Living With The Forest People:

The Forest People Colin Turnbull, 2012-12-04 The bestselling classic text on one anthropologist's incredible experience living among the African Mbuti Pygmies and what he learned from their culture, customs, and love of life. In this bestselling book, Colin Turnbull, a British cultural anthropologist, details the incredible Mbuti pygmy people and their love of the forest and each other. Turnbull lived among the Mbuti people for three years as an observer, not a researcher, so he offers a charming and intimate firsthand account of the people and their culture, and especially the individuals and their personalities. The Forest People is a timeless work of academic and humanitarian significance, sure to delight readers as they take a trip into a foreign culture and learn to appreciate the joys of life through the eyes of the Mbuti people.

Colin M. Turnbull, 1962 This book tries to convey something of the lives and feelings of a people who live in a forest world in the eastern province of the Congo, something of their intense love for that world and their trust in it. The Forest People

without a Forest Glory M. Lueong, 2016-12-01 Development interventions often generate contradictions around questions of who benefits from development and which communities are targeted for intervention. This book examines how the Baka, who live in Eastern Cameroon, assert forms of belonging in order to participate in development interventions and how community life is shaped and reshaped through these interventions. Often referred to as forest people, the Baka have witnessed many recent development interventions that include competing and contradictory policies such as civilize, assimilate, and integrate the Baka into full citizenship, conserve the forest and wildlife resources, and preserve indigenous cultures at the verge of extinction.

Living in a Rain Forest Carol Baldwin, 2004 Explains how rain forests form and describes the rich ecosystems that survive on them, including how rain forest plants, animals, and people interact. Domesticating Forests: How Farmers Manage Forest Resources Geneviève Michon, 2005-01-01

In Australia and across the continents of Africa and South America, people have adapted over time and created their own strategies for survival. This book helps readers to understand the landscape of rain forests and the daily lives of those who live in this amazing environment.
