The Shadow of Kenyan Democracy Dominic Burbidge, 2016-03-09 Why has democracy failed to reduce corruption in Kenya Framing the challenge in game theoretical terms Dominic Burbidge examines how mutual expectations between citizens dictate the success or failure of political reforms Since 1992 Kenya has conducted multiparty elections with the hope of promoting accountability and transparency in government This is being undermined by ongoing corruption and an increasingly centralised state response to terrorism Providing a nuanced assessment of democracy s difficult road in Kenya Burbidge discusses the independent role being played by widespread social expectations of corruption Through tracking average views of the average person it is possible to identify a threshold beyond which society suffers mutually reinforcing negative social expectations This trend is the shadow of Kenyan democracy and must be treated as a policy challenge on its own terms before institutional reforms will be successful

Arctic Governance: Volume 3 Geir Hønneland, Ida Folkestad Soltvedt, Svein Vigeland Rottem, 2019-12-04

The Polar North is known to be home to large gas and oil reserves and its position holds significant trading and military advantages yet the maritime boundaries of the region remain ill defined In the twenty first century the Arctic is undergoing profound change As the sea ice melts a result of accelerating climate change global governance has become vital In this the third of three volumes the latest research and analysis from the world s leading Arctic research body the Fridtjof Nansen Institute is brought together for the first time Arctic Governance Norway Russia and Asia investigates the foreign policy discourses of Arctic governance specifically as regarding international relations and competing interests between Norway Russia and various Asian states

MENA in the turbulent period since the inception of the Arab Spring It explores the key policy challenges faced by Russia in the context of Russia's relations with both the regional states and the major external powers The book incorporates chapters on Russia's involvement in MENA affairs its intervention in the Syrian civil war the domestic sources of its foreign policy its clash with the Western powers over issues pertaining to sovereignty and humanitarian norms its response to the challenge posed by Islamist extremism and its political military and economic interests in the MENA region The book offers an original critical analysis of Russia's thinking and decision making and examines the implications of its more assertive foreign policy strategy following its military interventions in Syria and Ukraine

Handbook on the Geographies of Innovation Richard

Shearmur, Christophe Carrincazeaux, David Doloreux, 2016-11-25 The geography of innovation is changing Firstly it is increasingly understood that innovative firms and organizations exhibit a wide variety of strategies each differently attuned to diverse geographic contexts Secondly and concomitantly the idea that cities clusters and physical proximity are essential for innovation is evolving under the weight of new theorizing and empirical evidence The aim of this handbook is to break with the many ideas and concepts that emerged during the course of the 1980s and 1990s and to fully take into account the new reality of the internet mobile communication technologies personal mobility and globalization The handbook gathers a new generation of ideas and authors to contribute to the debate providing an empirically grounded critical appraisal of the prevailing knowledge on the geography of innovation The 28 original chapters written by a diverse range of scholars with widely differing views present fresh empirical evidence and new perspectives relating to how innovation plays out across space in an age where mobility has increased information is ubiquitous and globalisation has been realised Overall the dialogue between existing theory and new possibilities provides a unique and challenging appraisal of the connection between innovation agglomeration and space Offering cutting edge ideas in an accessible format this will be an ideal resource for students and scholars of economic geography and innovation studies The empirical evidence and analysis will also be of great value for policymakers and government officials Contributors include B T Asheim H W Aslesen A Bain P A Balland N Bradford A Bramwell C Brennan Horley S Breschi C Carraincazeaux C Chaminade R Comunian C De Fuentes D Doloreux D Eckert A Faggian M Ferru R D Fitjar K Flanagan C Gibson M Grillitsch M Grossetti G Harirchi F Huber A Isaksen S Jewel J Karlsen N Komninos J L Klein N Lee F Lissoni M Maisonobe J Mattes P McCann C T Noumedem R Ortega Argil s M Plechero A Rallet A Rodriguez Pose R Shearmur H L Smith B Spigel J Tallec E Tranos D G Tremblay F T dtling M Trippl E Uyarra C Yang C Wilkie D A Wolfe

The New World Politics of the Indo-Pacific Josukutty C A, Joyce Sabina

Lobo, 2024-06-03 The book offers a vivid analysis of the new geopolitics in the Indo Pacific in terms of big power rivalry between the US China and country wise perspectives situating largely within the late 2000s and culminates with the developments of the COVID 19 period The great power shift marked by the rise of China and the relative decline of the US poses a serious challenge to the balance of power in the Indo Pacific region and the world order in general Ironically the play of realism in the region is stymied by broad partnerships of key countries that utilise the liberal approaches of cooperation with both rivals the US and China The book captures the mosaic of stakeholders rivals the US and China along with Russia other QUAD members Australia India and Japan key ASEAN members Indonesia Malaysia Singapore and Vietnam vulnerable states in East Asia viz Taiwan and South Korea and groupings including the ASEAN and QUAD that constitute the new world politics of the Indo Pacific The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of Indo Pacific studies global politics and international relations Handbook of the Politics of the Arctic Leif Christian Jensen, Geir

Hønneland, 2015-09-25 The Arctic has again become one of the leading issues on the international foreign policy agenda in a manner unseen since the Cold War Drawing on the perspectives of geo politics and international law this Handbook offers fresh insights and perspectives on the most pressing issues grouped under the headings of political ascendancy climate and environmental issues resources and energy and the response and policies of affected countries The Local Impact of Globalization in South and Southeast Asia Bart Lambregts, Niels Beerepoot, Robert C. Kloosterman, 2015-08-27 In the past two decades several millions of IT enabled services jobs have been relocated or offshored from the US and Europe to in particular low cost economies around the world Most of these jobs so far have landed in South and South East Asia with India and the Philippines receiving the bulk of them This has caused profound changes in the international division of labour and has had correspondingly wide social and economic effects This book examines how this next wave in globalization affects people and places in South and South East Asia It brings together twelve case studies from India the Philippines China Hong Kong and Thailand and explores how and for whom services offshoring creates opportunities triggers local economic transformations and produces challenges This book in addition compares how different countries take part in this second global shift investigates service sector driven economic development from a historical perspective and engages with the question whether and to what extent services offer a new promising avenue of sustained economic growth for developing countries It argues that service led development in developing countries is not easy for all the workers involved or a guaranteed path to sustained economic development and prosperity This volume stands out from other books in the field in its exploration of the social and economic outcomes in the cities and countries where services have been located Based on cutting edge empirical research and original data the volume offers a state of the art contribution to this growing debate The book provides valuable insights for students scholars and professionals interested in services offshoring socio economic development and contemporary transformations in South and South East Asia Geo-Design Steffen Nijhuis, Sisi Zlatanova, Eduardo

Dias, Frank van der Hoeven, Stefan van der Spek, 2016-12-01 Geo Design Advances in bridging geo information technology and design bring together a wide variety of contributions from authors with backgrounds in urban planning landscape architecture education and geo information technology presenting the latest insights and applications of geo design Geo Design is here understood as a hybridization of the concepts Geo representing the modeling analytical and visualization capacities of GIS and Design representing spatial planning and design turning existing situations into preferred ones Through focusing on interdisciplinary design related concepts and applications of GIS international experts share their recent findings and provide clues for the further development of geo design This is important since there is still much to do Not only in the development of geo information technology but especially in bridging the gap with the design disciplines The uptake on using GIS is still remarkably slow among landscape architects urban designers and planners and when utilized it is often restricted to the basic tasks of mapmaking and data access Knowledge development and dissemination of applications of geodesign through research publications and education therefore remain key factors This publication draws upon the insights shared at the Geodesign Summit Europe held at Delft University of Technology in 2014 All contributions in the book are double blind reviewed by experts in the field

South-North Migration of EU Citizens in Times of Crisis Jean-Michel Lafleur, Mikolaj Stanek, 2016-12-08 This open access book looks at the migration of Southern European EU citizens from Portugal Spain Italy Greece who move to Northern European Member States Belgium France Germany United Kingdom in response to the global economic crisis Its objective is twofold First it identifies the scale and nature of this new Southern European emigration and examines these migrants socio economic integration in Northern European destination countries This is achieved through an analysis of the most recent data on flows and profiles of this new labour force using sending country and receiving country databases Second it looks at the politics and policies of immigration both from the perspective of the sending and receiving countries Analysing the policies and debates about these new flows in the home and host countries this book shows how contentious the issue of intra EU mobility has recently become in the context of the crisis when the right for EU citizens to move within the EU had previously not been questioned for decades Overall the strength of this edited volume is that it compiles in a systematic way quantitative and qualitative analysis of these renewed Southern European migration flows and draws the lessons from this changing climate on EU migration

Spatial Cultures Sam Griffiths, Alexander von Lünen, 2016-06-10 What is the relationship between how cities work and what cities mean Spatial Cultures Towards a New Social Morphology of Cities Past and Present announces an innovative research agenda for urban studies in which themes and methods from urban history social theory and built environment research are brought into dialogue across disciplinary and chronological boundaries The collection confronts the recurrent epistemological impasse that arises between research focussing on the description of material built environments and that which is concerned primarily with the people who inhabit govern and write about cities past and present A reluctance to engage substantively with this issue has been detrimental to scholarly efforts to understand the urban built environment as a meaningful agent of human social experience Drawing on a wide range of historical and contemporary urban case studies as well as a selection of theoretical and methodological reflections the contributions to this volume seek to historically geographically and architecturally contextualize diverse spatial practices including movement encounter play procession and neighbourhood The aim is to challenge their tacit treatment as universal categories in much writing on cities and to propose alternative research possibilities with implications as much for urban design thinking as for history and the social sciences Re-thinking

Mobility Poverty Tobias Kuttler, Massimo Moraglio, 2020-12-17 This book seeks to better conceptualise and define mobility poverty addressing both its geographies and socio economic landscapes It moves beyond the analysis of transport poverty and innovatively explores mobility inequalities and social construction of mobility disadvantages The debate on mobility poverty is gaining momentum due to its role in triggering social exclusion and economic deprivation In this light this book examines the social construction of mobility poverty by delving into mobility patterns and needs as they are differently experienced by social groups in different geographical situations It considers factors such as the role of transport regimes and their social value when analysing the social construction of individual s mobility needs Furthermore the gaps between articulated and unarticulated needs are identified by observing actual travel patterns of individuals The book offers a comparison of the global phenomenon through fieldwork conducted in six different European countries Greece Portugal Italy Luxembourg Romania and Germany This book will be useful reading for planners sociologists geographers mobility transport researchers mobility advocates policy makers and transport practitioners The Open Access version of this book available at <https://doi.org/10.4324/9780367333317> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 license Asian Sacred Natural Sites Bas Verschuuren, Naoya Furuta, 2016-08-12 Nature conservation planning tends to be driven by models based on Western norms and science but these may not represent the cultural philosophical and religious contexts of much of Asia This book provides a new perspective on the topic of sacred natural sites and cultural heritage by linking Asian cultures religions and worldviews with contemporary conservation practices and approaches The chapters focus on the modern significance of sacred natural sites in Asian protected areas with reference where appropriate to an Asian philosophy of protected areas Drawn from over 20 different countries the book covers examples of sacred natural sites from all of IUCN s protected area categories and governance types The authors demonstrate the challenges faced to maintain culture and support spiritual and religious governance and management structures in the face of strong modernisation across Asia The book shows how sacred natural sites contribute to defining new more sustainable and more equitable forms of protected areas and conservation that reflect the worldviews and beliefs of their respective cultures and religions The book contributes to a paradigm shift in conservation and protected areas as it advocates for greater recognition of culture and spirituality through the adoption of biocultural conservation approaches Understanding Urban Cycling Justin Spinney, 2020-10-28 Academic interest in cycling has burgeoned in recent years with significant literature relating to the health and environmental benefits of cycling the necessity for cycle specific infrastructure and the embodied experiences of cycling Based upon primary research in a variety of contexts such as London Shanghai and Taipei this book demonstrates that recent developments in urban cycling policy and practice are closely linked to broader processes of capital accumulation It argues that cycling is increasingly caught up in discourses around smart cities that emphasise technological solutions to environmental problems and neoliberal ideas on individual responsibility and bio political conduct which only results in solutions that prioritise those who are already mobile Accordingly the central argument of the book is not that the popularisation of cycling is inherently bad but that the manner in which cycling is being popularised gives cause for social and environmental concern Ultimately the book argues that cycling has now become a vehicle for sustaining pro growth agendas rather than subverting them or shifting to sustainable no growth de growth and less technologically driven visions of modernity This book makes an innovative contribution to the fields of Cycling Studies Mobilities and Transport and will be of interest to students and academics working in Human Geography Transport Studies Urban Studies Urban Planning Public Policy Sociology and Sustainability

China's Quest for Great Power Bernard D Cole, 2016-09-15 This book examines China's national security strategy by looking at the three major elements foreign policy energy security and naval power all interactive and major influences on China's future and its relations with the United States A decade and a half into the twenty first century Beijing requires reliable access to energy resources the navy to defend that access and foreign policies to navigate safely toward its goals Most importantly the People's Liberation Army Navy PLAN must be able to safeguard China's regional maritime interests especially the sovereignty disputes involving Taiwan and the Yellow East China and South China Seas Many Chinese naval officers and analysts think the United States is determined to contain China and prevent it from achieving the dominant historical position to which it is entitled This view has been strengthened by Washington's shift to Asia transfer of naval units to the Pacific and the March 2015 Maritime Strategy released by the U S Navy Marine Corps and Coast Guard China's relationship with the United States is vital to both countries and to the world The relationship is based on both common and divergent interests in economics military operations and political goals and methods China's international trading economy and ambition for a world class navy require effective foreign diplomacy and participation in global affairs This policy trifecta in large part defines China's posture to the world Beijing is approximately halfway toward its mid century goal of deploying a navy capable of defending China's perceived maritime interests China's priorities follow President Xi Jinping's definition of national security as comprehensive encompassing politics the military the economy technology the environment and culture What this means for future Chinese foreign policy choices as naval modernization and energy security concerns enable different courses of action lies at the center of this book's conclusions
