

5th Grade Mathematics - Investigations

Unit 2: Measurement and Geometry Teacher Resource Guide 2012 - 2013

In Grade 5, instructional time should focus on three critical areas:

1. Developing fluency with addition and subtraction of fractions, and developing understanding of the multiplication of fractions and of division of fractions (limited to unit fractions divided by whole numbers and whole numbers divided by unit fractions);
Students apply their understanding of fractions and fraction models (set model, area model, linear model) to represent addition and subtraction of fractions with unlike denominators as equivalent calculations with like denominators ($\frac{1}{4} + \frac{2}{8} = \frac{1}{4} + \frac{1}{4}$). They develop fluency in calculating sums and differences of fractions, and make reasonable estimates of them. Students also use the meaning of fractions and the relationship between multiplication and division to explain why the procedures for multiplying and dividing fractions make sense.
2. Extending division to 2-digit divisors, integrating decimal fractions into the place value system and developing understanding of operations with decimals to hundredths, and developing fluency with whole number and decimal operations;
Students develop understanding of why division procedures work based on place value and properties of operations. They are fluent with multi-digit addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. They apply their understandings of models for decimals, decimal notation, and properties of operations to add and subtract decimals to hundredths. Students use the relationship between decimals and fractions, and the relationship between decimals and whole numbers (i.e., a decimal multiplied by a power of 10 is a whole number) to understand and explain why procedures for multiplying and dividing decimals make sense. They compute products and quotients of decimals to hundredths efficiently and accurately.
3. Developing understanding of volume.
Students understand that volume is an attribute of three-dimensional space and can be measured by finding the total number of same-size units of volume required to fill the space without gaps or overlaps. They understand that a 1-unit by 1-unit by 1-unit cube is the standard unit for measuring volume. They decompose three-dimensional shapes and find volumes of right rectangular prisms by viewing them as decomposed into layers of arrays of cubes.
