Bah, Issa Faye, Zekebweliwai F. Geh, 2018-03-12 This open access book utilizes new data to thoroughly analyze the main factors currently shaping the African housing market Some of these factors include the supply and demand for housing finance land tenure security issues construction cost conundrum infrastructure provision and low cost housing alternatives Through detailed analysis the authors investigate the political economy surrounding the continent's housing market and the constraints that behind the scenes policy makers need to address in their attempts to provide affordable housing for the majority in need With Africa's urban population growing rapidly this study highlights how broad demographic shifts and rapid urbanization are placing enormous pressure on the limited infrastructure in many cities and stretching the economic and social fabric of municipalities to their breaking point But beyond providing a snapshot of the present conditions of the African housing market the book offers recommendations and actionable measures for policy makers and other stakeholders on how best to provide affordable housing and alleviate Africa's housing deficit This work will be of particular interest to practitioners non governmental organizations private sector actors students and researchers of economic policy international development and urban development Naval War College Review, 2014 The Character of American Democracy

Jill Long Thompson, 2020-09-15 This illuminating examination of democratic ethics is a resource for Americans who are seeking ways to secure our democracy and our future as a nation Congressman John Lewis Ethical leadership steeped in integrity and fairness matters The future of our nation and our world depends upon the quality of America's character In this absorbing look at our contemporary society and government former Indiana congresswoman Jill Long Thompson persuasively argues that we all have a meaningful role to play in shaping America's character and future The citizenry as well as their elected officials are responsible for protecting fairness of participation and integrity in elections as well as in the adoption and execution of laws In this troubling time when the public is losing trust and confidence in our government Jill Long Thompson shows us a bipartisan way forward Credit Rating Governance Ahmed Naciri, 2015-01-30 Credit rating agencies play an essential role in the modern financial system and are relied on by creditors and investors on the market In the recent financial crisis their power and reliability were often questioned yet a simple rating downgrade could threaten to bankrupt a whole country This book examines the governance of credit rating agencies as expressed by their ability to fairly ethically and consistently assign higher rates to issuers having lesser default risks However factors such as the drive for increased revenue and market share the inadequate business model the inadequate methodology of assessing risk opacity and inadequate internal monitoring have all been identified as critical governance failures for credit agencies This book explores these issues and proposes some potential solutions and improvements This will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of corporate finance financial economics risk management investment management and banking The Report: Sri Lanka Oxford Business Group, 2016-05-12 While the presidential and parliamentary elections in 2015 instigated a wait and see approach within Sri Lanka's private sector the outcome is expected to be positive in the longer term bringing improved stability and a more encouraging environment for foreign investment Under what has been described as a more liberal open and business oriented government Sri Lanka is entering a period in which it stands to grow rapidly In 2016 the country should begin to see the benefits of the recent reform agenda as the new leadership introduces policies that will help bring about strong and sustainable growth

Bad Therapy Abigail Shrier, 2024-02-27

From the author of Irreversible Damage an investigation into how mental health overdiagnosis is harming not helping children A pacy no holds barred attack on mental health professionals and parenting experts thought provoking Financial Times A message that parents teachers mental health professionals and policymakers need to hear New Statesman In virtually every way that can be measured Gen Z s mental health is worse than that of previous generations Youth suicide rates are climbing antidepressant prescriptions for children are common and the proliferation of mental health diagnoses has not helped the staggering number of kids who are lonely lost sad and fearful of growing up What s gone wrong In Bad Therapy bestselling investigative journalist Abigail Shrier argues that the problem isn t the kids it s the mental health experts Drawing on hundreds of interviews with child psychologists parents teachers and young people themselves Shrier explores the ways the mental health industry has transformed the way we teach treat discipline and even talk to our kids She reveals that most of the therapeutic approaches have serious side effects and few proven benefits for instance talk therapy can induce rumination trapping children in cycles of anxiety and depression while gentle parenting can encourage emotional turbulence even violence in children as they lash out desperate for an adult to be in charge Mental health care can be lifesaving when properly applied to children with severe needs but for the typical child the cure can be worse than the disease Bad Therapy is a must read for anyone questioning why our efforts to support our kids have backfired and what it will take for parents to lead a turnaround Educating the Top 100 Percent Stephen G. Katsinas,Nathaniel J.

Bray,Martha J. Kanter,2022-08-23 Educating the Top 100 Percent assesses the decline of higher education funding and offers ambitious policy recommendations to restore the possibility of accessible affordable education for all Stephen G Katsinas Nathaniel J Bray and Martha J Kanter probe the complex interplay of federal state and local policies and illustrate how government actions have over time contributed to the long term slide of US educational attainment Declining federal and state funding of public higher education has forced institutions to revise their financial models passing costs directly through to students to the detriment of prospective students and the nation Experts in education policy the authors point out how the unintended consequences of today s funding model deny an ever increasing portion of the population important educational and professional opportunities By providing context for how we arrived at this financial conundrum and analyzing robust quantitative data from national sources Katsinas and his colleagues offer pragmatic sustainable and stable policy options for educating all Americans The authors provide innovative ideas key lessons learned and actionable proposals to fund public higher education Their top down federal and bottom up local and state policy solutions aim to rectify plummeting high school to college continuation and college graduation rates As a result they present a vision of a brighter economic cultural and civic future for educating all Americans Educating the Top 100 Percent demonstrates how stable sustainable funding policies can scaffold a better public higher education system for all Information and Software Technologies Giedre
