Handbook of Integrative Developmental Science

Michael F. Mascolo, Thomas R. Bidell, 2020-03-20 Although integrative conceptions of development have been gaining increasing interest there have been few attempts to bring together the various threads of this emerging trend The Handbook of Integrative Developmental Science seeks ways to bring together classic and contemporary theory and research in developmental psychology with an eye toward building increasingly integrated theoretical and empirical frameworks It does so in the form of a festschrift for Kurt Fischer whose life and work have both inspired and exemplified integrative approaches to development Building upon and inspired by the comprehensive scope of Fischer's Dynamic Skill Theory this book examines what an integrated theory of psychological development might look like Bringing together the work of prominent integrative thinkers the volume begins with an examination of philosophical presuppositions of integrative approaches to development It then shows how Dynamic Skill Theory provides an example of an integrative model of development After examining the question of the nature of integrative developmental methodology the volume examines the nature of developmental change processes as well as pathways and processes in the development of psychological structures both within and between psychological domains The team of expert contributors cover a range of psychological domains including the macro and micro development of thought feeling motivation self intersubjectivity social relations personality and other integrative processes It ends with a set of prescriptions for the further elaboration of integrative developmental theory and a tribute to Kurt Fischer and his influence on developmental psychology This book will be essential reading for graduate students and researchers of developmental psychology and human development specifically developmental science Disability Romel W. Mackelprang, Richard O. Salsgiver, 2016 Disability is a tool for human service practitioners to use in understanding disability from an empowerment social model perspective The text addresses policy theory description and practice from a strengths based viewpoint stressing disability as a difference rather than as dysfunction The book establishes the historical and societal context in which those with disabilities are marginalized discusses the major groupings of disabilities and offers a model for assessment and practice Developmental Science Marc H. Bornstein, Michael E. Lamb, 2015-07-24 Developmental Science An Advanced Textbook is the most complete and cutting edge introduction to the field available today Since its initial publication the key purpose of the text has been to furnish inclusive developmental perspectives on all substantive areas in psychology neuroscience perception cognition language emotion and social interaction This edition is no exception as it continues to underscore the dynamic and exciting status of contemporary developmental science In this Seventh Edition Marc H Bornstein and Michael E Lamb once again invite international experts to prepare original comprehensive and topical treatments of the major areas of developmental science which are masterfully woven into a single coherent volume Some chapters in this edition are new and those carried forward from the sixth edition have been extensively revised This volume represents faithfully the current status of scholarly efforts in all aspects of developmental science Ideal for advanced undergraduate and introductory graduate courses the text is accompanied by a website with supplementary material for students and instructors including chapter outlines topics to think about before reading glossaries and suggested readings

Handbook of Parenting Marc H. Bornstein, 2019-02-01 This highly anticipated third edition of the Handbook of Parenting brings together an array of field leading experts who have worked in different ways toward understanding the many diverse aspects of parenting Contributors to the Handbook look to the most recent research and thinking to shed light on topics every parent professional and policymaker wonders about Parenting is a perennially hot topic After all everyone who has ever lived has been parented and the vast majority of people become parents themselves No wonder bookstores house shelves of how to parenting books and magazine racks in pharmacies and airports overflow with periodicals that feature parenting advice However almost none of these is evidence based The Handbook of Parenting is Period Each chapter has been written to be read and absorbed in a single sitting and includes historical considerations of the topic a discussion of central issues and theory a review of classical and modern research and forecasts of future directions of theory and research Together the five volumes in the Handbook cover Children and Parenting the Biology and Ecology of Parenting Being and Becoming a Parent Social Conditions and Applied Parenting and the Practice of Parenting Volume 4 Social Conditions and Applied Parenting describes socially defined groups of parents and social conditions that promote variation in parenting The chapters in Part I on Social and Cultural Conditions of Parenting start with a relational developmental systems perspective on parenting and move to considerations of ethnic and minority parenting among Latino and Latin Americans African Americans Asians and Asian Americans Indigenous parents and immigrant parents The section concludes with considerations of disabilities employment and poverty on parenting Parents are ordinarily the most consistent and caring people in children s lives However parenting does not always go right or well Information education and support programs can remedy potential ills The chapters in Part II on Applied Issues in Parenting begin with how parenting is measured and follow with examinations of maternal deprivation attachment and acceptance rejection in parenting Serious challenges to parenting some common such as stress and depression and some less common such as substance abuse psychopathology maltreatment and incarceration are addressed as are parenting interventions intended to redress these trials
