First Update To The 2014 Registration Document:

Individual electoral registration Great Britain: Cabinet Office, 2011-06-30 This White Paper and draft legislation sets out the next stage in the Coalition Programme for Government on improving the political system Within the Coalition Programme was the ambition to reduce electoral fraud by speeding up implementation of Individual Electoral Registration and this Paper sets out detailed proposals to achieve that objective At present the electoral register is compiled by household and relies on trusting that those who register to vote are eligible Individual Electoral Registration requires each elector to register to vote individually and for each elector to provide personal identifiers for verification The White Paper sets out a plan to accelerate and implement Individual Electoral Registration in line with the Coalition Agreement by 2014 and before the next UK Parliamentary general election The Government will also drop the previous Government's plans for a voluntary phase but instead have a transition period which means electors who do not register by 2014 will not lose their entitlement to vote in the 2015 General Election New electors postal and proxy voters will though need to register under the new system to be able to vote Alongside this legislation a number of Data Pilot Schemes will be launched that will compare the local electoral registers against those of public databases for accuracy and identify unregistered electors eligible to vote The legislation will also look at modernising the electoral registration in general including allowing Electoral Registration Officers to offer more choice in registering including online giving people greater control over verification of their eligibility and once Parliament is satisfied end the annual canvass of households as the primary means of maintaining the completeness and accuracy of the register

India-Bangladesh Border Disputes Amit Ranjan, 2018-10-30 This book discusses history of mental construction of the border between India and Bangladesh It investigates how and when a border was constructed between the people and discusses how the mental construction preceded the physical construction It also examines the perils faced by those forced to leave their homes as a result of the partition of India in 1947 Globally throughout history the absence of borders made the movement of people from one place to another easier The construction of borders and sovereign delimitation of territory restricted or even prevented seamless migration The situation becomes more complex near borders that were previously open to the movement of people One such border is between India and Bangladesh where in August 1947 suddenly people were told that the places they used to visit on a daily basis were now a part of a different sovereign country This book argues that borders construct the identity of an individual or a group Those who cross to the other side of border for whatever reason are identified and categorized by the state and the people Sometimes these migrants face violence from the locals because they are considered a threat to the local working class The book also explains how after the liberation of Bangladesh in 1971 everyday encounter between people from India and Bangladesh have further embedded a feeling of us versus them In 2015 India and Bangladesh agreed to implement the India Bangladesh Land Boundary Agreement LBA This book assesses whether the implementation of this agreement will have impacts on border
