Feminized by Aliens (Gender Change Science Fiction) Tabatha Dallas, 2018-02-02 Please Select Your Gender

Patricia Gherovici, 2011-01-19 I have the worst birth defect a woman can have I was born with a penis and a pair of testicles Thus we meet Hera who shares her reason for starting psychoanalysis and whose statement embodies the debate over transgenderism rigorously dissected in Please Select Your Gender Is it a mental disorder as some would claim or a matter of sexual identity An orientation or a life choice Despite differing opinions transgenderism has lost much of its stigma over the past decade or so though perhaps none of its shock value Nevertheless the door is open for a reformulation of the hysterical question Am I a man or a woman Utilizing rich clinical vignettes and elements of Lacanian theory Patricia Gherovici demonstrates how the transgender discourse has both reoriented psychoanalytic practice and reframed debates about gender in American society at large She traverses historical theoretical and clinical grounds to explore what has been termed the democratizing of gender for what could be more democratic than the choice of one's own gender now able to be changed on demand Arguing for the depathologization of transgenderism Please Select Your Gender aims to revise current notions of human sexuality in general In doing so it challenges the theory and practice of psychoanalysis with questions typically addressed only indirectly but which are themselves transforming how analysis is done advancing new ideas for the clinic that can be extrapolated to social and intellectual contexts in an effort to engage the broader dialogues of gender and sexuality

Rethinking the South African Crisis Gillian Patricia Hart, 2014 Revisiting long standing debates to shed new light on the transition from apartheid Hart provides an innovative analysis of the ongoing unstable and unresolved crisis in South Africa today and suggests how Antonio Gramsci's concept of passive revolution can do useful analytical and political work in South Africa and beyond Glorious Bodies Colby Gordon, 2024-09-04 A prehistory of transness that recovers early modern theological resources for trans lifeworlds In this striking contribution to trans history Colby Gordon challenges the prevailing assumption that trans life is a byproduct of recent medical innovation by locating a cultural imaginary of transition in the religious writing of the English Renaissance Marking a major intervention in early modern gender studies Glorious Bodies insists that transition happened both socially and surgically hundreds of years before the nineteenth century advent of sexology Pairing literary texts by Shakespeare Webster Donne and Milton with a broad range of primary sources Gordon examines the religious tropes available to early modern subjects for imagining how gender could change From George Herbert's invaginated Jesus and Milton's gestational Adam to the ungendered glorious body of the resurrection early modern theology offers a rich conceptual reservoir of trans imagery In uncovering early modern trans theology Glorious Bodies mounts a critique of the broad consensus that secularism is a necessary precondition for trans life while also combating contemporary transphobia and the right wing Christian culture war seeking to criminalize transition Developing a rehabilitative account of theology's value for positing trans lifeworlds this book leverages premodern religion to imagine a postsecular transness in the present Practical Laryngology Declan Costello, Guri Sandhu, 2015-10-28 Practical Laryngology is an invaluable guide to laryngology. It covers all the relevant areas in the field from basic science to disorders and diseases to in clinic procedures and the future of laryngology. In an easy to read format the book discusses a wide variety of topics including neurological diseases of the larynx swallowing disorders la Friendship and Educational Choice R. Brooks, 2004-11-10 Friendship and Educational Choice provides a unique insight into how young people go about making decisions about their educational options and the subtle yet crucial influence of friends and peers on these processes. It argues that focusing on both the impact of friends on educational decisions and the reciprocal influences that such decisions may exert on young people's friendships helps us to understand the significance and impact of educational choice in the wider lives of young people Education and Social Change John L. Rury, 2015-07-24 This brief interpretive history of American schooling focuses on the evolving relationship between education and social change. Like its predecessors this new edition adopts a thematic approach investigating the impact of social forces such as industrialization urbanization immigration globalization and cultural conflict on the development of schools and other educational institutions. It also examines the various ways that schools have contributed to social change particularly in enhancing the status and accomplishments of certain social groups and not others. Detailed accounts of the experiences of women and minority groups in American history consider how their lives have been affected by education while Focal Point sections within each chapter allow the reader to hone in on key moments in history and their relevance within the broader scope of American schooling from the colonial era to the present. This new edition has been comprehensively updated and edited for greater readability and clarity. It offers a revised final chapter updated to include recent change in education politics and policy in particular the decline of No Child Left Behind and the impact of the Common Core and movements against it. Further additions include enhanced coverage of colonial and early post colonial American schooling added materials on persistent issues such as race in education an updated discussion of the GED program and a closer look at the role of technology in schools. With its nuanced treatment of both historical and contemporary factors influencing the modern school system this book remains an excellent resource for investigating and critiquing the social economic and cultural development of American education.

The Other Women's Lib Julia C. Bullock, 2019-01-31 The Other Women's Lib provides the first systematic analysis of Japanese literary feminist discourse of the 1960s a full decade before the women's lib movement emerged in Japan. It highlights the work of three well known female fiction writers of this generation Kono Taeko Takahashi Takako and Kurahashi Yumiko for their avant garde literary challenges to dominant models of femininity. Focusing on four tropes persistently employed by these writers to protest oppressive gender stereotypes the disciplinary masculine gaze feminist misogyny odd bodies and female homoeroticism Julia Bullock brings to the fore their previously unrecognized theoretical contributions to second wave radical feminist discourse. In all of these narrative strategies the female body is viewed as both the object and instrument of engendering Severing the discursive connection between bodily sex and gender is thus a primary objective of the narratives and a necessary first step toward a less restrictive vision of female subjectivity in modern Japan The Other Women's Lib further demonstrates that this gender trouble was historically embedded in the socioeconomic circumstances of the high growth economy of the 1960s when prosperity was underwritten by an increasingly conservative gendered division of labor that sought to confine women within feminine roles Raised during the war to be good wives and wise mothers yet young enough to take advantage of the opportunities presented to them by Occupation era reforms the authors who fueled the 1960s boom in women's literary publication staunchly resisted normative constructions of gender crafting narratives that exposed or subverted hegemonic discourses of femininity that relegated women to the negative pole of a binary opposition to men Their fictional heroines are unapologetically bad wives and even worse mothers they are often wanton excessive or selfish and brazenly cynical with regard to traditional love marriage and motherhood The Other Women's Lib affords a cogent and incisive analysis of these texts as feminist philosophy in fictional form arguing persuasively for the inclusion of such literary feminist discourse in the broader history of Japanese feminist theoretical development It will be accessible to undergraduate audiences and deeply stimulating to scholars and others interested in gender and culture in postwar Japan Japanese women writers or Japanese feminism Mobility, Labour Migration and Border Controls in Asia A. Kaur, I. Metcalfe, 2006-05-02 One of the biggest challenges facing the Asia Pacific region in the 21st century is the large scale cross border movement of people This book explores sovereignty security issues and border management strategies of major states in the face of intensified transnational economic and social processes and the expanding global governance regime

Understanding Social Divisions Shaun Best, 2005-03-09 Introduction Placing Myself in the Social Divisions Class Division Disability and Mental Illness Race Racism and Ethnic Diversity Gender and Sexuality State Sponsored Social Divisions Conclusions Khatru Symposium: Women in Science Fiction Jeanne Gomoll, 2009-08-31 Originally published and edited by Jeffrey D Smith in 1975 Khatru 3 4's symposium on women in science fiction was a detailed conversation among some of the most well known authors of 70s feminist science fiction including Suzy McKee Charnas Samuel R Delany Vonda N McIntyre Joanna Russ James Tiptree Jr before her true identity of Alice B Sheldon was known Kate Wilhelm Chelsea Quinn Yarbro and others The opinions expressed by participants are still radical today This 1993 update of the symposium includes new material by some of the original participants and commentary by others including Pat Murphy Karen Joy Fowler Gwyneth Jones and Jeanne Gomoll Cover by Judith M Weiss illustrations by Georgie Schnobrich International Journal of Sexuality and Gender Studies, 2000 Spirits of Resistance and Capitalist Discipline Aihwa Ong, Alvin Y. So, 1987-01-01 Why are Malay women workers periodically seized by spirit possession on the shopfloors of modern factories In this book Aihwa Ong captures the disruptions conflicts and ambivalences in the lives of Malay women and their families as they make the transition from peasant society to industrial production To discover the meaning that the market economy and wage labor hold for Malay peasants Ong conducted anthropological field work in an agricultural district in Selangor Peninsular Malaysia which is undergoing rapid proletarianization Weaving together history ethnography and quantitative analysis she addresses many questions pertaining to peasants and state policies The book shows how the diverging roles of young men and women are increasingly channelled by educational and labor market pressures toward conformity with corporate culture and capitalist discipline A unique feature of this book is the portrayal of Malay women workers in Japanese factories caught between their culture and the culture of capitalism Ong argues that cultural values and practices both Islamic Malay and foreign are reworked and reconstituted in the industrial hierarchy Her vivid accounts of hysterical episodes violent incidents and women s self perceptions provide insights into their attitudes toward capitalist relations By illuminating the encounter of Malay peasants with global industrial production the book also throws light on the attitude of neophyte wage workers elsewhere in the Third World

A Victorian Muse Julia Straub,2009-09-13 The figure of Dante s Beatrice can be seen as a cultural phenomenon or myth during the nineteenth century inspiring a wide variety of representations in literature and the visual arts This study looks at the cultural afterlife of Beatrice in the Victorian period in remarkably different contexts Focusing on literary representations and selected examples from the visual arts this book examines works by Dante Gabriel Rossetti and Christina Rossetti George Eliot Alfred Lord Tennyson and Walter Pater as well as by John Ruskin Maria Rossetti and Arthur Henry Hallam Julia Straub s analysis shows how the various representations of Beatrice in literature and in the visual arts reflect in meaningful ways some of the central social and aesthetic concerns of the Victorian period most importantly its discourse on gender This study offers fascinating insights into the Victorian reception of Dante by exploring the powerful appeal of his muse

The Paradox of Planetary Human Entanglements Inocent Moyo,Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni,2022-12-30 The Paradox of Planetary Human Entanglements provides a nuanced understanding of the complexity of planetary human entanglements in this age of increased borderisation and territorialisation racism and xenophobia and inclusion and exclusion One of the greatest paradoxes of the 21st century is that of increased planetary human entanglements enabled by globalisation on the one hand and by the rising tide of exclusionary right wing politics of racism xenophobia and the building of walled states on the other The characteristic feature of this paradox is the unrestrained move towards the detention and incarceration of those who attempt to migrate This brings to the fore the issue of borders in terms of their materiality and symbolism and how this mediates belonging citizenship and the ethics or lack thereof and politics of living together This book shows that at the core of border and migration restrictions is the desire to exclude certain categories of people which aptly demonstrates that borders in their materiality are not for everyone but for those who are considered undesirable migrants The authors examine questions of borders nationalism migration immigration and belonging setting the basis of a campaign for planetary humanism grounded on human dignity which transcends ethnicity and nationality This book will be a useful resource for students scholars and researchers of

African Studies Border Studies Migration Studies Development Studies International Studies Black Studies International Relations and Political Science World Directory of Minorities Bridget Anderson, James Chin, John Connell, Patrick Costello, Lindsey Crickmay, Chris Dammers, James Ferguson, David Hawk, David McDowall, Anna Matveeva, Julia Maxted, Neil Melvin, Peter O'Neill, Suzanne Pattie, Martyn Rady, Javaid Rehman, Alex Roslin, Nikhil Roy, David Sogge, Bogdan Szajkowski, Carl Wilson, Abebe Zegeye, 1997-01-01 This publication is the first version of the World Directory of Minorities and Indigenous Peoples published in 1997 The full Directory is now available and continually updated on our website The large majority of violent conflicts in the world today are conflicts within states with groups polarized across ethnic and religious divides and not across borders Ethnic religious and linguistic minorities are often among the poorest of the poor suffer discrimination and are frequently the victims of human rights abuses Time and time again in the past the United Nations system governments and even non governmental organizations NGOs working in the field of conflict prevention have failed to promote the human rights of minorities or to take early action to promote cooperation between communities Early action may have prevented the loss of millions of lives in many countries ranging from Rwanda to the former Yugoslavia and from Sri Lanka to Guatemala It is also significant that the Nobel Peace Prize was awarded to the Dalai Lama in 1989 and to Jose Ramos Horta and Bishop Carlos Belo in 1996 as a result of their peaceful campaigns to promote the rights of their people The situation of minorities is then a matter of major concern and it is essential that accurate objective and up to date information is made available This Directory contributes to that process It is difficult to assess accurately what proportion of the world's population identify themselves as belonging to minority communities Conservative estimates place this above 10 per cent and some suggest that more than 20 per cent of the world's population belongs to several thousand different minority groups and subgroups National statistics are often skewed for political reasons and there is no universally accepted definition of minorities The word has different interpretations in different societies throughout the world while the United Nations General Assembly has not sought to reach a definition beyond that implied in the title of the UN Declaration on the Rights of Persons belonging to National or Ethnic Religious and Linguistic Minorities adopted in December 1992 Minority Rights Group focuses its work on non dominant ethnic religious and linguistic communities whether or not they are numerical minorities The concept thus relates to any self identified community that is marginalized without power unable to take decisions over its destiny and often experiencing high levels of illiteracy under education and overt or covert discrimination The basic rights of such communities need protection and promotion There is however a danger of generalizing about minorities and forgetting the complexity of their social composition including the rural poor urban migrants older people women and children These groups may be considered as doubly vulnerable What makes their situation particularly problematic is that there is often a deliberate political policy on the part of majorities and states not to give due regard to the legitimate interests of minorities while members of minorities see their identity as central to their social and economic situation They are often excluded from political power and decision making in the development process without equal opportunities to secure a better quality of life One further danger may lie in regarding ethnicities as fixed rather than as the potentially fluid phenomena that they often are Situational ethnicity does occur and individuals and groups do modify their self identifications depending on circumstances Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues The Epistemology of Resistance José Medina, 2013 This book explores the epistemic side of racial and sexual oppression It elucidates how social insensitivities and imposed silences prevent members of different groups from listening to each other

Futures and Fictions Simon O'Sullivan, Henriette Gunkell, Ayesha Hameed, 2017-11-21 Futures and Fictions is a book of essays and conversations that explore possibilities for a different political imaginary or more simply the imagining and imaging of alternate narratives and image worlds that might be pitched against the impasses of our neoliberal present In particular the book contributes to prescient discussions around decolonization post capitalism and new kinds of social movements exploring the intersections of these with contemporary art practice and visual culture Contributions range from work on science sonic and financial fictions and alternative space time plots to myths and images generated by marginalized and minor communities queer feminist strategies of fictioning and the production of new Afro and other futurisms Contributors to this volume include Ursula K Le Guin Theo Reeves Evisson Bridget Crone Kodwo Eshun Louis Moreno Laboria Cuboniks Luciana Parisi Stefan Helmreich Mark Fisher Judy Thorne Annett Busch Harold Offeh Robin Mackay Elvira Dyangani Ose Kemang Wa Lehulere and Oreet Ashery

Nuclear Nuevo México Myrriah Gómez, 2022-11-22 Nuclear Nuevo México recovers the voices and stories that have been lost or ignored in the telling of U S nuclear history By recuperating these narratives Myrriah Gómez tells a new story of New Mexico one in which the nuclear history is not separate from the collective colonial history of Nuevo México but instead demonstrates how earlier eras of settler colonialism laid the foundation for nuclear colonialism in New Mexico

Reconstructing Lives Recapturing Meaning Linda A. Camino, Ruth M. Krulfeld, 1994 Reconstructing Lives Recapturing Meaning presents the first systematic investigation of refugees loss of their old identities and their efforts to construct new ones Edited by the Chair and Vice Chair of the Committee on Refugee Issues CORI of the American Anthropological Association it critically examines the interplay between cultural ethnic and gender constructions among resettled refugee populations Each chapter is grounded in anthropological theory and method and the book's framework demonstrates the relationship between the dynamics of forced migration and the ways in
