Week	Unit and Topic	Item Completed
Operations and Algebraic Thinking Solve real-world problems with whole numbers and whole problems.
1	Represent a multiplicative equation and comparison, e.g., interpret $56 = 8 \times 7$ as a statement that 56 is 8 times as many as 7 and 7 times as many as 8. Represent word problems of multiplicative comparison as multiplicative equations.
2	Model a division word problem involving multiplicative comparison, e.g., for any two given quantities, determine which is a multiple of the other by representing the problem using multiplication comparison from a given situation.
3-4	Identify patterns and patterns generated with whole numbers and finding whole number patterns using the four operations, including patterns in which successive terms are multiplied. Represent these patterns using equations with a whole number for the unknown quantity. Monitor the more addition of a pattern using mental computation and estimation strategies, including rounding.
Number and Operations in Base Ten Develop place value understanding for multi-digit numbers.
5-6	Recognize that in a multi-digit whole number, a digit is one place (ten times) less than what it represents in the place to its right. For example, recognize that 700 is 10 times as many as 70 and 100 times as many as 7.
Number and Operations: Fractions Build understanding of fraction equivalence and ordering.
7	Explain why a fraction is less than, equal to, or greater than another fraction by using visual models. Add attention to how the numerator and denominator affect the size of the fraction. Use number lines for comparison. Use the strategy to compare and generate equivalent fractions.

Faith-Based Education That Constructs HeeKap Lee, 2010-08-09 Constructivism is everywhere It is a hot issue at this time in the field of philosophy education technology and religion However can constructivism be an alternative approach in faith based education While some conclude that Jesus knew learning was an active knowledge creating process and that he always encouraged his disciples to think deeply and go beyond the surface level others would find that constructivism undercuts faith based education because of its claims to relativity For example constructivists claim that meaning is imposed on the world by us rather than existing in the world independently from us Thus they proclaim that truth is relative to particular times places and people Christians hold that truth does exist absolutely So how can there be a way forward for faith based educators who see the good in the constructivist approach In Faith Based Education that Constructs readers will find a unique approach whereby constructivism may appropriately be applied to a faith based education setting Although disagreement can occur between constructivism and faith based education this book concludes that constructivist thought and Christian faith based education are in the end congruent and harmonious in significant ways Those faith based educators who continue to hold cautionary views of radical constructivist assertions against absolute truths need not disregard all other aspects of constructivism
