

Discussion Paper on E-commerce in India

Introduction:

E-commerce in recent times has been growing rapidly across the world. According to Report of Digital-Commerce, IAMAI-IMRB (2013), e-commerce industry in India has witnessed a growth of US$ 3.8 billion in the year 2009 to US$ 9.5 billion in 2012. By 2013, the market is expected to reach US$12.6 billion, showing year to year growth of 34%. Industry sources indicate that this growth can be sustained over a longer period of time as e-commerce will continue to reach new geographies and encompass new markets. E-commerce means sale or purchase of goods and services conducted over network of computers or TV channels by methods specifically designed for the purpose. Even though goods and services are ordered electronically, payments or delivery of goods and services need not be conducted online. E-commerce transaction can be between businesses, households, individuals, governments and other public or private organizations. There are numerous types of e-commerce transactions that occur online ranging from sale of clothes, shoes, books etc. to services such as airline tickets or making hotel bookings etc.

1.2 The bookings done through electronic communication could be Business to Business (B2B) or Business to Consumer (B2C). Business to Business i.e. B2B is e-commerce between businesses such as between a manufacturer and a wholesaler or between a wholesaler and a retailer. As per the WTO report WT/COMTD/W/193, global B2B transactions comprise 90% of all e-commerce. According to research conducted by USA based International Data Corporation, it is estimated that global B2B commerce, especially among wholesalers and distributors amounted to US$12.4 trillion at the end of 2012.

1.3 The bookings done electronically between Business to Consumer for purchase or sale of goods and services is known as B2C e-commerce. Although B2C e-commerce receives a lot of attention, B2B transactions far exceed B2C transactions. According to IDC, global B2C transactions are estimated to have reached US$ 1.2 trillion at the end of 2012, ten times less than B2B transactions. B2C e-Commerce entails business selling to general public/ e-catalogues that make use of shopping place. There are several variants in B2C model that operate in e-commerce arena.

1.4 From the point of view of business, there are two models of e-commerce. First model is known as 'Market Place' model, which works like exchange for buyers and sellers. The 'Market Place' provides a platform for business transactions between buyers and sellers to take place and in return for the services provided, earns commission from sellers of goods/services. Ownership of the inventory in this model vests with the number of enterprises which advertise their products on the website and are ultimate sellers of goods or services. The 'Market Place', thus, works as a facilitator of e-commerce. Different from the 'Market Place' model is the second category of business known as 'Inventory Based' model. In this model, ownership of goods and services and market place vests with the same entity. This model does not work as a facilitator of e-commerce, being delineated therefrom, but is engaged in e-commerce directly.

Cerny, 2004 Journal Article Writing and Publication Sharon A. Gutman, 2024-06-01 The ability to demonstrate that a specific health care profession provides valuable and effective services that meet society's health needs is a major objective for all health care academicians and researchers. Such skills are critical to ensure service reimbursement from an increasingly small pool of health care dollars. Demonstrating clinical effectiveness depends on the reporting of written research results through journal publication so that the health care community and larger society will be able to access and read evidence supporting health care services. Today, several clinical reporting standard guidelines have been created by researchers to enhance the ability of readers to evaluate the quality and value of studies. Journal Article Writing and Publication is the first text to compile those clinical research reporting standards in one source and helps educators and novice researchers to better understand the skills needed for journal publication. Health care researchers must begin using these reporting standards in order to write manuscripts that are both correctly formatted and transparently convey all critical study strengths and limitations. Educators must teach these reporting standards to students who must evaluate research reports as consumers and possible future contributors to the literature through their own writing. Journal Article Writing and Publication by Dr. Sharon A. Gutman, a former editor of the American Journal of Occupational Therapy, provides specific guidelines based on the most commonly accepted reporting standards for the preparation and writing of general research studies, intervention effectiveness studies, instrument development and testing studies, and case reports. A section is devoted to helping authors understand the rules governing the reporting of statistical data in text and tables. Separate sections help authors understand the manuscript preparation and submission process, the revision process, and the etiquette guiding communication with editors and reviewers.

Guidelines for the preparation of scholarly discussion papers and editorials are also provided Journal Article Writing and Publication also features a section that aims to help doctoral students and newly minted faculty turn academic work and dissertations into publishable journal articles Suggestions are provided to help clinicians turn clinical data into research databases that could serve as the foundation for pilot studies Finally information is provided to help authors better understand the ethical considerations of publication including plagiarism dual submissions inappropriate authorship copyright and conflict of interest
