Humor in Contemporary Native North American Literature Eva Gruber, 2008 Encompassing view of humor in recent Native North American literature with particular focus on Native self image and identity In contrast to the popular cliché of the stoic Indian humor has always been important in Native North American cultures Recent Native literature testifies to the centrality of this tradition Yet literary criticism has so far largely neglected these humorous aspects instead frequently choosing to concentrate on representations of trauma and cultural disruption at the risk of reducing Native characters and Native cultures to the position of the tragic victim This first comprehensive study explores the use of humor in today's Native writing focusing on a wide variety of texts spanning all genres It combines concepts from cultural studies and humor studies with approaches by Native thinkers and critics analyzing the possible effects of humorous forms of representation on the self image and identity formation of Native individuals and Native cultures Humor emerges as an indispensable tool for engaging with existing stereotypes Native writers subvert degrading clichés of the Indian from within reimagining Nateness in a celebration of laughing survivors decolonizing the minds of both Native and non native readers and contributing to a renewal of Native cultural identity This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Native Studies both literary and cultural Due to its encompassing approach it will also provide a point of entry for the wider readership interested in contemporary Native writing Eva Gruber is Assistant Professor in the American Studies section of the Department of Literature at the University of Konstanz Germany

Abject Spaces in American Cinema Frances Pheasant-Kelly, 2013-05-21 American cinema abounds with films set in prisons asylums hospitals and other institutions

Rather than orderly places of recovery and rehabilitation these institutional settings emerge as abject spaces of control and repression in which adult identity is threatened as a narrative impetus Exploring the abject through issues as diverse as racism mental illness or the preservation of bodies for organ donation thi book analyses a range of films including One Flew Over the Cuckoo s Nest 1975 The Shawshank Redemption 1994 Full Metal Jacket 1987 and Girl Interrupted 1999 through to cult films such as Carrie 1976 and Bubba Ho tep 2002 In these films locations of coherence and order become places where the internal and repressed aspects of the body individual and social threaten to overwhelm the individual Identity is compromised through harsh conditions extreme discipline the exertion of absolute control and above all the restriction of personal space Symbolically infantilised forced to reassess aspects of the adult the only escape is through violence the eponymous Carrie escapes from her cupboard for a massacre the women of Girl Interrupted mutilate and annihilate themselves and Kubrick s Gomer Pyle shoots sadistic patriarch Sergeant Hartman in the head By analysing scenes of horror and disgust within the context of abject space Frances Pheasant Kelly reveals how threats to identity manifest in scenes of torture horror and psychosexual repression and are resolved either through death or through traumatic re entry into the outside world Bringing together contemporary theoretical debates and critical disciplines Abject Spaces in American Cinema offers a coherent and meaningful analysis of institutonal films and shows that the chaos of the abject space cannot be resolved only escaped This readable and engging tour of the abject in the institution of film will be immensely valuable to students of Film Studies Critical Theory and Cultural Studies

Touching Art Maria Emília Fonseca,2011-01-18 This study focusses on the exhibition of the Tree of Life a sculpture made in Mozambique of decommissioned dismantled weapons created to celebrate peace and commissioned by the British Museum chosen to be the symbol of the Africa 2005 season of cultural events and exhibited in its Great Court between February and October 2005 This artwork was first exhibited in Maputo before being dispatched to Britain and it is presently on display at the Sainsbury African Galleries of the British Museum in London This dissertation moves along two converging routes the articulation of the meaning s produced within the exhibition and the role of exhibitionary institutions in the creation of social knowledge A central topic of discussion is the different practices and sites of exhibition of the Tree of Life sculpture in Britain and in Mozambique in an endeavour to illustrate establish the differences which determine and or condition the specific approaches used in the two distinct cultural contexts within which it was exhibited The discussion evolves towards exploring how a new discourse on the exhibition of contemporary African art questions and challenges both curatorial practices and cultural concepts of collecting displaying and interpreting art objects and negotiating meaning
