The Story of the Century Karl Eysenbach, 2009-01-21 Mankind is such a stupid beast. After starting World War III, Earth has managed to climb back to where it was. Trillionaires still rule the world. There's a world government, but for no good reason, it has a military intelligence complex that is out of control. A mining project in the Magaden Peninsula threatens an intergalactic communications network that insures the integrity of the entire Milky Way galaxy. A group of aliens was sent to Earth to repair a transponder that is a vital link in the network, but their galactic overlords discover the threat from the mining project. They think that maybe mankind should be eliminated. In Los Angeles, two people fall in love. Clem Reader is the LA News Chief of ABN, and Saroyan Pashogi is the world's most famous and beautiful movie star. For some reason, the mysterious conglomerate Lodestar starts feeding Clem information that the government is suppressing evidence of what it knows about space aliens. And the national security state starts taking action to silence Clem and eliminate everyone who has any knowledge of its secret information. By sheer luck, Clem gets in a position to meet Attu, a space alien assigned to fix the transponder. By what he says to Attu, Clem manages to save the world. The Story of the Century is a story about how two ordinary people can have an influence on the world far beyond what anyone could possibly imagine.

Crafting Short Screenplays That Connect Claudia H. Johnson, 2012-09-10 The only screenwriting book that includes a DVD that contains performances of the short films and screenplays that are featured in the book. The beauty and power of any story lies in its ability to connect to the reader, listener, or observer. Crafting Short Screenplays That Connect is the first screenwriting guide to introduce connection as an essential, although essentially overlooked, aspect of creating stories for the screen and of the screenwriting process itself. Written with clarity and humor, this book teaches the craft of writing short screenplays by guiding the student through carefully focused writing exercises of increasing length and complexity. Eight award-winning student screenplays are included for illustration and inspiration. The text is divided into three parts. Part one focuses on preparing to write by means of exercises designed to help students think more deeply about the screenwriter's purposes, their own unique vision, material, and process, and finally about what screenplays are at their simplest and most profound level: a pattern of human change created from specific moments of change, discoveries, and decisions. Part two teaches students how to craft an effective pattern of human change. It guides them through the writing and re-writing of Five Not So Easy Pieces, five short screenplays of increasing length and complexity, focusing on a specific principle of dramatic technique: The Discovery, The Decision, The Boxing Match, The Improbable Connection, and The Long Short Screenplay. Part Three presents the five screenplays used throughout the book to illustrate the dramatic principles that have been discussed and includes interviews with the screenwriters, a look at where they are now, and what they are doing, and a brief discussion of how each film evolved.

Foucault Now James Faubion,2014-02-27 Michel Foucault is recognized as one of the twentieth century s most influential thinkers however the authors in this volume contend that more use can be made of Foucault than has yet been done and that some of the uses to which Foucault has so far been put run the risk of and occasionally simply amount to misuse This interdisciplinary volume brings together a group of esteemed scholars recognized for their command of and insights into Foucault s oeuvre They demonstrate the many respects in which Foucault s project of an ontology of the present remains vital and continues to yield compelling insights and show that an ontology of the present is restricted to no particular terrain but instead ranges widely and on paths that frequently intersect The essays in this much needed new collection address the key components of Foucault s thought ranging from his approach to power biopolitics and parrhesia to analysis of key texts such as Folie et D raison and Histoire de la sexualit This collection will spark debate amongst students and scholars alike and demonstrates that that every further encounter with Foucault s corpus is more likely than not to demand a revisiting of interpretations already formulated conclusions already drawn uses already devised Contributors include Didier Eribon Eric Fassin John Forrester Ian Hacking Lynne Huffer Colin Koopman James Laidlaw Laurence McFall Mariella Pandolfi Paul Rabinow and Cary Wolfe
