Hollywood or History Scott L. Roberts, Charles J. Elfer, 2018-07-01 Teaching and learning through Hollywood or commercial film productions is anything but a new approach and has been something of a mainstay in the classroom for nearly a century Purposeful and effective instruction through film however is not problem free and there are many challenges that accompany classroom applications of Hollywood motion pictures In response to the problems and possibilities associated with teaching through film we have collaboratively developed a collection of practical classroom ready lesson ideas that might bridge gaps between theory and practice and assist teachers endeavoring to make effective use of film in their classrooms We believe that film can serve as a powerful tool in the social studies classroom and where appropriately utilized foster critical thinking and civic mindedness The College Career and Civic Life C3 framework represents a renewed and formalized emphasis on the perennial social studies goals of deep thinking reading and writing We believe that as teachers endeavor to digest and implement the platform in schools and classrooms across the country the desire for access to structured strategies that lead to more active and rigorous investigation in the social studies classroom will grow increasingly acute Our hope is that this edited book might play a small role in the larger project of supporting practitioners specifically K 12 teachers of United States history by offering a collection of classroom ready tools based on the Hollywood or History strategy and designed to foster historical inquiry through the careful use of historically themed motion pictures The book consists of K 5 and 6 12 lesson plans addressing the following historical eras Adapted from UCLA National Center for History in Schools      Teaching Middle

Teaching Dilemmas and Solutions in Content-Area Literacy, Grades 6-12 Peter Smagorinsky, 2014-08-19 Because literacy is not just the English teacher s job Think literacy is just for English teachers Not anymore Nor should it be when you consider that each discipline has its own unique values and means of expression These days it s up to all teachers to communicate what it means to be literate in their disciplines Here finally is a book ambitious enough to tackle the topic across all major subject areas Engage in this cross disciplinary conversation with seasoned teachers and university researchers and learn how to develop curriculum and instruction that are responsive to students needs across English language arts science social studies mathematics visual space and music and drama Peter Smagorinsky and his colleagues provide an insider s lens on both the states of their fields and their specific literacy demands including Reviews of current issues and state of the art research informing literacy education Scenario based activities for reflection and discussion typifying the dilemmas and challenges faced by practicing teachers Considerations of the textual forms and conventions required in each discipline Specific policy recommendations Read this book on your own for immediate suggestions on how to improve literacy instruction within your course of study Better yet share it with colleagues and participate in a larger conversation about how your literacy expectations influence the ways students read and produce texts in other disciplines Journal of Social Studies Research ,2008 Social Studies for Secondary Schools Alan J.

Singer, 2008-10-26 This popular text advocates an inquiry and activity based view of social studies teaching that respects the points of view of students and teachers Based in practice and experience it offers systematic support and open honest advice for new teachers is conversational not pedantic and provides lots of examples While the structure and most of the topics remain largely the same as before this Third Edition presents new lesson ideas in every chapter especially designed to help new teachers to address learning standards to work in inclusive settings and to promote literacy and the use of technology in social studies classrooms puts a heavier focus on what is important to know and why includes new essays on the politics of social studies education responds to opponents of project or activity based social studies instruction and multicultural education with a sharpened defense of both of these approaches throughout the book Intended as a text for undergraduate and graduate pre service social studies methods courses this text is also useful for in service training programs as a reference for new social studies teachers and as a resource for experienced social studies educators who are engaged in rethinking their teaching practice

The Theory-Story Reader for Social Studies Bretton A. Varga, Erin C. Adams, 2024 Theory holds the capacity to help educators see the world differently challenge problematic assumptions and practices that cultivate harm and illuminate pathways towards access equity justice joy and love While it is easy to underestimate the role of theory in such pursuits throughout social studies education this book shows that theory is always already present in all productions of teaching and learning In this collection well established scholars highlight a broad range of theories that are currently being used to alter the landscape of social studies instruction Important to these efforts is the position that theory does not exist in a vacuum but rather is the reflection of a certain set of concepts and the relationship that one holds to those ideas Taking this further each chapter author employs storytelling as a means to share their personal history and unpack how they came to understand their selected theoretical topic They address a breadth of concepts such as Black feminism psychoanalysis racial capitalism settler colonialism sustainability and technoskepticism Book Features The only resource of its kind that pairs storying with a far reaching range of theories actively being used by scholars in the field of social studies education and research Brief chapters arranged alphabetically by concept provide structure while also staying true to the book s framing of theory as being curious fragmented nomadic and discursive Embedded connections within each chapter meant to help readers understand the relational and entangled nature of theory Contributors include Sohyun An Kristen Duncan Jillian Ford Jim Garrett Wayne Journell Noreen Naseem Rodriguez Muna Saleh Sandra Schmidt Sarah Shear Cathryn van Kessel and Amanda Vickery
