SUBJECT:	SESOTHO HOME LANGUAGE P2
-----------------	---------------------------------

1. ANALYSIS OF QUESTION BY QUESTION PERFORMANCE

QUESTION 1

- 1.1 The question was an essay type of question that sought to assess the candidates' knowledge of literary devices as applied to a poem. They were required to identify literary devices in the poem extract and to further state the function of such a device in the poem. It was a choice question from the prescribed list.
- 1.2 It is relevant in that it forms the main thrust of LO 2, LO 3 and LO 4, together with AS's. Performance in this question was by and large not good.
- Firstly, the candidates missed the essay structure and write in the form of points that were mostly not well executed, whilst further omitting to state the function of a particular device. Most of those who attempted the question failed to give examples of relevant lines from the poem.
 - Secondly, some candidates seemed to confuse "phetapheto ya mantswe" and "phetapheto ya moelelo". The same occurred with "phetamota" which can be roughly translated as a refrain – which differs completely from the other two in that it refers to a repetitive use of a certain poetic line which may occur either at the beginning of each stanza or at the end of every stanza. Well, there were instances where some candidates seemed to have been intensively taught/trained in the application of literary devices in general.
 - Thirdly, devices that were the same but occurring in different lines were not grouped together in line with the structuralist view of literary critique.
 - Lastly, some candidates failed to score marks because instead of supplying the devices they gave themes, content and lessons/morals of the poem in their responses.

real language use in context to the psycholinguistic studies which have dominated the field She draws upon evidence from other studies to support her claims concerning language dominance and the child's differentiation between the two languages in relation to the situation interlocutor and the communicative demands of the context She also addresses the question of whether or not the language mixing of infant bilingualism is conceptually different from the codeswitching of older bilinguals thus helping to bridge the gap between these two fields of study

Formulaic Language Roberta Corrigan, Edith A. Power in Colonial Africa Elizabeth Eldredge, 2007-11-20 Even in its heyday European rule of Africa had limits Whether through complacency or denial many colonial officials ignored the signs of African dissent Displays of opposition by Africans too indirect to counter or quash percolated throughout the colonial era and kept alive a spirit of sovereignty that would find full expression only decades later In Power in Colonial Africa Conflict and Discourse in Lesotho 1870-1960 Elizabeth A. Eldredge analyzes a panoply of archival and oral resources visual signs and symbols and public and private actions to show how power may be exercised not only by rulers but also by the ruled The Basotho best known for their consolidation of a kingdom from the 1820s to 1850s through primarily peaceful means and for bringing colonial forces to a standstill in the Gun War of 1880-1881 struggled to maintain sovereignty over their internal affairs during their years under the colonial rule of the Cape Colony now part of South Africa and Britain from 1868 to 1966 Eldredge explores instances of Basotho resistance resilience and resourcefulness in forms of expression both verbal and non verbal Skillfully navigating episodes of conflict the Basotho matched wits with the British in diplomatic brinksmanship negotiation compromise circumvention and persuasion revealing the capacity of a subordinate population to influence the course of events as it selectively absorbs employs and subverts elements of the colonial culture A refreshing readable and lucid account of one in an array of compositions of power during colonialism in southern Africa David Gordon Journal of African History Elegantly written Sean Redding Sub Saharan Africa Eldredge writes clearly and attractively and her studies of the war between Lerotholi and Masupha and of the conflicts over the succession to the paramountcy are essential reading for
