The Transnational Politics of Higher Education Meng-Hsuan Chou, Isaac Kamola, Tamson

Pietsch, 2016-02-26 This edited volume introduces readers to the relationship between higher education and transnational politics. It shows how higher education is a significant arena for regional and international transformation as well as domestic political struggle replete with unequal power relations. This volume shows the causes and impacts of recent transformations in higher education within a transnational context. Emerging similarities in objectives, institutional set-ups and approaches taking place within higher education institutions across different world regions. The asymmetrical relations between various kinds of institutional, commercial and state actors across borders. The extent to which historical and colonial legacies are important in the transformation of higher education. The potential effects these developments have on the current structure of international political order. Drawing on case studies from across the Middle East, Asia, Africa, Latin America and Europe, the contributors develop diverse perspectives explaining the impact of transnational politics on higher education and higher education on transitional politics across time and locality. This book is among the first multi-disciplinary effort to wrestle with the question of how we can understand the political role of higher education and the political force universities exert in the realm of international relations.

Beyond Tenderpreneurship MISTRA, 2020-04-16 Black Economic Empowerment (BEE) policies have been a central pillar of attempts to overcome the economic legacy of apartheid. Yet more than two decades into democracy, economic exclusion in South Africa still largely reflects the fault lines of the apartheid era. Current discourse often conflates BEE with the so-called tenderpreneurship referred to in the title, namely the reliance of some emergent black capitalists on state patronage. Authors go beyond this notion to understand BEE's role from a unique perspective. They trace the history of black entrepreneurship and how deliberate policies under colonialism and its apartheid variant sought to suppress this impulse. In the context of modern South Africa, authors interrogate the complex dynamics of class formation, economic empowerment and redress against the backdrop of broader macroeconomic policies. They examine questions relating to whether BEE policies are informed by strategies to change the structure of the economy. These issues are explored against the backdrop of the experiences of other developing countries and their journeys of industrialisation. The relevant black empowerment experiences of countries such as the United States are also discussed. The authors identify policy and programmatic interventions to forge the non-racial future that the constitution enjoins South
