Applying Machine Learning in Science Education Research Peter Wulff, Marcus Kubsch, Christina Krist, 2025-02-28 This open access textbook offers science education researchers a hands on guide for learning critically examining and integrating machine learning ML methods into their science education research projects These methods power many artificial intelligence AI based technologies and are widely adopted in science education research ML can expand the methodological toolkit of science education researchers and provide novel opportunities to gain insights on science related learning and teaching processes however applying ML poses novel challenges and is not suitable for every research context

The volume first introduces the theoretical underpinnings of ML methods and their connections to methodological commitments in science education research. It then presents exemplar case studies of ML uses in both formal and informal science education settings. These case studies include open source data, executable programming code, and explanations of the methodological criteria and commitments guiding ML use in each case. The textbook concludes with a discussion of opportunities and potential future directions for ML in science education. This textbook is a valuable resource for science education lecturers, researchers, undergraduate and postgraduate students seeking new ways to apply ML in their work.
