a young working class woman with strong religious beliefs who takes a position as a kitchen maid at a horse racing estate. She is seduced and abandoned and forced to support herself and her illegitimate child in any way that she can. The novel depicts with extraordinary candour Esther's struggles against prejudice and injustice and the growth of her character as she determines to protect her son. Her moving story is set against the backdrop of a world of horse racing betting and public houses whose vivid depiction led James Joyce to call Esther Waters the best novel of modern English life. Controversial and influential on its first appearance in 1894, the book opened up a new direction for the English realist tradition. Unflinching in its depiction of the dark and sordid side of Victorian culture, it remains one of the great novels of London life and labour in the 1890s.

Educating the Imagination Alan Bewell, Neil ten Kortenaar, Germaine Warkentin, 2015-10-01

Northrop Frye's long career made him Canada's most creative public intellectual. A century after his birth, his many books demonstrate a powerful vision of the resources of the human imagination. Frye's critical theory sought the continuities linking human creation in all spheres of life, trusting in the idea of a single human community sharing myths, stories, and images that express shared visions and desires. The essays in Educating the Imagination illustrate the extraordinary range of Frye's ideas. Robert Bringhurst examines how Frye mapped the mind; Ian Balfour considers what belief meant for Frye; and Gordon Teskey re-examines two of the critic's great subjects, Blake and Milton. Michael Dolzani and Thomas Willard discuss Frye's symbolism, and Robert Tally looks at his utopianism. A strong thread running through all the essays is Frye's interest in the Romantic era, as Mark Iltis shows. Three essays pair Frye with other titans of the time: Fredric Jameson, Paul de Man, and Jacques Derrida. Troni Y Grande examines a gender issue in Frye's theory of tragedy, and J. Edward Chamberlin concludes by relating Frye's writings to songs, ceremonies of belief, and the common ground that they represent across cultures. Engaging with significant matters of contemporary concern, Educating the Imagination provides a renewed understanding of Northrop Frye and the fertility of his ideas about the imagination and society. Contributors include Ian Balfour, York; Robert Bringhurst, Adam Carter, Lethbridge; J. Edward Chamberlin, Toronto; Alexander Dick, British Columbia; Michael Dolzani, Baldwin Wallace; Troni Y Grande, Regina; Mark Iltis, Zurich; Garry Sherbert, Regina; Robert T. Tally Jr., Texas State; Gordon Teskey, Harvard; and Thomas Willard, Arizona.

Divided Highways Heather Macfarlane, 2019-06-25

The road trip genre, well established in the literatures of Canada, is a natural outcome of the nation's obsession with geography. Divided Highways examines road narratives by Anglo-Canadian, Québécois, and Indigenous authors and the sense of place and nationhood in these communities. Geography describes the land and history; peoples, it just as memories connect us to place. This is why road trips are such a feature of writing in Canada, allowing the travellers to claim at least symbolically the terrain they have traversed Macfarlane examines works by a variety of writers from each of these communities including Gilles Archambault Jeannette Armstrong Jill Frayne Tomson Highway Claude Jasmin Robert Kroetsch Jacques Poulin Aritha van Herk and Paul Villeneuve to name but a few Studying a diversity of road narratives from Anglo Canadian Québécois and Indigenous populations not only demonstrates the existence of a very specific road genre but is also revelatory of very diverse and often conflicting perceptions of nationhood It is these expressions of sovereignty that are integral to ongoing discussions of reconciliation and decolonization This book is published in English Cet ouvrage étudie l'existence et la tradition du roman de la route au Canada La géographie critique le territoire et l'histoire lui insufflent vie tout comme les souvenirs sont des points d'attache un lieu donné Voilà pourquoi les road trips ont une place privilégiée dans la critique d'expression anglaise française et autochtone du Canada ils permettent aux voyageurs de revendiquer du moins symboliquement le terrain qu'ils ont couvert C'est l'intersection de l'histoire et de la géographie qui confère toute sa signification un voyage qui alimente cet esprit des lieux ou qui permet d'en constater l'absence Les voyages sont révélateurs des intérêts propres aux trois groupes examinés dans le cadre de cette étude Le désir et parfois la nécessité d'entreprendre un voyage les compagnons de voyage ainsi que les destinations de même que l'histoire qui s'écrit au fil des distances parcourues sont autant d'indicateurs de cette notion de l'espace et du concept de nation au sein du pays Pour illustrer ce phénomène ce livre examine des œuvres littéraires d'une gamme decrivains anglophones québécois et autochtones dont Gilles Archambault Jeannette Armstrong Jill Frayne Tomson Highway Linda Hogan Scott Gardiner Claude Jasmin Robert Kroetsch Lee Maracle Jacques Poulin Aritha van Herk et Paul Villeneuve L'approche comparative aux littératures du Canada est le prolongement logique aux études postcoloniales dans la mesure où elle révèle les complexités de même que les spécificités de diverses communautés contribuant ainsi une meilleure compréhension de collectivités nationales Elle propose en outre des histoires qui font le contrepoids aux études transnationales Ce livre est publié en anglais

Horse Breeds and Breeding in the Greco-Persian World

Thomas Donaghy, 2014-06-30 Although there are many publications which discuss the history of the ancient horse few focus their attention on the origin and development of the various breeds Most publications examine the horse's contribution to human history through its role as transport facilitator and military machine and concentrate mainly on subjects such as the origin and development of chariot and cavalry equipment and changes in military tactics over time This book examines what happened when humans took the horse from the wild and domesticated it for their own use This focus was taken as it was felt that the understanding of the huge role which the horse played in human history can only be improved by gaining an understanding of the equally huge role which humans played when they took horses from the wild and through many hundreds of years of daily interaction cross breeding and training facilitated the development and spread of many breeds across the ancient world This book takes as its chronological focus the Greco Persian world of the second and first millennia BC This time period was selected for examination as it was during these two millennia that the vital role which the horse was to play in human history became fully apparent The second millennium BC saw the development of the vast chariot forces which were to form an important part of the armed forces of numerous lands from Mycenaean Greece in the West to India and China in the far East while the following millennium saw the gradual replacement of chariots with cavalry forces which continued to play a vital role in military warfare right up until the beginnings of the twentieth century AD Part One traces the history of the horse from its evolution to the development and spread of chariot and cavalry forces Parts Two and Three examine the famous horse breeding regions of the ancient world and through an analysis of archaeological iconographical and literary evidence attempts to determine why these regions were famed for horse breeding and what were the physical characteristics and given attributes of the various breeds
