Guide to Publishing in Psychology Journals Robert J. Sternberg, 2019 This book is an indispensable guide to how to write articles, choose journals and deal with revisions or rejection. Each chapter is written by a highly experienced journal editor, people who have actually made decisions on manuscripts and publication as well as being eminent in their respective scientific field and written many articles themselves. It showcases parts of articles, discusses journal submission, outlines the resubmission process and highlights systemic issues. Clear instructions are given on writing an empirical article, literature reviews, titles and abstracts, introductions, theories, hypotheses, methods and data analysis. Each part of the process is laid out from presenting results to mapping out a discussion and writing for referees. The integral skills of revising papers and ensuring a high impact are taught in article writing 101. Whilst less intuitive knowledge is provided concerning publishing strategies, references, online submission, review systems, open access and ethical considerations.

Conducting Research Lawrence T. Orcher, 2016-10-14 Prepares students to conduct their first empirical research study with quantitative and qualitative methods covered in detail. Common features as well as differences between the two research approaches are explored. While theoretical material is included, the emphasis is on providing practical, easy-to-follow advice on how to conduct a first research project. Unlike most texts with hypothetical examples, this text with real examples written by a variety of published researchers makes research methods come alive. Students see how research methods are used to explore important contemporary problems. Factual Questions at the end of each chapter help students review key concepts covered in the chapters. Questions for Discussion encourage students to consider specific techniques and strategies that they might use while conducting their research.
