Human Rights Watch World Report 1995:

Human Rights Watch World Report 1999 Human Rights Watch Staff,1998-10-12 Genocide Alexander Laban Hinton, Kevin Lewis O'Neill,2009-04-07 Leading anthropologists consider issues of truth memory and representation in the aftermath of genocides in the Balkans Guatemala Indonesia East Timor Germany Nigeria Rwanda and Sudan Protection Against Genocide Neal Riemer,2000-03-30 Without succumbing to utopian fantasies or realistic pessimism Riemer and his contributors call for strengthening the key institutions of a global human rights regime developing an effective policy of prudent prevention of genocide working out a sagacious strategy of keenly targeted sanctions political economic military judicial and adopting a guiding philosophy of just humanitarian intervention They underscore significant changes in the international system the end of the Cold War economic globalization the communications revolution that hold open the opportunity for significant if modest movement toward strengthening key institutions The essays explore key problems in working toward prevention of genocide They highlight the existence of considerable early warning of genocide and emphasize that the real problem is a lack of political will in key global institutions Sanctions especially economic sanctions may punish a genocidal regime but at the expense of innocent civilians Thus more clearly targeted sanctions are seen as essential The argument on behalf of a standing police force to deal with the crime of genocide as they show is powerful and controversial powerful because the need is persuasive controversial because political realists question its cost and political feasibility Implementing a philosophy of just humanitarian intervention requires an appreciation of the difficulties of interpreting those principles in difficult concrete situations A permanent international criminal tribunal to deter and punish genocide they argue will put into place a much needed component of a global human rights regime A thoughtful analysis for scholars and students of international politics and law and human rights in general Memory and Justice in Post-Genocide Rwanda Timothy Longman,2017-07-13 Following times of great conflict and tragedy many countries implement programs and policies of transitional justice none more extensive than in post genocide Rwanda Placing Rwanda s transitional justice initiatives in their historical and political context this book examines the project undertaken by the post genocide government to shape the collective memory of the Rwandan population both through political and judicial reforms but also in public commemorations and memorials Drawing on over two decades of field research in Rwanda Longman uses surveys and comparative local case studies to explore Rwanda s response both at a governmental and local level He argues that despite good intentions and important innovations Rwanda s authoritarian political context has hindered the ability of transnational justice to bring the radical social and political transformations that its advocates hoped Moreover it continues to heighten the political and economic inequalities that underline ethnic divisions and are an important ongoing barrier to reconciliation

Developing Democracy Larry Diamond,1999-05-07 The book concludes with a hopeful view of the prospects for a fourth wave of global democratization Child Soldiers in the Age of Fractured States Scott Gates, Simon Reich,2010-01-31

Current global estimates of children engaged in warfare range from 200 000 to 300 000 Children's roles in conflict range from armed and active participants to spies cooks messengers and sex slaves Child Soldiers in the Age of Fractured States examines the factors that contribute to the use of children in war the effects of war upon children and the perpetual cycle of warfare that engulfs many of the world's poorest nations The contributors seek to eliminate myths of historic or culture based violence and instead look to common traits of chronic poverty and vulnerable populations Individual essays examine topics such as the legal and ethical aspects of child soldiering internal UN debates over enforcement of child protection policies economic factors increased access to small arms displaced populations resource endowments forced government conscription rebel enforced quota systems motivational techniques employed in recruiting children and the role of girls in conflict The contributors also offer viable policies to reduce the recruitment of child soldiers such as the protection of refugee camps by outside forces naming and shaming and criminal prosecution by international tribunals Finally they focus on ways to reintegrate former child soldiers into civil society in the aftermath of war Encyclopedia of Human Rights Edward H. Lawson,1996 Preface to the first edition International Law of Human Rights MichaelK. Addo,2017-07-05 International law is a social construct crafted by human endeavour to achieve or at least contribute to the achievement of goals perceived to be valuable or necessary to effective social relations In effect international law is no more than a facilitative process and so cannot have answers and conclusions of its own other than what lies within the ambitions of those who define the limits of the process The essays collected together here reveal how international law facilitates the achievement of the long standing ambition of turning human rights ideals and rhetoric into reality Global Energy Security and American Hegemony Doug Stokes,Sam Raphael,2010-06-07 An analysis of the United States and energy security that examines the close relationship between US military supremacy in oil rich regions and America's maintenance of global power It is suitable for scholars of US foreign policy and international relations as well as policy makers grappling with the importance of energy security Global Perspectives on US Foreign Policy S.
