

HOW TO WRITE A RESEARCH PAPER

What is a Research Paper?

A research paper is a piece of academic writing, consisting of analysis, interpretation, and argument-based research. In comparison to essays, research papers are far more detailed. They don't only focus on your writing skills, but your research skills as well, hence the name 'research paper'. When writing a research paper, you don't just share your opinion on the matter, but also include a lot of factual information including any relevant sources.

4 STEPS FOR WRITING A RESEARCH PAPER

Step 1 - Choose and/or Understand Your Topic

Before starting to write your research paper, it's important that you understand what it is exactly that you are writing about. If you were given the great opportunity of being able to pick your own topic to write about, it may be a good idea to choose something that you know you are comfortable to talk about for a long period of time, something that you may even consider yourself to be passionate about.

Step 2 - Conduct Research

Now that you are comfortable with your topic, it's time to do the research. If you're struggling with what exactly you need to research, just think of these five key questions and try to use as many as you can in your research paper: what? why? when? where? and, how? Write down as much information as you can but make sure that your notes are clear and well organised, as this will make putting everything together in the end a lot easier.

Try to find any information on the topic that most people tend to ignore, this may add uniqueness to your paper which is excellent as you want to stand out. Are there any strong debates revolving around your topic, what are they? And why are they so strong? Feel free to share your own personal opinion to the topic, if you have a unique opinion that's even better. Have there been any recent changes to your topic?

Step 3 - Create a draft or as Many as You Need

As many of us have learnt in life, practise makes perfect. After gathering up as much information surrounding your topic as possible, attempt a first draft. Create what your research paper will roughly look like when it's completed. Don't be too concerned about it making sense 100% or looking perfect and having correct spellings and grammar, this is just a draft. You will have the opportunity to develop it later on.

Make sure your draft includes everything you want to include on your research paper, you're able to use or create a research paper outline to help you with this before you start. Make sure everything is in correct order and clear, if you're not too sure don't focus on the introduction for now. Finally, make sure your paragraphs are correctly written. Each paragraph should focus on one idea at a time, in order to be clear and organised for the reader.

Step 4 - Create Your Final Product

Once you're happy with your previous draft, it's finally time to write the actual thing.

Remember to start with a good introduction, here is where you should try to answer the 'what? why? and how?' questions, in order to properly introduce your topic to the reader. Follow up with a well detailed body and text, make sure your paragraphs are organised and you're being clear on the subject. Using an outline for this part, will be extremely helpful if you're stuck. Finally, end with a conclusion. You don't want to end your paper with any questions unanswered or with new information you won't be able to discuss, you want to give the reader a sense of finality.

RESEARCH PAPER EXAMPLE

Introduction

{What is COVID19? What place is most affected and which one is the least affected, according to cases? What do the statistics show?}

Paragraph 1: The dangers of COVID19

{What are the symptoms and time-frame of the virus? Is there a risk of death, according to statistics? How does COVID19 spread?}

Paragraph 2: How to prevent COVID19 and why are there doubts?

{How are the procedures put in place helping to prevent COVID19? How does this change throughout the globe? Why do people believe this virus isn't a real thing and what are the debates surrounding this subject?}

Paragraph 3: How are the protests affecting the cases?

{Where have there been protests and what effect did it have on that specific region?}

Paragraph 4: COVID19 and other diseases

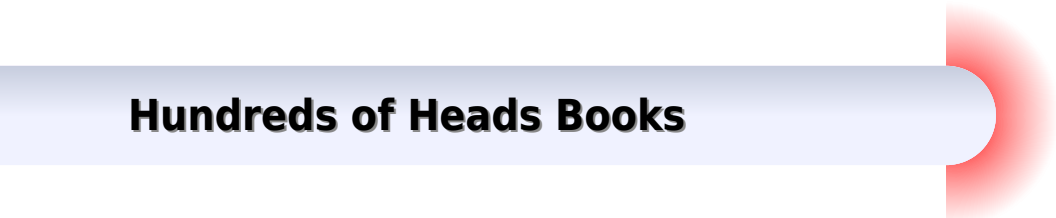

{How are the dangers of COVID19 linked to other diseases? How can COVID19 lead to other diseases and what are they? What do the statistics of those with other diseases who passed away after contracting COVID19 show?}

Conclusion

{Summarise all the different arguments about COVID19, as well as all the figures you have presented in your research paper. Conclude a statement based on the information you have gathered and share which side you believe is right.}

How to Write and Publish a Scientific Research Paper Sophie Domingues-Montanari, 2011 How to Write Anything Laura Brown, 2020-11-03 There has never been a guide as comprehensive as this to writing in all its forms. Useful, clear, and encyclopedic, this book is an essential guide for every household. Examiner: Need to know how to format your résumé for that job application. How do you write a cover letter that will stand out? Wondering how to request a letter of recommendation for graduate school? Trying to craft a get-well note that will really help? How informal is too informal when instant messaging in the office? What do you write on the website for your small business? What should you say in a wedding invitation? Or a divorce announcement? With over 200 how-to entries and easy-to-use models organized into three comprehensive sections on work, school, and personal life, How to Write Anything covers a wide range of topics that make it an essential guide for the whole family. How to Write and Publish a Scientific Paper Barbara Gastel, Robert A. Day, 2022-06-30 Thoroughly updated throughout, this classic practical text on how to write and publish a scientific paper takes its own advice to be as clear and simple as possible. The purpose of scientific writing, according to Barbara Gastel and Robert A. Day, is to communicate new scientific findings. Science is simply too important to be communicated in anything other than words of certain meaning. This clear, beautifully written, and often funny text is a must-have for anyone who needs to communicate scientific information, whether they're writing for a professor, other scientists, or the general public. The thoughtfully revised 9th edition retains the most important material, including preparing text and graphics, publishing papers, and other types of writing, and plenty of information on writing style, while adding up-to-date advice on copyright, presenting online, identifying authors, creating visual abstracts, and writing in English as a non-native language. A set of valuable appendixes provide ready reference, including words and expressions to avoid, SI prefixes, a list of helpful websites, and a glossary. Students and working scientists will want to keep How to Write and Publish a Scientific Paper at their desks and refer to it at every stage of writing and publication.

How We Write Suzanne Conklin Akbari, 2015 This little book arose spontaneously in the late spring of 2015 when a series of conversations emerged first in a university roundtable on graduate student dissertation writing and then in a rapidly proliferating series of blog posts on the topic of how we write One commentary generated another each one characterized by enormous speed eloquence and emotional forthrightness This collection is not about how TO write but how WE write unlike a prescriptive manual that promises to unlock the secret to efficient productivity the contributors talk about their own writing processes in all their messy frustrated exuberant and awkward dis order The contributors range from graduate students and recent PhDs to senior scholars working in the fields of medieval studies art history English literature poetics early modern studies musicology and geography All are engaged in academic writing but some of the contributors also publish in other genres includes poetry and fiction Several contributors maintain a very active online presence including blogs and websites all are committed to strengthening the bonds of community both in person and online which helps to explain the effervescent sense of collegiality that pervades the volume creating linkages across essays and extending outward into the wide world of writers and readers Contributors include Michael Collins Suzanne Conklin Akbari Alexandra Gillespie Alice Hutton Sharp Asa Simon Mittman Jeffrey Jerome Cohen Maura Nolan Richard H Godden Bruce Holsinger Stuart Elden Derek Gregory Steve Mentz and Dan Kline How to Write about the Media Today Raúl Damacio Tovares,Alla V.
