The Emperor's New Nudity Yuval Kremitzer, 2024-12-10 An analysis of contemporary authoritarianism and the medium in which it flourishes the internet as well as what lies at the complex intersection of authority and technology In recent decades a new style of authoritarian politics has taken hold throughout the liberal democratic world The new authority figures are characterized by obscene transgressive behavior reminiscent of the crowd leader as theorized by Freud only far less transient In The Emperor's New Nudity Yuval Kremitzer considers the fraught intersection of authority and technology the internet being the medium that has allowed contemporary authoritarianism to thrive asking foundational questions such as How can we think of the network as a social phenomenon What can social and political phenomena teach us about the nature of the new technology And how does technology reshape the very fabric of social and political life Technology Kremitzer writes leads us toward an impersonal and hyperrational world to such an extent that it renders human subjectivity outmoded Authority on the other hand anchors our subjective identifications to certain figures and seems to be hopelessly primitive and irrational What is required then is a dialectics of the primal a study of the way in which what strikes us as essential enters into the dynamics of historical change From this perspective authority and technology can be said to be divided by a common object the unwritten law and the special knowledge that pertains to it a knowledge without knowers

Twenty Years After Communism Michael Bernhard, Jan Kubik, 2014-07-02 While the fall of the Berlin Wall is positively commemorated in the West the intervening years have shown that the former Soviet Bloc has a more complicated view of its legacy In post communist Eastern Europe the way people remember state socialism is closely intertwined with the manner in which they envision historical justice Twenty Years After Communism is concerned with the explosion of a politics of memory triggered by the fall of state socialism in Eastern Europe and it takes a comparative look at the ways that communism and its demise have been commemorated or not commemorated by major political actors across the region The book is built on three premises The first is that political actors always strive to come to terms with the history of their communities in order to generate a sense of order in their personal and collective lives Second new leaders sometimes find it advantageous to mete out justice on the politicians of abolished regimes and whether and how they do so depends heavily on their interpretation and assessment of the collective past Finally remembering the past particularly collectively is always a political process thus the politics of memory and commemoration needs to be studied as an integral part of the establishment of new collective identities and new principles of political legitimacy Each chapter takes a detailed look at the commemorative ceremony of a different country of the former Soviet Bloc Collectively the book looks at patterns of extrication from state socialism patterns of ethnic and class conflict the strategies of communist successor parties and the cultural traditions of a given country that influence the way official collective memory is constructed Twenty Years After Communism develops a new analytical and explanatory framework that helps readers to understand the utility of historical memory as an important and understudied part of democratization Discourse and Affect in Foreign Policy Jakob Eberle, 2019-05-01 Foreign and security policy have long been removed from the political pressures that influence other areas of policymaking This has led to a tendency to separate the analytical levels of the individual and the collective Using Lacanian theory which views the subject as ontologically incomplete and desiring a perfect identity which is realised in fantasies or narrative scenarios this book shows that the making of foreign policy is a much more complex process Emotions and affect play an important role even where hard security issues such as the use of military force are concerned Eberle constructs a new theoretical framework for analysing foreign policy by capturing the interweaving of both discursive and affective aspects in policymaking He uses this framework to explain Germany's often contradictory foreign policy towards the Iraq crisis of 2002-2003 and the emotional even existential public debate that accompanied it This book adds to ongoing theoretical debates in International Political Sociology and Critical Security Studies and will be required reading for all scholars working in these areas Montažstroj's Emancipatory Performance Politics Leo Rafolt, 2022-09-07 This book deals with the broader theoretical and philosophical context of performance art in former Yugoslavia focusing on more than three decades of politically engaged performance activity of the Montažstroj group Their activity is only a starting point for a deeper analysis of some of the key notions of contemporary artivism in a much broader post political and globalized context before during and after Yugoslavia and its Socialist paradigm collapsed The author analyzes and sets notions of agonism engagement terrorism post war trauma political populism social Darwinism participation and publicness and the public sphere into different theoretical matrixes Archives Andrew Prescott, Alison Wiggins, 2024-01-14 Archives have never been more complex expansive or ubiquitous Archives Power Truth and Fiction is an indispensable research and reference book a hugely helpful guide to archives in the twenty first century Material discussed ranges from medieval manuscripts to born digital archival content and art objects to state papers The Dash-The Other Side of Absolute Knowing Rebecca Comay, Frank Ruda, 2018-05-04 An argument that what is usually dismissed as the mystical shell of Hegel's thought the concept of absolute knowledge is actually its most rational kernel This book sets out from a counterintuitive premise the mystical shell of Hegel's system proves to be its most rational kernel Hegel's radicalism is located precisely at the point where his thought seems to regress most Most current readings try to update Hegel's thought by pruning back his grandiose claims to absolute knowing Comay and Ruda invert this deflationary gesture by inflating what seems to be most trivial the absolute is grasped only in the minutiae of its most mundane appearances Reading Hegel without presupposition without eliminating anything in advance or making any decision about what is essential and what is inessential what is living and what is dead they explore his presentation of the absolute to the letter The Dash is organized around a pair of seemingly innocuous details Hegel punctuates strangely He ends the Phenomenology of Spirit with a dash and he begins the Science of Logic with a dash This distinctive punctuation reveals an ambiguity at the heart of absolute knowing The dash combines hesitation and acceleration Its orientation is simultaneously retrospective and prospective It both holds back and propels It severs and connects It demurs and insists It interrupts and prolongs It generates nonsequiturs and produces explanations It leads in all directions continuation deviation meaningless termination This challenges every cliché about the Hegelian dialectic as a machine of uninterrupted teleological progress The dialectical movement is rather structured by intermittency interruption hesitation blockage abruptness and random unpredictable change a rhythm that displays all the vicissitudes of the Freudian drive

Subject Matter Aron Vinegar, 2023-11-28 A theorization of habit that emphasizes its excessive and unsettling qualities rather than its mediating adaptive and stabilizing functions Subject Matter offers a bold counterpoint to prevalent conceptions of habit characterized by bodily fluidity and ease as the stabilizing foundation of an emerging subjectivity or more negatively as a numbing and deadening force Instead of facilitating the coordination of action with goal and self with environment habit appears here as a disruptively recursive operation with extreme ontological implications that are often more quotidian than exceptional Vinegar theorizes habit's more perturbing aspects from repetition compulsion to kenosis to breakdown through an encounter between Hegel's philosophy of habit psychoanalytic dimensions of repetition Tom McCarthy's novel Remainder and Omer Fast's feature length film interpretation of the novel Vinegar starts with the premise that habit is an unhappy mediator a disturbance of the very medium and milieu that is constitutive of the subject Subject Matter pays close attention to those aspects of habit that are usually considered deviations from or potential threats to habit proper and that generate a logic of breakdown automaticity mechanization thingness inertia and fixity By plotting a topology of habit's unbearability through detailed accounts of its manifestation in writing art aesthetics and visibility and through an attentiveness to the unbalanced nonrelations between mediation and immediacy being and having fixity and fluidity vanishing and overflowing abbreviation and excess beginning and ending Vinegar exposes habit's failure to mediate and inhabit In doing so he offers new and counterintuitive insights into how habit generates the unruly grounds it is supposed to settle thus allowing us to ask how we might break down differently disidentification through the objects that take their places They have mastered the art of living absently of making something with nothing Traversing their own morbid obsessions they substitute the nonsensical for sense the ridiculous for the meaningful Kukuljevic analyzes a series of artistic practices that illuminate this subjectivity ranging from Marcel Duchamp's Three Standard Stoppages to Charles Baudelaire's melancholia He considers the paradox of Duchamp's apparatus in the Stoppages and the strange comedy of Marcel Broodthaers's relation to the readymade the comic subject in Jacques Vach and the ridiculous subject in Alfred Jarry the nihilist in Paul Valéry's Monsieur Teste Oswald Wiener's interpretation of the dandy and Charles Baudelaire as a happy melancholic Along the way he also touches on the work of Thomas Bernhard Andy Kaufman Buster Keaton and others Finally he offers an extended analysis of Danny's escape from his demented father in Stanley Kubrick's The Shining Each of these subjects is in Freud's terms sick sick in the specific sense that they assume the absence of meaning and the liquidation of value in the world They concern themselves with art without assuming its value or meaning Utterly debased fundamentally disoriented they take the void as their medium
