Situating Inquiry Linda K. Thompson, Mark Robin Campbell, 2013-01-01 This volume of Advances in Music Education Research with the idea of research as situated inquiry We intend this metaphor to stand for a general description of the contextualized processes music education researchers use to frame generate augment and refine knowledge The works in this volume illustrate the many ways in which knowledge has been constructed out of multiple approaches to studying an idea or exploring questions All seek to expand our knowledge of music education in some form How we go about engaging in knowledge construction and what we learn from the different processes involved is a function of the activities contexts and cultures in which our work is situated Both knowledge and action is located that is research is placed positioned or embedded Lave Wenger 1990 Each study illustrates these ideas All are informed by different theoretical frameworks use different pathways to explore problems of interest and concern and have something important to say to different constituencies or stakeholders All however are the result of perceived phenomena or human interpretations of a context Situated inquiry is neither a quantitative nor qualitative approach to research nor is it a mixed methods approach Rather situated inquiry is a function of the beliefs and behaviors of the individuals involved in it It is also a function and outcome of the individuals who seek to join a community of practitioners who practice and engage in research Although the authors in this volume identify with or have self selected to employ specific kinds of approaches they exemplify their communities of practices by the very discourses and structures of their reports Active perception however remains central to their inquiry and to the way they frame generate augment and refine knowledge
