Last Man Standing Jack Straw, 2012-09-27 As a small boy in Epping Forest Jack Straw could never have imagined that one day he would become Britain's Lord Chancellor As one of five children of divorced parents he was bright enough to get a scholarship to a direct grant school but spent his holidays as a plumber's mate for his uncles to bring in some much needed extra income Yet he spent 13 years and 11 days in government including long and influential spells as Home Secretary and Foreign Secretary This is the story of how he got there His memoirs offer a unique insight into the complex sometimes self-serving but always fascinating world of British politics and reveals the toll that high office takes but more importantly the enormous satisfaction and extraordinary privilege of serving both your constituents and your country Straw's has been a very public life but he reveals the private face too and offers readers a vivid and authoritative insight into the Blair Brown era and indeed the last forty years of British politics

The Design and Analysis of Algorithms Dexter C. Kozen, 2012-12-06 These are my lecture notes from CS681 Design and Analysis of Algorithms a one semester graduate course I taught at Cornell for three consecutive fall semesters from 88 to 90 The course serves a dual purpose to cover core material in algorithms for graduate students in computer science preparing for their PhD qualifying exams and to introduce theory students to some advanced topics in the design and analysis of algorithms The material is thus a mixture of core and advanced topics At first I meant these notes to supplement and not supplant a textbook but over the three years they gradually took on a life of their own In addition to the notes I depended heavily on the texts A V Aho J E Hopcroft and J D Ullman The Design and Analysis of Computer Algorithms
