Learning From Practice:

Action Learning in Practice Mike Pedler, 2016-03-23 Previous editions of Action Learning in Practice established this authoritative overview of action learning around the world Over the last decade the move towards action based organizational learning and development has accelerated and action learning is now an established part of the education and development mainstream in large and small organizations Fully revised and updated this fourth edition covers the origins of action learning with Reg Revans ideas and looks at their development and application today Action learning is self directed learning through tackling business and work problems with the support of peers and colleagues A professional and diverse workforce attracted influenced and developed in this way is more able to deal effectively with the growing complexity and pressures of working life As the limits of conventional training and development become more obvious leaders are increasingly attracted to action based approaches to learning when seeking better outcomes and returns on investment

Learning, Practice and Assessment Mark Doel, Catherine Sawdon, Diane Morrison, 2002 Reflecting concerns in health and social care to bring theory and practice closer together this guide aims to help integrate assessment learning and practice The authors demonstrate how their assessment and learning tool can work in practice Trends and Issues in Action Learning Practice Yonjoo Cho, Hyeon-Cheol Bong, 2013-01-04 Dynamic workplaces demand continuous employee learning and development to keep up with current and effective organizational contexts Action learning is among the most widely used and effective interventions for leadership and organizational development around the world This timely book provides readers with the first comprehensive account of the history and evolution of action learning in South Korea informing practitioners and researchers on the best practices of action learning and how they can be modified to fit different cultural contexts Unlike most literature on action learning which focuses on implementation strategies in Western contexts Trends and Issues in Action Learning Practice details a uniquely Korean perspective South Korean companies engage actively in action learning programs as a tool for leadership and organization development helping them adapt to global markets and a rapidly changing management environment Key success factors from twenty years of South Korean action learning presented through representative case studies and research conducted by both academics and professionals highlight the importance of culture in action learning and provides readers with insights and advice for future international research and practice Practice, Learning and Change Paul Hager, Alison Lee, Ann Reich, 2012-06-25 The three concepts central to this volume practice learning and change have received very different treatments in the educational literature an oversight directly confronted here While learning and change have been extensively theorised their various contexts articulated and analysed practice is notably underrepresented Where much of the literature on learning and change takes the notion of practice as an unexamined given its co location as a term with various classifiers as in legal practice and teaching practice render it curiously devoid of semantic force In this book practice is the super ordinate organising idea Drawing on what has been termed the practice turn in contemporary theory the work develops a conceptual framework for researching learning in and on practice It challenges received notions of practice questioning the assumptions elisions conflations and silences on the subject In so doing it offers fresh insights into learning and change and how they relate to practice In tandem with this conceptual work the book details site ontological studies of practice and learning in diverse professional and workplace contexts examining the work of occupations as various as doctors chefs and orchestral musicians It demonstrates the value of theorising practice learning and change as well as exploring the connections between them amid our evolving social and institutional structures Social work learning practice The Open University, This 4 hour free course explored the importance of the backgrounds and experiences of service users and social workers in the field of social work
