Grandmamma's Pear Sauce Growing up I've always learned what needed to be known about cooking from my great grandma Lancy. She was one of those women who wouldn't let you lick the spoon after making fudge brownies, but would teach you what could substitute eggs in a recipe if you didn't have any. My grandma always had something new for me to make when I would go to stay with her whether it's for the weekend, week, or summer. Each time it could be anywhere from cheese straws, to homemade pickles, to salmon patties, to caramel cake. Any time we would make something that had fruit in the recipe; she knew exactly where to go so that we could pick the fruit fresh and use that in the pastry, desert, or sauce we were making. She always tells us it is important to know where the ingredients you use in a recipe come from in order to make ... Show more content on Helpwriting.net ...

I was seven and my parents worked over the summer so they had to find ways for my brother and I to be occupied and baby sat at the same time. My brother and I always love going to my grandma's house because she lives on a farm and we have always had free range of the whole place while we were visiting. But the best part about staying with my grandma is that she always has something new for us to try to make. This time in particular was pear sauce. My brother really wasn't into the cooking as much and he was the eating. I was always the one who helped her make the dish. We both didn't know what to think of pear sauce considering we had never tried anything like that before, but we both like pears so we figured why not? My grandma and I began the recipe by walking down to my aunt's, her sister's, who has always has fruit growing or vegetables growing in her garden behind her house. For as long as I could remember she has always had this massive pear tree that overlooked all the rest of the plants in her garden. After picking the pears we had to begin the fun
