Grade 7 Pearson History Textbooks:

Comparative Perspectives on School Textbooks Dobrochna Hildebrandt-Wypych, Alexander W. Wiseman, 2021-04-22 This book examines the discourses on nation building civic identity minorities and the formation of religious identities in school textbooks worldwide It offers up to date practical and scholarly information on qualitative and mixed method textbook analysis as well as the broader context of critical comparative textbook and curriculum analyses in and across selected countries The volume offers unique and empirical research on how internal educational policies and ideological goals of dominant social political and economic groups affect textbook production and the curricular aims in different educational systems worldwide Chapters address the role of school textbooks in developing nationhood the creation of citizenship through school textbooks the complexity of gender in normative discourses and the intersection of religion and culture in school textbooks

Globalisation, Nation-Building and History Education Joseph Zajda, John Whitehouse, 2024-03-19 This book uses historiography and discourse analysis to provide a new insight into understanding the nexus between ideologies the state and nation building as depicted in history school textbooks It focuses on the interpretation of social and political change significant events and examining possible new biases and omissions in school textbooks The Europeanization of history textbooks in the EU is an example of western dominated Grand Narrative of pluralist democracy multiculturalism and human rights according to the canon of a particularly European dimension Various public debates in the USA China the Russian Federation RF Japan and elsewhere dealing with understandings of a nation building national identity and history education point out to parallels between the political significance of school history and the history education debates globally The book demonstrates that the issue of national identity and balanced representations of the past continue to dominate the debate surrounding the goals dominant ideologies and content of history textbooks and historical narratives It concludes that competing discourses and ideologies will continue to define and shape the nature and significance of historical knowledge ideologies and the direction of values education in history textbooks This book provides an easily accessible practical yet scholarly insights into local and global trends in the field of history education and should be required reading for a broad spectrum of users including policy makers academics graduate students education policy researchers administrators and practitioners

Teaching and Learning History Online Stephen K. Stein, Maureen MacLeod, 2023-04-17 Teaching and Learning History Online A Guide for College Instructors offers everything a new online history instructor needs in one package including how to structure courses integrate multimedia and manage and grade discussions as well as advice for department chairs on curriculum management student advising and more In today's technological society online courses are quickly becoming the new normal in terms of collegiate instruction

providing the ideal environment to flip the classroom and encourage students to hone critical thinking skills by engaging deeply with historical sources While much of the attention in online teaching focuses on STEM business and education courses online history courses have also proven consistently popular However due to the COVID 19 pandemic new history instructors are rushed into online teaching with little or no training or experience creating a need for a guide to ease the transition from classroom to online course development and teaching A timely text this book aims to provide both new and experienced college history teachers the information they need to develop dynamic online courses The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-13 In an age of unprecedented corporate and political control over life inside of educational institutions this book provides a needed intervention to investigate how the economic and political elite use traditional artifacts in K 16 schools to perpetuate their interests at the expense of minoritized social groups The contributors provide a comprehensive examination of how textbooks the most dominant cultural force in which corporations and political leaders impact the schooling curricula shape students thoughts and behavior perpetuate power in dominant groups and trivialize social groups who are oppressed on the structural axes of race class gender sexuality and disability Several contributors also generate critical insight in how power shapes the production of textbooks and evaluate whether textbooks still perpetuate dominant Western narratives that normalize and privilege patriotism militarism consumerism White supremacy heterosexism rugged individualism technology and a positivistic conception of the world Finally the book highlights several textbooks that challenge readers to rethink their stereotypical views of the Other to reflect upon the constitutive forces causing oppression in schools and in the wider society and to reflect upon how to challenge corporate and political dominance over knowledge production War, Nation, Memory Keith A. Crawford, Stuart J. Foster, 2007-12-01 The Second World War stands as the most devastating and destructive global conflict in human history More than 60 nations representing 1.7 billion people or three quarters of the world's population were consumed by its horror Not surprisingly therefore World War II stands as a landmark episode in history education throughout the world and its prominent place in school history textbooks is almost guaranteed As this book demonstrates however the stories that nations choose to tell their young about World War II do not represent a universally accepted truth about events during the war Rather wartime narratives contained in school textbooks typically are selected to instill in the young a sense of national pride common identity and shared collective memory To understand this process War Nation Memory describes and evaluates school history textbooks from many nations deeply affected by World War II including China France Germany Japan USA and the United Kingdom It critically examines the very different and complex perspectives offered in many nations and analyses the ways in which textbooks commonly serve as instruments of socialisation and in some cases propaganda Above all War Nation Memory demonstrates that far from containing neutral knowledge history textbooks prove fascinating cultural artefacts consciously shaped and legitimated by powerful ideological cultural and sociopolitical forces dominant in the present
