The Gambler Paolo

Bacigalupi, 2016-02-04 In this Hugo and Nebula Award nominated short story a Laotian journalist Ong tries to succeed in an American news agency where glamorous click bait stories drive revenue and in depth news stories are a dying breed As Ong struggles to survive in the newsroom he must choose whether he will pursue clicks and success or stay true to his ideals and risk everything because of it The Gambler was nominated for the 2009 Hugo Award for Best Novelette and the 2009 Nebula Award for Best Novelette It was featured in Gardner Dozois's Year's Best SF Twenty Sixth Edition Jonathan Strahan's Best SF of the Year Volume 3 and originally published in Pyr's Fast Forward 2 Anthology Reviews The stories he Paolo chooses to write are those that make an easy extrapolation of the present into the near future but with an immediacy and richness of detail that shows the reader just how close we are to seeing this come to pass The world of The Gambler isn't as dystopian as what we normally get from him but his protagonist still serves a similar function as a lone voice of reason in a future you would not prefer but which seems somehow inevitable There may be some analogy there with the author himself but either way this is a nicely done story Mataglap SF The story wisely spends its time deepening Ong's quiet but firm sincerity The end of The Gambler is probably the most touching thing Bacigalupi has yet written what Ong gambles on is human nature and Bacigalupi makes us want him to win Torque Control Society and the Internet Mark Graham, William H. Dutton, 2019 This second edition of Society and the Internet provides key readings for students scholars and those interested in understanding the interactions of the Internet and society introducing new and original contributions examining the escalating concerns around social media disinformation big data and privacy
