A REVIEW PAPER ON ENTREPRENEURSHIP EDUCATION AND ENTREPRENEURS' SKILLS

Fatima Fouad Almahry, College of Business and Finance, Ahlia UniversityAdel M. Sarea, College of Business and Finance, Ahlia University

ABSTRACT

This paper aims to demonstrate the theoretical relationship between Entrepreneurship Education (EE) and Entrepreneurs' Skills (ES) which include: 1) Technical, 2) Business Management Skills and 3) Personal Entrepreneurial Skills. The theoretical literature review helps to understand the EE and ES. A systematic review method was chosen to explore the entrepreneurship education and entrepreneurs' skills. However, entrepreneur education plays a crucial and important role in providing the necessary skills for an entrepreneur to operate their daily business requirements, and how to face obstacles and challenges that will face them during their entrepreneurial live. This study should be relevant to Higher Education Institutions considering jurisdictions in Entrepreneurship Education (EE) for encouraging Entrepreneurial Skills (ES).

Keywords: Entrepreneurship Education (EE), Technical Skills, Business Skill and Personal Entrepreneurial Skills.

INTRODUCTION

Entrepreneurship is a multi-aspects concept (Bula, 2012). The term of "Entrepreneurship" exists from 1732 years ago when Richard canilton who was the first economist who defines the term to describe any individual who is willing to carry out forms of arbitrage involving the financial risk of a new venture (Minniti and Levesque, 2008). According to Timmons (1989) "entrepreneurship is about creating and building something useful. It is about the ability of taking risks and facing the fear of failure". Drucker (1986) believes that entrepreneurship is not science or art, it is a practice with knowledge base, and it is not about just making money, it is about being creative and innovation. Furthermore, researchers found that entrepreneurship as such is still a field with no clear borders and that it lacks a clear conceptual framework (Bruyat and Julien, 2001; Busenitz et al., 2003; Ireland and Webb, 2007; Shane and Venkataraman, 2000).

The entrepreneurship concept is a major subject of study both for the local, state, as well as centralized levels. In the last decade, it has become more known that entrepreneurship is a key driver behind economic growth (Acs et al., 2009:2008). For that, the governments around the world created ways to encourage entrepreneurship, including entrepreneurs financing, and suitable governance and legal protections for contracts (Armour and Cumming, 2006). According to Fritsch (2013) start-up business additional accelerate structural change, strengthen innovation, and enable more diversity of products and problem solving. This in turn facilitates
