

Guided Reading Activity B-2: Electing the President

OBJECTIVES: Use the information on your worksheet to complete the diagrams.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE SYSTEM

In 1788	In 1808	Today
Each state elects electors equal in the number of senators and representatives. The Electoral College voted for presidents in their own states. The electors with the most votes became president and the next state electors voted for the next president. Each state elects electors.	The 12th Amendment requires electors to cast separate ballots for president and vice president. It also requires electors to cast ballots for one person.	Presidents are elected by electors. The president and vice president, both for all states equally, are elected by electors. The Electoral College of electors elects the president and vice president. Each state elects electors.

OBJECTIVES: Use the information on your worksheet to complete the diagrams.

1. According to the information on your worksheet, the Electoral College system is unique to the United States. What is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system?
2. Another Electoral College is the only party's candidate's electoral college system. What is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system?
3. If the House votes for the president, what is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system?
4. The president of the United States is the only other country that has a similar system. What is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system? What is the only other country that has a similar system?
