Geography Paper 1 Nov 2014:

Spatial Cultures Sam Griffiths, Alexander von Lünen, 2016-06-10 What is the relationship between how cities work and what cities mean Spatial Cultures Towards a New Social Morphology of Cities Past and Present announces an innovative research agenda for urban studies in which themes and methods from urban history social theory and built environment research are brought into dialogue across disciplinary and chronological boundaries The collection confronts the recurrent epistemological impasse that arises between research focussing on the description of material built environments and that which is concerned primarily with the people who inhabit govern and write about cities past and present A reluctance to engage substantively with this issue has been detrimental to scholarly efforts to understand the urban built environment as a meaningful agent of human social experience Drawing on a wide range of historical and contemporary urban case studies as well as a selection of theoretical and methodological reflections the contributions to this volume seek to historically geographically and architecturally contextualize diverse spatial practices including movement encounter play procession and neighbourhood The aim is to challenge their tacit treatment as universal categories in much writing on cities and to propose alternative research possibilities with implications as much for urban design thinking as for history and the social sciences

The Development of Renewable Energy Sources and its Significance for the Environment Almas

Heshmati, Shahrouz Abolhosseini, Jörn Altmann, 2015-04-15 This book analyzes the effects of power generated by renewable energy sources renewable energy production technologies energy efficiency and market regulation of carbon emissions It elaborates on how these parameters have direct and indirect effects on carbon emission reduction such as the results of an environmental tax that could directly reduce carbon emissions by decreasing fossil fuel consumption or by stimulating energy savings through technological innovation as well as how renewable energy sources can affect both economic growth and the environment In addition to a detailed analysis of the interrelationships between renewable energy consumption production technology and market regulation The Development of Renewable Energy Sources and its Significance for the Environment proposes a model for measuring the effectiveness and results of the interaction between these links Furthermore a structure for a marketplace of renewable energy sources is put forward as well as an outline of the requirements that must be met in order for this market to function Suitable policy recommendations to enhance the market for renewable energies are also provided

Understanding Urban Cycling Justin Spinney, 2020-10-28 Academic interest in cycling has burgeoned in recent years with significant literature relating to the health and environmental benefits of cycling the necessity for cycle specific infrastructure and the embodied experiences of cycling Based upon primary research in a variety of contexts such as London Shanghai and Taipei this book demonstrates that recent developments in urban cycling policy and practice are closely linked to broader processes of capital accumulation It argues that cycling is increasingly caught up in discourses around smart cities that emphasise technological solutions to environmental problems and neoliberal ideas on individual responsibility and bio political conduct which only results in solutions that prioritise those who are already mobile Accordingly the central argument of the book is not that the popularisation of cycling is inherently bad but that the manner in which cycling is being popularised gives cause for social and environmental concern Ultimately the book argues that cycling has now become a vehicle for sustaining pro growth agendas rather than subverting them or shifting to sustainable no growth de growth and less technologically driven visions of modernity This book makes an innovative contribution to the fields of Cycling Studies Mobilities and Transport and will be of interest to students and academics working in Human Geography Transport Studies Urban Studies Urban Planning Public Policy Sociology and Sustainability Ageing in Cities OECD,2015-04-30 This book examines trends in ageing societies and urban development before assessing the impact of ageing populations on urban areas and strategies for policy and governance It includes 9 case studies Global Governance and India's North-East Ranabir Samaddar,Anita Sengupta,2019-06-04 This book maps the convergence of governance and connectivity within Asia established through the spatial dynamics of trade capital conflict borders and mobility It situates Indian trade and governance policies within a broader Asian and global context Focussing on India s North East in particular on India s Look and Act East Policy the volume underscores how logistical governance in the region can bring economic and political transformations It explores the projected development of the North East into a gateway of transformative cultural interaction among people just as the Silk Road became a conduit for Buddhism to travel along with musical instruments and tea Comprehensive and topical this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of political studies international relations governance studies development studies international trade and economics and for think tanks working on South and Southeast Asia Climate Change, Migration and Conflict in Bangladesh Md Rafiqul Islam,2023-08-18 This book explores the relationship between climate change induced migration and conflict in Bangladesh one of the most ecologically fragile countries in the world It explores why people migrate from their original place of land and how the migration of people with a different background to an ethnically distinctive region due to environmental changes can become a source of conflict and violence between the host peoples and migrants The volume focuses on the Chittagong Hill Tracts CHT which has experienced long standing ethnopolitical conflict due to the settlement and migration of the Bengali people from the plain land of Bangladesh This settlement and migration were mainly caused climatic events such as floods cyclones sealevel rise and disasters It traces the history of the ethnic conflict in the region and presents key findings from the field as well as the dynamics of everyday politics in the region This volume also highlights how internally climate displaced people generate violence and civil strife in the major urban cities through their settlements in slums The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of environmental studies human geography migration and diaspora studies public policy social anthropology and South Asian studies London the Promised Land Revisited Anne J. Kershen,2016-03-09 Some two decades since the publication of London the Promised Land which charted and investigated the successes and failures of the migrant experience in London over a period of three hundred years this book re examines the migrant landscape in London While remaining a beacon for immigrants the migrant face of the city has changed rapidly and dramatically from one which was heavily populated by semi skilled and unskilled post colonial incomers to one which now embraces the EU Accession Countries refugees from the Middle East and Africa oligarchs from Russia the new wealthy from China economic migrants from Latin America and Ireland and still post colonial immigrants at the same time witnessing the exodus home of incomers or their descendants who now see opportunities where there were none before The contributors all leading academics and practitioners in their diverse fields examine changes to the migrant landscape of contemporary London at the micro meso and macro levels London the Promised Land Revisited thus explores a range of experiences in the capital including the presence and treatment of illness amongst migrants the phenomenon of migrant invisibility and asylum the migrant marketplace and ethnic clustering and interaction with local and national government across a variety of migrant groups both new and old As such this book will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interest in migration migrant experiences and the contemporary global city DRHA2014 Proceedings / Full Papers Anastasios Maragiannis, 2015-08-12

This publication includes a selection of peer reviewed academic papers The FULL PAPER Proceedings publication for the DRH2014 conference showcase up to date discussions dynamic debates and innovative keynotes and aims to open a discussion on defining digital communication futures as a theme that connects interdisciplinary practices focusing particularly on issues of communication and its impact on creative industries Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability Chew-Hung Chang, Gillian Kidman, Andy Wi, 2019-09-25 In a fast changing globalising world the teaching and implementation of a curriculum for Education for Sustainability EfS has been a challenge for many teachers Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability highlights the issues and challenges educators and academics face in implementing EfS and gives examples of what an EfS curriculum may look like and how some institutions translate the theory into practice Organised into three parts the volume looks at the who EfS for whom the what EfS curriculum and the how translating from theory to practice The concluding chapter provides ideas and directions on where the world can proceed regarding sustainability education and how it can help in the teaching and learning of sustainability Considering social issues such as poverty education health culture and the use of natural resources this book proposes a different path towards Education for Sustainability Providing concrete data on the realisation of sustainable development Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability will be of interest to geographers geography educators and professionals concerned with Education for Sustainability Balkan Heritages Maria Couroucli, Tchavdar Marinov, 2017-05-15 This volume deals with the relation between heritage history and politics in the Balkans Contributions examine diverse ways in which material and immaterial heritage has been articulated negotiated and manipulated since the nineteenth century The major question addressed here is how modern Balkan nations have voiced claims about their past by establishing proof of a long historical presence on their territories in order to legitimise national political narratives Focusing on claims constructed in relation to tangible evidence of past presence especially architecture and townscape the contributors reveal the rich relations between material and immaterial conceptions of heritage This comparative take on Balkan public uses of the past also reveals many common trends in social and political practices ideas and fixations embedded in public and collective memories Balkan Heritages revisits some general truths about the Balkans as a region and a category in scholarship and in politics Contributions to the volume adopt a transnational and trans disciplinary perspective of Balkan identities and heritage s viewed here as symbolic resources deployed by diverse local actors with special emphasis on scholars and political leaders

From Flood Safety to Spatial Management Emmy Bergsma, 2018-07-25 This book deals with the introduction of a new type of spatial measures in flood governance In contrast to traditional safety measures that aim to provide protection against floods by building structural flood defenses such as levees and flood walls the goal of spatial measures is to reduce the exposure to flood risks by changing the spatial layout of flood prone areas By limiting developments and flood proofing buildings in areas at risk to flooding investments in structural flood defenses can be circumvented and vulnerabilities reduce World wide spatial measures are gaining attractiveness as a response strategy to increasing flood risks caused by climate change and urbanization The introduction of spatial measures in flood governance involves more than the simple development of new policies and laws Research has demonstrated that the implementation of spatial measures can have huge implications for how costs and responsibilities are divided between different levels of governance and between public and private actors changing the whole organization behind flood governance Both for the effectiveness and for the legitimacy of spatial flood governance strategies it is important that these distributive implications are well understood This book describes the introduction of spatial measures in the context of two very different delta countries the Netherlands and the United States In the United States a spatial flood governance strategy was already developed in the mid 20th century whereas in the Netherlands a safety paradigm institutionalized over the course of the 20th century and spatial measures have only recently been introduced By analyzing the science policy interactions underlying the implementation of spatial measures in both countries this book shows how under the influence of different types of experts engineers in the Netherlands and social geographers in the United States different spatial flood management strategies emerged with different distributive implications each with its own challenges for effectiveness and legitimacy

Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies Biliana Cicin-Sain, David Vanderzwaag, Miriam C. Balgos, 2015-05-15 This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis While most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping fishing oil and gas development in the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992 2002 and 2012 sustainable development summits The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated precautionary and anticipatory Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world

Arctic Governance: Volume 3 Geir Hønneland, Ida Folkestad Soltvedt, Svein Vigeland Rottem, 2019-12-04 The Polar North is known to be home to large gas and oil reserves and its position holds significant trading and military advantages yet the maritime boundaries of the region remain ill defined In the twenty first century the Arctic is undergoing profound change As the sea ice melts a result of accelerating climate change global governance has become vital In this the third of three volumes the latest research and analysis from the world's leading Arctic research body the Fridtjof Nansen Institute is brought together for the first time Arctic Governance Norway Russia and Asia investigates the foreign policy discourses of Arctic governance specifically as regarding international relations and competing interests between Norway Russia and various Asian states

Neighbourhood Policy and the Construction of the European External Borders Filippo Celata, Raffaella Coletti, 2015-06-11 This book looks both backward and forward with regard to the European Union's political strategies towards its neighbouring countries By bringing together the perspectives of critical geopolitics policy studies and border studies it presents a comprehensive review of the European Neighbourhood Policy and how it impacts the ongoing construction of the EU's external frontiers Is the EU committed to promoting integration in a wider European space or is a fortress Europe emerging where the strengthening of internal cohesion is coupled with the militarisation of its external borders The book aims to problematize this question by showing how the EU's external policies are based on a mixture of openness and closure inclusion and exclusion cooperation and securitisation The European Neighbourhood Policy is a controversial strategy where regionalization and bordering homogenisations and differentiations centrifugal and centripetal forces proceed side by side in an explicit attempt to construct a selective mobile and fragmented border A specific focus is devoted to the diversity of geo strategies the EU is pursuing in its neighbouring countries and regions macro regional strategies and cross border cooperation initiatives as new scales of cooperation and the role of other global players
