The Plot: The Secret Story of The Protocols of the Elders of Zion Will Eisner, 2006-05-17 A work more disturbing than fiction from the father of graphic novels New York Times The ultimate illustration of how absurdly comical and cancerous The Protocols has been to mankind Thane Rosenbaum Los Angeles Times Book Review The Plot which examines the astonishing conspiracy and the fabrication of The Protocols of the Elders of Zion has become a worldwide phenomenon since its hardcover publication taught in classrooms around the globe Purported to be the actual blueprints by Jewish leaders to take over the world the Protocols first published in 1902 have become gospel truth to international millions Presenting a pageant of historical figures from nineteenth century Russia to today's ideologues including Tsar Nicholas II Henry Ford and Adolf Hitler Will Eisner unravels and dispels one of the most devastating hoaxes of the twentieth century

Umberto Eco and the Open Text Peter Bondanella, 2005-10-20 Umberto Eco is Italy's most famous living intellectual known among academics for his literary and cultural theories and to an enormous international audience through his novels The Name of the Rose Foucault's Pendulum and The Island of the Day Before Umberto Eco and the Open Text is the first comprehensive study in English of Eco's work In clear and accessible language Peter Bondanella considers not only Eco's most famous texts but also many occasional essays not yet translated into English Tracing Eco's intellectual development from early studies in medieval aesthetics to seminal works on popular culture postmodern fiction and semiotic theory he shows how Eco's own fiction grows out of his literary and cultural theories Bondanella cites all texts in English and provides a full bibliography of works by and about Eco

The Red Sea Alexis Wick, 2016-01-19 The Red Sea has from time immemorial been one of the world's most navigated spaces in the pursuit of trade pilgrimage and conquest Yet this multidimensional history remains largely unrevealed by its successive protagonists Intrigued by the absence of a holistic portrayal of this body of water and inspired by Fernand Braudel's famous work on the Mediterranean this book brings alive a dynamic Red Sea world across time revealing the particular features of a unique historical actor In capturing this heretofore lost space it also presents a critical conceptual history of the sea leading the reader into the heart of Eurocentrism The Sea it is shown is a vital element of the modern philosophy of history Alexis Wick is not satisfied with this inclusion of the Red Sea into history and attendant critique of Eurocentrism Contrapuntally he explores how the world and the sea were imagined differently before imperial European hegemony Searching for the lost space of Ottoman visions of the sea The Red Sea makes a deeper argument about the discipline of history and the historian's craft

Literature and Cartography Anders Engberg-Pedersen, 2017-11-24
The relationship of texts and maps and the mappability of literature examined from Homer to Houellebecq Literary authors have frequently called on elements of cartography to ground fictional space to visualize sites and to help readers get their bearings in the imaginative world of the text Today the convergence of digital mapping and globalization has spurred a cartographic turn in literature This book gathers leading scholars to consider the relationship of literature and cartography Generously illustrated with full color maps and visualizations it offers the first systematic overview of an emerging approach to the study of literature The literary map is not merely an illustrative guide but represents a set of relations and tensions that raise questions about representation fiction and space Is literature even mappable In exploring the cartographic components of literature the contributors have not only brought literary theory to bear on the map but have also enriched the vocabulary and perspectives of literary studies with cartographic terms After establishing the theoretical and methodological terrain they trace important developments in the history of literary cartography considering topics that include Homer and Joyce Goethe and the representation of nature and African cartographies Finally they consider cartographic genres that reveal the broader connections between texts and maps discussing literary map genres in American literature and the coexistence of image and text in early maps When cartographic aspirations outstripped factual knowledge mapmakers turned to textual fictions Contributors Jean Marc Besse Bruno Bosteels Patrick M Bray Martin Br ckner Tom Conley J rg D nne Anders Engberg Pedersen John K Noyes Ricardo Padr n Barbara Piatti Simone Pinet Clara Rowland Oliver Simons Robert Stockhammer Dominic Thomas Burkhardt Wolf

Across the Corrupting Sea Cavan Concannon, Lindsey A. Mazurek, 2016-03-17
Across the Corrupting Sea Post Braudelian Approaches to the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean reframes current discussions of the Mediterranean world by rereading the past with new methodological approaches The work asks readers to consider how future studies might write histories of the Mediterranean moving from the larger pan Mediterranean approaches of The Corrupting Sea towards locally oriented case studies Spanning from the Archaic period to the early Middle Ages contributors engage the pioneering studies of the Mediterranean by Fernand Braudel through the use of critical theory GIS network analysis and postcolonial cultural inquiries Scholars from several time periods and disciplines rethink the Mediterranean as a geographic and cultural space shaped by human connectivity and follow the flow of ideas ships trade goods and pilgrims along the roads and seascapes that connected the Mediterranean across time and space The volume thus interrogates key concepts like cabotage seascapes deep time social networks and connectivity in the light of contemporary archaeological and theoretical advances in order to create new ways of writing more diverse histories of the ancient world that bring together local contexts literary materials and archaeological analysis Reading Eco Rocco Capozzi, 1997-02-22

READING ECO is a timely indication of the fruitfulness of perceiving Eco as the same in his metamorphoses It also testifies to a certain price that Eco and his readers must pay for the enormous pleasure and intellectual stimulus of being Eco and being with Eco The Comparatist Umberto Eco is quite simply a genius He is a renowned medievalist philosopher novelist a popular journalist and linguist He is as warm and witty as he is learned and quite probably the best known academic and novelist in the world today The goal of this anthology is to examine his ideas of literary semiotics and interpretation as evidenced both in his scholarly work and in his fiction Welcome Home, Boys! Sebastian Jobs, 2012-10 This book takes on the subject of military victory parades in New York City during the first half of the 20th century and looks on these performances as political street theater The study shows how abstract concepts like the nation state or Americanism were represented and embodied in these events With its focus on the three main groups of actors involved in the parades organizers soldiers spectators the book demonstrates how these marches can only be understood as a collaboration of these actors each group interpreting the event in their very distinct ways The book deepens our understanding of how political performances functioned in the U S and how they made an impact on society Page 4 of cover
