Decolonising Geography? Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa, 1948-1998 Ruth Craggs, Hannah Neate, 2023-10-16
DECOLONISING GEOGRAPHY This book presents an extraordinarily sensitive account of geography's histories in five African countries subjected to British colonial rule. Craggs and Neate draw together political and imaginative processes of decolonisation through an innovative biographical approach that humanizes and enlivens the story of our academic discipline. It will be an invaluable resource for those seeking a deeper understanding of decolonisation, its recent trajectories and far-reaching implications on the African continent. Shari Daya Affiliate Associate Professor in Environmental and Geographical Science, University of Cape Town. By placing the experiences, ideas and practices of African geographers in the center of their analyses, Craggs and Neate provide an unprecedented account of historical and contemporary decolonizing struggles within Geography and the academy. This book should be required reading for all those looking to decolonize the discipline and dislodge it from its Global North histories, institutions and ideologies. Mona Domosh, Professor of Geography, The Joan P and Edward J Foley Jr 1933 Professor, Dartmouth College. This meticulous work explores how colonialism, decolonization and postcolonialism shaped African geography and geographers. It sheds light on efforts to Africanize the discipline, a process which I was both witness to and a participant in. Stanley Okafor, Professor of Geography, Retired, University of Ibadan. How did a generation of academic geographers engage with constitutional decolonisation during the end of the British empire in Africa? In Decolonising Geography: Disciplinary Histories and the End of the British Empire in Africa 1948-1998, Ruth Craggs and Hannah Neate explore how the teaching, research, administration and activism of geographers in Africa shaped the discipline and the post-colonial geopolitics of the continent. The authors follow the professional lives of individual geographers to provide fresh insights into decolonisation in the former British Empire in Africa, drawing from extensive archival research and more than 40 oral history interviews with geographers in Ghana, Nigeria, South Africa, Tanzania and the UK. Decolonising Geography is a must-read for any reader in the UK and Africa with an interest in the relationships between geography and decolonisation.

Rockhound: A Geography of Collecting Michael Gordon, 2017-05-15
In this book Rockhound: A Geography of Collecting, you will be shown Ontario's incredible history of mineral extraction and as you will see, rockhounds follow in the signature that every industry left. The full Rockhound series tells you how and where to find crystals, minerals, gold, diamonds and all manner of rock and mineral treasure for the collector. This book is an absolute gem and an essential guide to Ontario geology as it relates to mineral collecting.

Origination: The Geographies of Brands and Branding offers innovative theoretical and conceptual frameworks relating to the ways that actors create meaning and value in commodity brands and branding through processes of geographical association. Provides innovative conceptualization and theorization to facilitate an understanding of the geographical dimensions of brands and branding. Challenges current interpretations of brands as vehicles of homogenization.

in globalization Establishes the theoretical and conceptual foundations of a more geographically sensitive approach through rigorous empirical examination of the under researched geographical differentiation of commodity brands and branding Presents innovative new research and analysis of the socio spatial biographies of the Newcastle Brown Ale Burberry and Apple brands Forges strong new connections between political and cultural economy approaches within geography Provides a distinctive and incisive conceptual and theoretical framework capable of engaging other branded commodities and their branding in other times and places

Asymmetric Crisis in Europe and Possible Futures Johannes Jäger, Elisabeth Springler, 2015-04-10 The crisis in Europe is often discussed as a crisis of European integration or a crisis of national economies within Europe Both the methodological Europeanism and methodological nationalism miss out the important links between economic and political processes at different spatial scales within Europe and therefore asymmetries and phenomena of uneven development In addition a discussion of possible scenarios which systematically addresses the implications of anti crisis policies is missing This volume seeks to close this gap by systematically integrating the analysis of economic policy or technical solutions to the crisis within a broader framework of political economy It argues that combining critical political economy approaches and post Keynesian perspectives allows for a systematic understanding of the economic and political dimensions of the crisis Although both approaches have the capacity to deal with asymmetries and uneven development the heterogeneity in Europe has been an often largely neglected dimension of analysis However this recent crisis has shown that this is an essential dimension which has to be addressed in order to better understand the dynamics of European development and integration Hence this book aims to deal with asymmetries in Europe and to bridge the gap between the two perspectives This work will initiate an integrative debate that is crucial for a deeper understanding of the current crisis and is an important resource for all students and scholars of IPE European political economy and European politics

The Drone Memos Jameel Jaffer, 2010-01-12 A trenchant summation and analysis of the legal rationales behind the US drone policy of targeted killing of suspected terrorists including US citizens Publishers Weekly starred review In the long response to 9 11 the US government initiated a deeply controversial policy of targeted killing the extrajudicial execution of suspected terrorists and militants typically via drones A remarkable effort was made to legitimize this practice one that most human rights experts agree is illegal and that the United States has historically condemned In The Drone Memos civil rights lawyer Jameel Jaffer presents and assesses the legal memos and policy documents that enabled the Obama administration to put this program into action In a lucid and provocative introduction Jaffer who led the ACLU legal team that secured the release of many of the documents evaluates the drone memos in light of domestic and international law He connects the documents legal abstractions to the real world violence they allow and makes the case that we are trading core principles of democracy and human rights for the illusion of security A careful study of a secretive counterterrorism infrastructure capable of sustaining endless orderless war this book is profoundly necessary Katrina vanden Heuvel editor thorough investigation of the where why how and when of the U S s use of UAVs Beginning with a historical overview of the use of drones in warfare it then addresses whether targeted killing operations are strategically wise whether they are permissible under international law and the related ethical issues It also looks at the political factors behind the use of drones including domestic and global attitudes toward their use and potential issues of proliferation and escalation Finally the use of drones by other countries such as Israel and China is examined Each chapter features a case study that highlights particular incidents and patterns of operation in specific regions including Yemen Somalia Pakistan and Libya and strike types signature strikes personality strikes etc

Sand, Snow, and Stardust Gretchen Heefner, 2025-05-05 A vivid tour of US military efforts to understand survive and command harsh environments worldwide and beyond Deserts the Arctic outer space these extreme environments are often seen as inhospitable places at the edges of our maps But from the 1940s through the 1960s spurred by the diverse and unfamiliar regions the US military had navigated during World War II the United States defense establishment took a keen interest in these places dispatching troops to the Aleutian Islands North Africa the South Pacific and beyond To preserve the country s status as a superpower after the war to pave runways and build bridges engineers had to understand and then conquer dunes permafrost and even the surface of the moon Sand Snow and Stardust explores how the US military generated a new understanding of these environments and attempted to master them intending to cement America s planetary power Operating in these regions depended as much on scientific and cultural knowledge as on military expertise and technology From General George S Patton learning the hard way that the desert is not always hot to the challenges of constructing a scientific research base under the Arctic ice to the sheer implausibility of modeling Martian environments on Earth Gretchen Heefner takes us on a wry expedition into the extremes and introduces us to the people who have shaped our insight into these extraordinary environments Even decades after the first manned space flight plans for human space exploration and extraplanetary colonization are still based on what we know about stark habitats on Earth An entertaining survey of the relationship between environmental history and military might Sand Snow and Stardust also serves as a warning about the further transformation of the planet whether through desertification melting ice caps or attempts to escape it entirely

Cool Steven Quartz, Anette Asp, 2015-04-14 This engrossing history merges evolutionary biology and economics to explain our spending habits and show how coolness is at the heart of consumerism Mental Floss We live in a world of conspicuous consumption where the things we buy not only satisfy our needs but also communicate our values identities and aspirations In Cool Steven Quartz and Anette Asp bring together groundbreaking findings in neuroscience economics and evolutionary biology to show how our concepts of cool be it designer jeans smartphones or craft beer help drive the global economy Cool puts forth a provocative theory of consumerism based on our brain s innate status seeking and social calculator The authors highlight the underlying processes that guide our often unconscious decision making They also pull back the curtain on choice architects who design store interiors as well as coolhunters who scour Berlin and Tokyo for the latest trends Quartz and Asp follow the evolution of cool consumption from the mid twentieth century through the emergence of the Internet in the 1990s finally unpacking the social motivations behind today s hip ethical consumption Taking us from Norman Mailer to normcore Cool is surprising at every turn and will forever change the way you think about money status and your next purchase Netflix Nations Ramon Lobato,2019-01-08 How streaming services and internet distribution have transformed global television culture Television once a broadcast medium now also travels through our telephone lines fiber optic cables and wireless networks It is delivered to viewers via apps screens large and small and media players of all kinds In this unfamiliar environment new global giants of television distribution are emerging including Netflix the world s largest subscription video on demand service Combining media industry analysis with cultural theory Ramon Lobato explores the political and policy tensions at the heart of the digital distribution revolution tracing their longer history through our evolving understanding of media globalization Netflix Nations considers the ways that subscription video on demand services but most of all Netflix have irrevocably changed the circulation of media content It tells the story of how a global video portal interacts with national audiences markets and institutions and what this means for how we understand global media in the internet age Netflix Nations addresses a fundamental tension in the digital media landscape the clash between the internet s capacity for global distribution and the territorial nature of media trade taste and regulation The book also explores the failures and frictions of video on demand as experienced by audiences The actual experience of using video platforms is full of subtle reminders of market boundaries and exclusions platforms are geo blocked for out of region users this video is not available in your region catalogs shrink and expand from country to country prices appear in different currencies and subtitles and captions are not available in local languages These conditions offer rich insight for understanding the actual geographies of digital media distribution Contrary to popular belief the story of Netflix is not just an American one From Argentina to Australia Netflix s ascension from a Silicon Valley start up to an international television service has transformed media consumption on a global scale Netflix Nations will help readers make sense of a complex ever shifting streaming media environment Civic Engagement, Community-Based Initiatives and Governance Capacity Jurian Edelenbos,Astrid Molenveld,Ingmar van Meerkerk,2020-12-29 This book intends to theoretically conceptualize and empirically investigate upcoming and established practices of community based initiatives in various countries in which both citizens and governments join efforts and capacities to solve wicked issues It aims to include and compare cases from various countries departing from the notion that community based initiatives take place in an institutional context of governmental structures rules procedures regulations and routines This leads to government involvement in these initiatives and sharing the public space Furthermore the editors take into account what kind of leadership roles knowledge and resources are present and how they evolve in this collaborative or coordinative effort which in turn can enhance the capacities of community based initiatives This book joins excellent researchers from
