Panel Evidence Thorsten Beck,Mathilde Janfils,Kangni Kpodar,Mr. Kangni R Kpodar,2022-04 This paper uses data across 365 corridors to document time and country variation in remittance fees and explore factors predicting variation in remittance fees We document a general reduction in such fees over the past decade although the goal of fees below 3 percent has not been met yet in many corridors We identify both cost and risk based constraints and market structure as barriers to lower remittance fees Higher transaction costs as result of a more rural population in the sending country and lower scale are associated with higher remittance fees However lower risks due to the stability of fixed exchange rates and Internet rather than cash payment are associated with lower remittance fees Finally remittance corridors dominated by banks and few players are characterized by higher fees
