Viscarra Rossel, Alex B. McBratney, Budiman Minasny, 2010-07-25 This book reports on developments in Proximal Soil Sensing PSS and high resolution digital soil mapping PSS has become a multidisciplinary area of study that aims to develop field based techniques for collecting information on the soil from close by or within the soil Amongst others PSS involves the use of optical geophysical electrochemical mathematical and statistical methods This volume suitable for undergraduate course material and postgraduate research brings together ideas and examples from those developing and using proximal sensors and high resolution digital soil maps for applications such as precision agriculture soil contamination archaeology peri urban design and high land value applications where there is a particular need for high spatial resolution information The book in particular covers soil sensor sampling proximal soil sensor development and use sensor calibrations prediction methods for large data sets applications of proximal soil sensing and high resolution digital soil mapping Key themes soil sensor sampling soil sensor calibrations spatial prediction methods reflectance spectroscopy electromagnetic induction and electrical resistivity radar and gamma radiometrics multi sensor platforms high resolution digital soil mapping applications Raphael A Viscarra Rossel is a scientist at the Commonwealth Scientific and Industrial Research Organisation CSIRO of Australia Alex McBratney is Pro Dean and Professor of Soil Science in the Faculty of Agriculture Food Natural Resources at the University of Sydney in Australia Budiman Minasny is a Senior Research Fellow in the Faculty of Agriculture Food Natural Resources at the University of Sydney in Australia Near Surface Geophysics, 2009 Precision Agriculture '05 J.V. Stafford, 2023-08-28 The potential benefits of doing things more precisely in agriculture include terms such as environmental economic audit trail vehicle guidance crop management and others Whilst some benefits have proved elusive others are contributing positively to today's agriculture In such an environment continuing research is required and needs to be reported and disseminated to a wide audience These Proceedings contain papers presented at the 5th European Conference on Precision Agriculture held in Uppsala Sweden The papers reflect the wide range of disciplines that impinge on precision agriculture technology crop science soil science agronomy information technology decision support remote sensing and others Peer reviewed papers from the 2nd European Conference on Precision Livestock Farming are presented in a companion proceedings Precision Livestock Farming 05 Soil Survey Horizons, 2003 Environmental and Criminal Geoforensics D. Pirrie, A. Ruffell, L.A. Dawson, 2013-12-05 Geological techniques are widely used in two aspects of serious criminal investigations 1 the search for clandestine burial sites based on near surface geophysics or through the detection of decomposition signals and 2 the analysis of trace evidence to identify its source location or test the possible association between the trace evidence and a known location of an offence Although geoforensics is used in such investigations world wide there are still considerable gaps in the published literature In addition there is increasing concern regarding the illegal release of wastes either into the atmosphere water courses or on to the land surface and a growing realization that the techniques used in criminal forensics are equally useful in the investigation of environmental crime This book bridges the gap between environmental and criminal geoforensics with conceptual methodological and case study contributions This demonstrates the significant potential that geoforensics holds for investigating and regulatory officers Australian
