Anti-Racist Teaching Robert P. Amico,2015-12-03 Antiracist Teaching is about awakening students to their own humanity In order to teach about this awakening one must be in the process of awakening oneself The author shares personal anecdotes to illustrate the kinds of changes he experienced as a result of his antiracist teaching His book explores the questions Why is teaching about racism and white privilege to white students so difficult and What can educators do to become more effective antiracist teachers for all of their students Amico examines the cognitive and emotive obstacles that students experience in the classroom and argues that understanding these difficulties can lead to their resolution He considers a variety of different approaches to antiracist teaching and endorses a dialogic approach Dialogue is the centerpiece of students classroom experiences students engage in dialogue at nearly every class meeting The dialogic approach is effective in a variety of different learning settings from K 12 classrooms trainings retreats workshops and community organizations to the college classroom Further the book discusses how to bring antiracist teaching into the core of university curricula      The City Record Cleveland (Ohio),1925      Industrial & Mining Standard ,1913      Resources

 Communicating the History of Medicine critically assesses the idea of audience and communication in medical history This collection offers a range of case studies on academic outreach from historical and current perspectives It questions the kind of linear thinking often found in policy or research assessment instead offering a more nuanced picture of both the promises and pitfalls of engaging audiences for research in the humanities For whom do academic researchers in the humanities write For academics and indirectly at least for students but there are hopes that work reaches broader audiences and that it will have an impact on policy or among professional experts outside of the humanities Today impact is more and more discussed in the context of research assessment Seen from a media theoretical perspective impact may however be described as a case of audiencing and the creation of audiences by means of media technologies      Report of the Federal Security Agency
