Prepared for the Twentieth-Century? The Life of Emily Bonnycastle Mayne (Aimée) 1872-1958 Michael Armstrong Crouch,2015-11-25 Aimee Mayne was born into a life of apparent privilege and opportunity However as a woman born in 1872 and living through the first half of the twentieth century these opportunities were severely limited by law culture and tradition This story is of a woman of the British upper middle class whose life was full of colour of living in India of family relationships of travel of the Blitz She kept diaries and wrote an intimate memoir This book explores her emotional conflicts with a revealing analysis that includes revelations about a woman brought up in the late Victorian period encompassing her sex life and the turmoil of an unhappy marriage It is a study of a life that identifies how an upper middle class upbringing that included an attempted tertiary education at a time when this was unheard of for most women induced her into a marriage and life style that was the antithesis of her early aspirations Her life was to engender a sense of grievance that embittered relations with her family While she took advantage of her travels to undertake a successful lecturing career personal fulfilment was only to be found at the end of her life during the London Blitz in World War Two Emily's

Vengeance Stephen Van Scoyoc, 2001-02 Emily was a happy bubbly little girl until events took a tragic turn one summer night in Galveston Texas Suddenly her mother and sister are dead and Emily is left dying in the swamp while the murderer calmly drives away Emily's life is spared when she is found and rushed to hospital with critical head injuries The killer is tracked down tried and convicted In the months to come Emily appears to recover fully but there remains a deeper unhealed injury Emily and her father settle back into a comfortable life before fate strikes another sudden blow and Emily is left alone Sorting through the personal effects of her father she discovers his darker side She learns from a diary that he had plotted a bitter revenge against the murderer and his family Emily makes a solemn vow and retrieves the gauntlet her father dropped As a series of unfortunate deaths begin to occur in the convicted man's family who could have suspected that they were being committed by such a young charming and educated woman Even if they suspected they would never catch her but things are not at all what they seem

Transgressing Boundaries. Elizabeth F. Oldfield, 2013 Fictions written between 1939 and 2005 by indigenous and white post colonial women writers emerging from an African European cultural experience form the focus of this study Their voyages into the European diasporic space in Africa are important for conveying how African women's literature is situated in relation to colonialism Notwithstanding the centrality of African literature in the new postcolonial literatures in English the accomplishments of the indigenous writer Grace Ogot have been eclipsed by the critical attention given to her male counterparts while Elspeth Huxley Barbara Kimenye and Marjorie Oludhe Macgoye who are of Western cultural provenance but adopt an African perspective are not accommodated by the genre of expatriate literature The present study of both indigenous and white post colonial women's narratives that are common to both categories fills this gap Focused on the representation of gender identity culture and the Other the texts selected are set in Kenya and Uganda and a main concern is with the extent to which they are influenced by setting and intercultural influences The African woman's creation of textuality is at once the expression of female individualities and a transgression of boundaries The particular category of fiction for children as written by Kimenye and Macgoye reveals the configuration of a voice and identity for the female Other and writer which enables a subversive renegotiation of identity in the face of patriarchal traditions
