China and the Republic of Korea Military Geosciences in the Twenty-First Century Russell S. Harmon,Sophie E. Baker,Eric V. McDonald,2014-08-22 Eighteen chapters address the complex yet critical aspects of the role of geosciences in military undertakings The chapters cover a wide range of expertise drawn from the broad area of geology geomorphology geography geophysics engineering geology hydrogeology cartography environmental science remote sensing soil science geoinformatics and related disciplines that reflect the multidisciplinary nature of military geology Protests as Events Ian R Lamond,Karl Spracklen,2014-11-05 Can activism be considered a leisure activity Can the Occupy movement local campaigns for change and lone acts of personal resistance be understood as events Within the field of Events Management the content of events is generally analyzed within three categories culture sport or business Such a typology can be helpful as a heuristic for interpretation and analysis within a commercial paradigm However this framework overlooks and depoliticizes a significant variety of events those more accurately construed as protest Protests as Events is the first book to explore activism as a leisure activity and protests as events using a fresh interpretation of event to develop a new critical politics of events and leisure Bringing together a range of cutting edge research from around the world it explores a variety of protests through the lens of events studies and leisure in order to understand how the study of events management might be conceptualized in the protest space Elastic Empire Lisa Bhungalia,2023-12-12 The United States integrated counterterrorism mandates into its aid flows in the West

Bank and Gaza Strip during the early years of the global war on terror. Some two decades later, this securitized model of aid has become normalized across donor intervention in Palestine. Elastic Empire traces how foreign aid on which much of the Palestinian population is dependent has multiplied the sites and means through which Palestinian life is regulated, surveilled, and policed. This book tells the story of how aid has also become war. Drawing on extensive research conducted in Palestine, Elastic Empire offers a novel accounting of the US security state. The US war chronicled here is not one of tanks, grenades, and guns, but a quieter one waged through the interlacing of aid and law. It emerges in the infrastructures of daily life in a greenhouse and library, in the collection of personal information and mapping of land plots in the halls of municipal councils and in local elections, and indelibly transfigures lives. Situated in a landscape where the lines between humanitarianism and the global war on terror are increasingly blurred, Elastic Empire reveals the shape-shifting nature of contemporary imperial formations, their realignments and reformulations, their haunted sites and their obscured but intimate forms. Canada's Waste Flows Myra J. Hird, 2021-02-15 From shipments of Canadian waste rotting in developing countries to overflowing landfills and ineffective recycling programs, Canada is facing a waste crisis. Canadians are becoming increasingly aware that waste is an acute environmental and human health issue and a complex one, the solutions to which are often contradictory. Canada's Waste Flows is an honest look at the production and movement of Canadian waste from region to region and across the globe and its consequences. Through a series of timely empirical case studies, the book reveals waste as less of a technological problem and more of a material, economic, political, historical, and cultural concern. Canada's Waste Flows demonstrates that Canadians are misdirecting their attention to post-consumer waste and their responsibility for minimizing it through recycling; waste must be understood as a social justice issue and, in particular, as a symptom of ongoing settler colonialism. Through a comparative study of waste management in southern and northern Canadian communities, Myra Hird argues that we will only resolve our waste crisis through democratic engagement. A critical and compelling book that will generate conversation and incite change, Canada's Waste Flows uncovers how Canada's role as a global leader in waste production and export is key to changing Canada's waste future. iTake-Over David Arditi, 2014-12-11 iTake Over The Recording Industry in the Digital Era sheds light on the way large corporations appropriate new technologies related to recording and distribution of audio material to maintain their market dominance in a capitalist system. All too commonly, scholars have asserted too confidently how the rise and reign of digital music has diminished the power of major record labels. In iTake Over, music scholar David Arditi argues otherwise, adopting a broader perspective by examining how the recording industry has strengthened copyright laws for their corporate ends at the expense of the broader public good, which has traditionally depended on the safe harbor of fair use. Arditi also challenges the dominant discourse over digital music distribution, which has largely adopted the position that the recording industry has a legitimate claim to profitability at the detriment of a shared culture. iTake Over more specifically surveys the actual material effects that digital distribution has had on the industry Most notable among these is how major record labels find themselves in a stronger financial position today in the music industry than they were before the launch of Napster Arditi contends that this is largely because of reduced production and distribution costs and the steady gain in digital music sales Moreover instead of merely trying to counteract the phenomenon of digital distribution the RIAA and the major record labels embraced and then altered the distribution system Throughout the 1990s and early 2000s the RIAA lobbied for legislation built technologies and waged war in the courts in order to shape the digital environment for music distribution From mp3s to the Digital Millennium Copyright Act DMCA from the Audio Home Recording Act AHRA to iTunes the major record labels and the RIAA instead of trying to torpedo the switch to digital distribution engineered it to their benefit often at the expense of the public interest Throughout Arditi boldly asserts that the sea change to digital music did not destroy the recording industry Rather it stands as a testament to the recording industry s successful management of this migration to digital production and distribution As such this work should appeal to musicians and music scholars political scientists and sociologists technologists and audio professionals seeking to grasp this remarkable change in music production and consumption

Navigating the Changing Landscape of Formal and Informal Science Learning Opportunities Deborah Corrigan, Cathy Bunting, Alister Jones, John Loughran, 2018-06-27 This book presents research involving learning opportunities that are afforded to learners of science when the focus is on linking the formal and informal science education sectors It uses the metaphor of a landscape as it emphasises how the authors see the possible movement within a landscape that is inclusive of formal informal and free choice opportunities The book explores opportunities to change formal school science education via perspectives and achievements from the informal and free choice science education sector within the wider lifelong life wide education landscape Additionally it explores how science learning that occurs in a more inclusive landscape can demonstrate the potential power of these opportunities to address issues of relevance and engagement that currently plague the learning of science in school settings Combining specific contexts case studies and more general examples the book examines the science learning landscapes by means of the lens of an ecosystem and the case of the Synergies longitudinal research project It explores the relationships between school and museum and relates the lessons learned through encounters with a narwhal It discusses science communication school community partnerships socioscientific issues outreach education digital platforms and the notion of a learning ecology

'Is It Global War on Terrorism' or Global War over Terra Africana? Nkwazi Nkuzi Mhango, 2017-12-06 Global War on Terrorism or Global War over Terra Africana How Imperial Powers Seek to Occupy Africa Militarily is a long onerous academic voyage of the demystification and demythologization of the Global War on Terror former US president George W Bush and former UK premier Tony Blair conceived envisaged and declared for their hidden personal and national interests It is a hidden and untold story of the other side about the GWOT which is but the GWOTA Major arguments presented gyrate around the deconstruction and overhaul of the GWOT so that it can be equally formulated and fought by all nations for the interests of all but not the interests of some as it currently is Also the book repudiates the pontification the pontifices maximus of the GWOTA have always made ex nihilo while concealing their drive s for perpetually exploiting poor countries Terrorism is a world phenomenon everybody must fight provided it is collectively agreed decided and declared for the collective good and interests of the world but not the interests of a few hegemonic countries that usurped the power of declaring who is a terrorist and who is not Although terrorism is real the manner it is fought is a little bit knotty This tome acts as an eye opener and a wake up call for Africa to start interrogating and excavating the hidden truths about the GWOT chiefly the way it was enacted declared presented and now fought with essentialist and controversialist modus operandi and rationale Other major questions asked and answered are Why exporting military and military hardware guised as fighting terrorism without underscoring the terror military incursion will inter alia cause to Africa especially If truly the aim of the GWOT is to wage war on terror why doesn t the West want to empower African armies Why did the US appoint itself to lead the war conceived and declared without meeting the requirements of the just war or international standards Why hasn t the world learned from Iraq and Libya whose governments were toppled under the fa ade of the GWOT Is it the GWOT or the GWOTA

Bombs Away David G. Havlick,2018-04-11 When viewed from space the Korean Peninsula is crossed by a thin green ribbon On the ground its mix of dense vegetation and cleared borderlands serves as home to dozens of species that are extinct or endangered elsewhere on the peninsula This is Korea s demilitarized zone one of the most dangerous places on earth for humans and paradoxically one of the safest for wildlife Although this zone was not intentionally created for conservation across the globe hundreds of millions of acres of former military zones and bases are being converted to restoration areas refuges and conservation lands David G Havlick has traveled the world visiting these spaces of military to wildlife transition and in Bombs Away he explores both the challenges physical historical and cultural and fascinating ecological possibilities of military site conversions Looking at particular international sites of transition from Indiana s Big Oaks National Wildlife Refuge to Cold War remnants along the former Iron Curtain Havlick argues that these new frontiers of conservation must accomplish seemingly antithetical aims rebuilding and protecting ecosystems or restoring life while also commemorating the historical and cultural legacies of warfare and militarization Developing these ideas further he shows that despite the ecological devastation often wrought by military testing and training these activities need not be inconsistent with environmental goals and in some cases can even complement them a concept he calls ecological militarization A profound clear explication of landscapes both fraught and fecund marked by death but also reservoirs of life Bombs Away shows us how military activities conservation goals and ecological restoration efforts are made to work together to create new kinds of places and new conceptions of place

Everything in Its Place David B. Audretsch,2015-03-02 Every city region and state wants to do better or at the very least not do worse Places have a strong and vigorous concern with and stake in generating a stronger economic performance This concern spans a broad spectrum of constituents and interests including business labor non profit organizations government and private residents However such decision makers mandated with the strategic management of their place receive little guidance or insight from scholars in terms of a systematic framework for evaluating how to generate and sustain a competitive advantage for their place While an entire academic field exists devoted to analyzing how firms and organizations can create and sustain a competitive advantage and ultimately a strong economic performance the field of strategic management in business schools no such analogous field exists which is devoted to guiding and informing decision makers mandated and concerned with the strategic management of their place Everything in Its Place seeks to fill this intellectual void explaining the underlying economic and social factors and the broad spectrum of policies and instruments that can actually influence and enhance economic performance in places Several academic fields have generated a number of important theories empirical findings and case studies that shed considerable light on identifying and unraveling the underlying forces about what shapes this economic performance Combined in this book with the actual experiences and instincts garnered from practitioners and policy makers these insights are integrated together in into a coherent inclusive framework to guide and inform thought leaders and scholars in the strategic management of places
