Ivanhoe, 2012-01-02

Mortality in Traditional China is the definitive exploration of a complex and fascinating but little understood subject Arguably death as a concept has not been nearly as central a preoccupation in Chinese culture as it has been in the West However even in a society that seems to understand death as a part of life responses to mortality are revealing and indicate much about what is valued and what is feared This edited volume fills the lacuna on this subject presenting an array of philosophical artistic historical and religious perspectives on death during a variety of historical periods Contributors look at material culture including findings now available from the Mawangdui tomb excavations consider death in Confucian Daoist and Buddhist traditions and discuss death and the history and philosophy of war
