International Handbook of Literacy and Technology Michael C. McKenna,Linda D. Labbo,Ronald D. Kieffer,David Reinking,2013-01-11 This Handbook provides a comprehensive and international representation of state of the art research theory and practice related to principal areas in which significant developments are occurring in the study of literacy and technology It offers a glimpse of the commonalities faced by literacy educators around the world together with specific challenges raised by unique circumstances Volume I of this Handbook endeavored to lay essential groundwork for the study of literacy and technology it retains an explanatory value that will not weaken over time Volume II differs considerably in conception It assumes for the most part a higher level of expertise on the part of readers and the projects and applications described by the contributors are characterized by greater sophistication The scope of technology use is broader and the challenges that have emerged are in sharper focus A powerful feature of this volume is the addition of commentaries from experts across the field on the potential of technology in key dimensions of literacy The title of Volume II has changed slightly to reflect the inclusion of contributions on a broad geographic basis It is now a truly international Handbook with chapter authors from six countries and five continents The International Handbook of Literacy and Technology Volume II is organized in five sections The Role of Technology in the New Literacies Technology Applications with Specific Populations Literacy Software and the Internet Teacher Education and Professional Development and The Potential of Technology in Key Dimensions of Literacy The effects of technology on literate activity have been both sweeping and subtle marked by an increasing variety of changes that are difficult to evaluate and project Perhaps the only prediction that can be offered with certainty is that the impact of technology is irreversible Specific changes may come and go but literacy and technology seem inextricably linked This Handbook is dedicated to that linkage and to examining the intricacies that define it International Handbook of Literacy and Technology Volume II is an essential reference for researchers professionals and students in reading literacy education literacy and technology educational technology and related areas and will serve well as a text for upper level and graduate courses on these topics

Supporting Inclusive Practice Gianna Knowles,2013-05-24 Written to support teaching and learning staff in developing inclusive practice this book provides knowledge about a range of inclusion issues such as what an inclusive school might look like and practical guidance on supporting the development of such a school

The Learning and Teaching of Reading and Writing Naomi Flynn, Rhona Stainthorpe, 2006-07-11 This book provides a unique description of teacher pupil interaction during the Literacy Hour in good schools It is based on detailed observations in inner city primary schools that were recognised as effective and improving The analysis is informed by contemporary research into the development and teaching of early literacy The book provides practice based examples of how teachers and schools might adapt their delivery for literacy as they move to greater creativity in their teaching of reading and writing The analysis begins within the classrooms of three expert Key Stage 1 teachers and broadens out in to the wider setting of the schools and their senior management teams An important theme running throughout the book is how the three teachers were able to make exceptional provision for their pupils who were largely second language speakers and from socio economically disadvantaged groups The teachers successful practice grew from their understanding of both early literacy development and planning for individual need The information in this book will enable student teachers recently qualified teachers and teachers interested in enhancing their literacy teaching to develop their practice in a similarly successful way
