Adams, 2017-03-07 Presents a comprehensive treatment of issues related to the inception design implementation and reporting of large scale education assessments In recent years many countries have decided to become involved in international educational assessments to allow them to ascertain the strengths and weaknesses of their student populations Assessments such as the OECD s Programme for International Student Assessment PISA the IEA s Trends in Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS and Progress in International Reading Literacy Study PIRLS have provided opportunities for comparison between students of different countries on a common international scale This book is designed to give researchers policy makers and practitioners a well grounded knowledge in the design implementation analysis and reporting of international assessments Readers will be able to gain a more detailed insight into the scientific principles employed in such studies allowing them to make better use of the results The book will also give readers an understanding of the resources needed to undertake and improve the design of educational assessments in their own countries and regions Implementation of Large Scale Education Assessments Brings together the editors extensive experience in creating designing implementing analysing and reporting results on a wide range of assessments Emphasizes methods for implementing international studies of student achievement and obtaining highquality data from cognitive tests and contextual questionnaires Discusses the methods of sampling weighting and variance estimation that are commonly encountered in international large scale assessments Provides direction and stimulus for improving global educational assessment and student learning Is written by experts in the field with an international perspective Survey researchers market researchers and practitioners engaged in comparative projects will all benefit from the unparalleled breadth of knowledge and experience in large scale educational assessments gathered in this one volume Educating the Top 100 Percent Stephen G. Katsinas, Nathaniel J. Bray, Martha J. Kanter, 2022-08-23 Educating the Top 100 Percent assesses the decline of higher education funding and offers ambitious policy recommendations to restore the possibility of accessible affordable education for all Stephen G Katsinas Nathaniel J Bray and Martha J Kanter probe the complex interplay of federal state and local policies and illustrate how government actions have over time contributed to the long term slide of US educational attainment Declining federal and state funding of public higher education has forced institutions to revise their financial models passing costs directly through to students to the detriment of prospective students and the nation Experts in education policy the authors point out how the unintended consequences of today's funding model deny an ever increasing portion of the population important educational and professional opportunities By providing context for how we arrived at this financial conundrum and analyzing robust quantitative data from national sources Katsinas and his colleagues offer pragmatic sustainable and stable policy options for educating all Americans The authors provide innovative ideas key lessons learned and actionable proposals to fund public higher education Their top down federal and bottom up local and state policy solutions aim to rectify plummeting high school to college continuation and college graduation rates As a result they present a vision of a brighter economic cultural and civic future for educating all Americans Educating the Top 100 Percent demonstrates how stable sustainable funding policies can scaffold a better public higher education system for all The City Record New York (N.Y.),1918
