British Columbia's Borders in Globalization Nicole Bates-Eamer, Helga Kristín Hallgrímsdóttir, 2021-11-24 This book is a case study collection examining the influences and functions of British Columbia's BC borders in the 21st century British Columbia's Borders in Globalization examines bordering processes and the causes and effects of borders in the Cascadian region from the perspective of BC The chapters cover diverse topics including historical border disputes and cannabis culture and identity the governance of transboundary water flows migration and preclearance policies for goods and people and the emerging issue of online communities The case studies provide examples that highlight the simultaneous but contradictory trends regarding borders in BC while boundaries and bordering processes at the external borders shift away from the territorial boundary lines self-determination local politics and cultural identities re-inscribe internal boundaries and borders that are both virtual and real Moreover economic protectionism racial discourses and xenophobic narratives driven by advances in technology reinforce the territorial dimensions of borders These case studies contribute to the literature challenging the notion that territorial borders are sufficient for understanding how borders function in BC and in a few instances they illustrate the nuanced ways in which borders or bordering processes are becoming detached from territory The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Borderlands Studies

Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility Un-Habitat,2013-10-30 Urban transport systems worldwide are faced by a multitude of challenges Among the most visible of these are the traffic gridlocks experienced on city roads and highways all over the world The prescribed solution to transport problems in most cities has thus been to build more infrastructures for cars with a limited number of cities improving public transport systems in a sustainable manner However a number of challenges faced by urban transport systems such as greenhouse gas emissions noise and air pollution and road traffic accidents do not necessarily get solved by the construction of new infrastructure Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility argues that the development of sustainable urban transport systems requires a conceptual leap The purpose of transportation and mobility is to gain access to destinations activities services and goods Thus access is the ultimate objective of transportation As a result urban planning and design should focus on how to bring people and places together by creating cities that focus on accessibility rather than simply increasing the length of urban transport infrastructure or increasing the movement of people or goods Urban form and the functionality of the city are therefore a major focus of this report which highlights the importance of integrated land use and transport planning This new report of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme UN Habitat the world s leading authority on urban issues provides some thought provoking insights and policy recommendations on how to plan and design sustainable urban mobility systems The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date global assessment of human settlements conditions and trends Preceding issues of the report have addressed such topics as Cities in a Globalizing World The Challenge of Slums Financing Urban Shelter Enhancing Urban Safety and Security Planning Sustainable Cities and Cities and Climate Change

Invisible Child Andrea Elliott, 2021-10-05 PULITZER PRIZE WINNER NATIONAL BESTSELLER A vivid and devastating The New York Times portrait of an indomitable girl from acclaimed journalist Andrea Elliott. From its first indelible pages to its rich and startling conclusion Invisible Child had me by turns stricken, inspired, outraged, illuminated in tears and hungering for reimmersion in its Dickensian depths. Ayad Akhtar author of Homeland Elegies ONE OF THE TEN BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR The New York Times ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR The Atlantic The New York Times Book Review Time NPR Library Journal In Invisible Child Pulitzer Prize winner Andrea Elliott follows eight dramatic years in the life of Dasani, a girl whose imagination is as soaring as the skyscrapers near her Brooklyn shelter. In this sweeping narrative Elliott weaves the story of Dasani's childhood with the history of her ancestors, tracing their passage from slavery to the Great Migration north. As Dasani comes of age, New York City's homeless crisis has exploded, deepening the chasm between rich and poor. She must guide her siblings through a world riddled by hunger, violence, racism, drug addiction, and the threat of foster care. Out on the street, Dasani becomes a fierce fighter to protect those who I love. When she finally escapes city life to enroll in a boarding school, she faces an impossible question: What if leaving poverty means abandoning your family and yourself? A work of luminous and riveting prose, Elliott's Invisible Child reads like a page-turning novel. It is an astonishing story about the power of resilience, the importance of family, and the cost of inequality, told through the crucible of one remarkable girl. Winner of the J. Anthony Lukas Book Prize, Finalist for the Bernstein Award and the PEN John Kenneth Galbraith Award, Longlisted for the Baillie Gifford Prize.

Education in a Digital World Neil Selwyn, 2013 Drawing on a wealth of theoretical and empirical work, Education in a Digital World tackles a number of pressing questions such as: how are global trends in educational technology refracted through national policies and processes? How exactly are educational technologies linked to issues of global economics and the fortunes of national and international economies? To what extent are digital technologies implicated in the commercialisation, marketization and commodification of education? These questions and others are addressed throughout eight wide-ranging chapters which consider topics such as the national policy strategies of countries across North and South America, Europe and East Asia; the educational technology portfolios of international organizations such as the United Nations and Microsoft; as well as the role of education and technology in international development and the on-going efforts to provide one laptop per child across low-income regions and countries. Through these examples, Selwyn develops a detailed analysis of education technology and globalisation, drawing together arguments and debates from various academic perspectives. Written in a detailed but accessible manner, this is an essential book for anyone wishing to gain a better understanding of the role of education and technology in contemporary globalised society
