first volume in University Press of Mississippi's Television Conversations Series is devoted to the writer-director and showrunner who has delivered Buffy the Vampire Slayer (The WB 1997-2001), Angel (The WB 1999-2004), Firefly (2002), Dr. Horrible's Sing-Along Blog (Webcast 2008), and Dollhouse (FOX 2009-10). Whether answering a hundred rapid-fire, mostly silly questions from fans on the Internet, fielding serious inquiries about his craft and career from television colleagues, or assessing his disappointments, Whedon seldom fails to provoke laughter and reflection.

Genders and Sexualities in Indonesian Cinema Ben Murtagh, 2013-09-23

Indonesia has a long and rich tradition of homosexual and transgender cultures, and the past 40 years, in particular, has seen an increased visibility of sexual minorities in the country, which has been reflected through film and popular culture. This book examines how representations of gay, lesbian, and transgender individuals and communities have developed in Indonesian cinema during this period. The book first explores Indonesian engagement with waria (male-to-female transgender identities) and the emerging representation of gay and lesbi Indonesians during Suharto's New Order regime (1966-98), before going on to the reimagining of these positions following the fall of the New Order, a period which saw the rebirth of the film industry with a new generation of directors, producers, and actors. Using original interview research and focus groups with gay, lesbi, and waria identified Indonesians, alongside the films themselves and a wealth of archival sources, the book contrasts the ways in which transgendered lives are actually lived with their representations on screen.
