Citadels of Pride: Sexual Abuse, Accountability, and Reconciliation Martha C. Nussbaum,2021-05-11 A groundbreaking exploration of sexual violence by one of our most celebrated experts in law and philosophy In this essential philosophical and practical reckoning Martha C Nussbaum renowned for her eloquence and clarity of moral vision shows how sexual abuse and harassment derive from using people as things to one s own benefit like other forms of exploitation they are rooted in the ugly emotion of pride She exposes three Citadels of Pride and the men who hoard power at the apex of each In the judiciary the arts and sports Nussbaum analyzes how pride perpetuates systemic sexual abuse narcissism and toxic masculinity The courage of many has brought about some reforms but justice is still elusive warped sometimes by money power or inertia sometimes by a collective desire for revenge By analyzing the effects of law and public policy on our ever evolving definitions of sexual violence Nussbaum clarifies how gaps in U S law allow this violence to proliferate why criminal laws dealing with sexual assault and Title VII the federal law that is the basis for sexual harassment doctrine need to be complemented by an understanding of the distorted emotions that breed abuse and why anger and vengeance rarely achieve lasting change Citadels of Pride offers a damning indictment of the culture of male power that insulates high profile abusers from accountability Yet Nussbaum offers a hopeful way forward envisioning a future in which as survivors mobilize to tell their stories and institutions pursue fair and nuanced reform we might fully recognize the equal dignity of all people

Doing the Right Thing Marybeth Gasman,2022-06-14 An honest confrontation of systemic racism in faculty hiring and what to do about it While colleges and universities have been lauded for increasing student diversity these same institutions have failed to achieve any comparable diversity among their faculty In 2017 of the nation s full time tenure track and tenured faculty only 3 percent each were Black men Black women

Hispanic men and Hispanic women Only 6 percent were Asian Pacific Islander men 5 percent were Asian Pacific Islander women and 1 percent were American Indian Alaska Native Why are the numbers so abysmal In Doing the Right Thing Marybeth Gasman takes a hard insightful look at the issues surrounding the recruitment and hiring of faculty of color Relying on national data and interviews with provosts deans and department chairs from sixty major universities Gasman documents the institutional forces stymieing faculty diversification and she makes the case for how such deficiencies can and should be rectified Even as institutions publicly champion inclusive excellence and the number of doctoral students of color increases Gasman reveals the entrenched constraints contributing to the faculty status quo Impediments to progress include the alleged trade off between quality and diversity the power of pedigree the rigidity of academic pipelines failures of administrative leadership lack of accountability among administration and faculty and the opacity and arbitrariness of the recruitment and hiring process Gasman contends that leaders must acknowledge institutional failures of inclusion pervasive systemic racism and biases that restrict people of color from pursuing faculty careers Recognizing that individuals from all backgrounds are essential to the creation and teaching of knowledge Doing the Right Thing puts forth a concrete call for colleges and universities to take action and do better

Creating Experiential Learning Opportunities for Language Learners Melanie Bloom,Carolyn Gascoigne,2017-03-08 While much research has been done on experiential learning opportunities in study abroad settings there are fewer publications devoted to experiential learning in the domestic context This volume aims to fill that gap by providing a collection of chapters highlighting research based innovations in experiential learning in domestic settings The book focuses on three experiential learning contexts community engagement experiences professional engagement experiences and other unique experiential contexts such as language camps and houses The collection focuses on the US context but the research projects and curricular innovations described here can serve as models for educators working in other local contexts and will encourage interested practitioners to explore experiential learning opportunities in their local areas It will also provide the reader with a better understanding of this growing field of inquiry and should appeal to graduate students and researchers who are interested in experiential language learning
