Hoover Hurricane Pets Manual:

Hurricane Impact on Gulf Coast Barriers, 1982 Hurricane Frederic made landfall near Pascagoula Mississippi at midnight September 13 1979 At the time of landfall the central pressure had dropped to 946 mb onshore winds in excess of 200 km hr were lashing the Alabama coastline and the open coast storm tide peaked at 365 cm at Gulf Shores Alabama Vertical aerial photography obtained in 1976 and again 9 days after Frederic made landfall combined with multiple reconnaissance overflights and ground surveys by the authors provided the data base for determination of shoreline erosion and the deposition of hurricane scour and sedimentary deposits Erosion of the Gulf beach at Dauphin Island proved to follow a predictable pattern controlled by nearshore bathymetry whereas retreat of the shoreline of the Mississippi Sound margin was an unexpected occurrence Apparently this retreat was due to a hydraulic jump as washover currents entered the deep water of Mississippi Sound Large scale sediment redistribution on Dauphin Island proper was a consequence of the storm surge flood The ebb surge however was responsible for the reopening of three inlets across Little Dauphin Island The wave induced property destruction on Dauphin Island was most intense immediately west of the area of high dunes This segment of the island the easternmost portion of the Holocene spit has been breached twice in this century During future storm events breaching or at the very least severe property destruction in this area seems inevitable A sensible land use plan for Dauphin Island should include a search for alternative and potentially safer areas for development
