Phillips,1991 Gerald M Phillips draws on his twenty five year five thousand client experience with the Pennsylvania State University Reticence Program to present a new theory of modification of inept communication behavior That experience has convinced Phillips that communication is arbitrary and rulebound rather than a process of inspiration He demonstrates that communication problems can be described as errors that can be detected and classified in order to fit a remediation pattern Regardless of the source of error the remedy is to train the individual to avoid or eliminate errors thus orderly procedure will result in competent performance Inept communicators must be made aware of the obligations and constraints imposed by deep structures that require us to achieve a degree of formal order in our language without which our discourse becomes incomprehensible Speaking With Confidence and Skill Lynne Kelly,Arden K. Watson,1989-04-11 Convinced that public speaking fears outranked all other fears the authors combined their years of teaching novice speakers to set forth their techniques for reducing apprehension and sharpening communication performance skills The three basic techniques stressed are cognitive structuring or attitude change relaxation techniques and skills training All of the topics addressed herein are intended for students in basic speech communication classes Some of the topics are the process of communication assessing yourself as a communicator improving attitudes and reducing apprehension preparing and delivering a public speech improving skills in group discussions as well as in all types of social relationships First published by Harper and Row in 1986 Catalog of Copyright Entries.
