The skills required by children's nurses are many and varied and are undertaken in a variety of settings. Sick children are cared for at home, in children's units and hospitals and sometimes in adult wards. In addition, children with disabilities may need nursing care while at special schools or in residential settings. This book provides a clinical manual of common practices. Introductory chapters cover issues common to all practices to make the book easier to use. The appendix on play reinforces its common usage as a distraction technique.
