York City Transit Authority 7 subway line runs through a highly diverse series of ethnic and immigrant neighborhoods in Queens People from Andean South America Central America China India Italy Korea Mexico Pakistan Poland Romania and Vietnam as well as residents of a number of gentrifying blue collar and industrial neighborhoods fill the busy streets around the stations The 7 train is a microcosm of a specifically urban New York experience in which individuals from a variety of cultures and social classes are forced to interact and get along with one another For newcomers to the city mastery of life in the subway space is a step toward assimilation into their new home In International Express the French ethnographer Stéphane Tonnelat and his collaborator William Kornblum a native New Yorker ride the 7 subway line to better understand the intricacies of this phenomenon They also ask a group of students with immigrant backgrounds to keep diaries of their daily rides on the 7 train What develops over time they find is a set of shared subway competences leading to a practical cosmopolitanism among riders including immigrants and their children that changes their personal values and attitudes toward others in small subtle ways This growing civility helps newcomers feel at home in an alien city and builds what the authors call a situational community in transit Yet riding the subway can be problematic especially for women and teenagers Tonnelat and Kornblum pay particular attention to gender and age relations on the 7 train Their portrait of integrated mass transit including a discussion of the relationship between urban density and diversity is invaluable for social scientists and urban planners eager to enhance the cooperative experience of city living for immigrants and ease the process of cultural transition

The Trickle-Down Delusion John Seip, Dee Wood Harper, 2016-05-02 From inside the book Since 1980 the economy has been growing and productivity has been growing but trickle down values that we the American people promote pursuant to the Republican Party's conservative ideology have rigged the economy to continuously upwardly redistribute those revenues attributable to our increased productivity yielding a productivity wage disconnect resulting in increased concentration of income and wealth at the top in corporations and among older Americans beneficiaries of income from Social Security pensions and investments and continuing income due to delaying retirement and the lowest percentage of GDP attributable to wages and highest attributable to profits since World War II But trickle down has not only distorted our economic thought it has also distorted our political thought our sociology and our concept of the rule of law The result has been that the trickle down policies promoted by the Republican Party are undermining our economy democracy institutions and health For further discussion contact author at johnjseip gmail com
