Corneille's Horace (Classic Reprint) John E. Matzke,2015-08-09 Excerpt from Corneille's Horace Horace was the second of the great plays of Corneille following the Cid after an interval of some three years The first representation occurred early in the year 1640 presumably at the Hotel de Bourgogne This date is established through a letter of Chapelain the author of the Academy's Sentiments stir le Cid to Balzac written on the ninth of March of that year in which he says Pour le combat des Horaces ce ne sera pas sitot que vous le verrez pour ce qu il n a encore ete represente qu une fois devant son Eminence et que devant que d etre publie il faut qu il serve six mois de gagne pain aux comediens The causes for this long silence were varied Foremost among them was without doubt the discouragement consequent upon the Quarrel of the Cid In the beginning Corneille's pride was wounded and he threatened that he would give cause for further discussion in the near future About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged
