non profit and educational purposes each chapter gives guidance on how to think locally and globally on money matters to consider and personal questions to answer before proceeding to help filmmakers manage their time money and energy wisely This book empowers the filmmaker to distribute their documentary in an effective and strategic manner Providing concrete advice on how to navigate the documentary ecosystem beyond the classroom this is the ideal book for professional and emerging documentary filmmakers as well as students who are looking to distribute their documentary films Sustainable and Responsible Investment in Developing Markets Joshua Y. Abor,2023-05-09 Covering pertinent areas of sustainable and responsible investment SRI this forward looking book examines SRI in developing markets including its evolution principles and concepts It explores the drivers and challenges in developing economies and analyses the theoretical underpinnings to critical issues pertaining to SRI Agricultural Innovation Systems The World Bank,2012-02-21 Managing the ability of agriculture to meet rising global demand and to respond to the changes and opportunities will require good policy sustained investments and innovation not business as usual Investments in public Research and Development extension education and their links with one another have elicited high returns and pro poor growth but these investments alone will not elicit innovation at the pace or on the scale required by the intensifying and proliferating challenges confronting agriculture Experience indicates that aside from a strong capacity in Research and Development the ability to innovate is often related to collective action coordination the exchange of knowledge among diverse actors the incentives and resources available to form partnerships and develop businesses and conditions that make it possible for farmers or entrepreneurs to use the innovations While consensus is developing about what is meant by innovation and innovation system no detailed blueprint exists for making agricultural innovation happen at a given time in a given place for a given result The AIS approach that looks at these multiple conditions and relationships that promote innovation in agriculture has however moved from a concept to a sub discipline with principles of analysis and action AIS investments must be specific to the context responding to the stage of development in a particular country and agricultural sector especially the AIS This sourcebook contributes to identifying designing and implementing the investments approaches and complementary interventions that appear most likely to strengthen AIS and to promote agricultural innovation and equitable growth It emphasizes the lessons learned benefits and impacts implementation issues and prospects for replicating or expanding successful practices The information in this sourcebook derives from approaches that have been tested at different scales in different contexts It reflects the experiences and evolving understanding of numerous individuals and organizations concerned with agricultural innovation including the World Bank This information is targeted to the key operational staff in international and regional development agencies and national governments who design and implement lending projects and to the practitioners who design thematic programs and technical assistance packages The sourcebook can also be an important resource for the research community and nongovernmental organizations NGOs Vivienda ¿Qué viene? Verónica Adler,Felipe Vera,Laura Sara Wainer,Pablo

Roquero, Mariana A. Poskus, Luis Valenzuela, Marcela Letelier, Pablo Olivares, John Treimun, Alexis Gamboa, Karina Canales, Javier Guajardo, Nora Libertun de Duren, Diane E. Davis, Michael G. Donovan, Pauline Claramunt Torche, María Paloma Silva, 2018-12-01 Durante el siglo XX la población mundial se incrementó más que en ningún otro periodo de la historia desde alrededor de 1.5 billones de personas en el 1900 hasta cerca de 7 billones hoy en día. Frente a estas cifras es imposible no pensar qué hemos hecho para alojar esta población o bien qué ha hecho toda esta gente para procurarse vivienda. Las cifras indican que si bien hemos sido capaces de construir y cubrir ampliamente los déficits cuantitativos, hoy el gran desafío es mejorar cualitativamente el stock existente. El crecimiento poblacional continúa siendo efervescente, especialmente en geografías del Sur Global bajo condiciones económicas emergentes y la pregunta sobre cómo explorar el potencial de la vivienda para transformar el tejido urbano es clave para construir mejores ciudades.

Getting the innovation ecosystem ready for AI
World Intellectual Property Organization, 2024-03-11 As AI technologies evolve at an exponential pace there are many questions and challenges for IP and the IP system. They are the innovators. Issue 1 covered the theme of mobile phones and information technology. Issue 2 covered the theme of youth and entrepreneurship. Issue 3 covered the theme of agribusiness and food security. Issue 4 covers the theme of cities and urbanization.

Revisiting dominant notions: A review of costs, performance and institutions of small reservoirs in sub-Saharan Africa. Venot, J.-P., de Fraiture, C., Nti Acheampong, E., 2012 This report investigates the dynamics of one of the most common agricultural water management practices of sub-Saharan Africa: small reservoirs. Small reservoirs dam permanent or temporary river flows and support multiple livelihood activities: livestock watering, crop cultivation, fisheries, small handicrafts, etc. while providing water-related ecosystem services: soil and water conservation, flood and drought mitigation, etc. Gathering evidence from four sub-Saharan countries: Burkina Faso, Ghana, Ethiopia and Zambia, this report calls for revisiting our understanding and assessment of the costs, performance and institutions for the management of small reservoirs. A more holistic analytical approach is the first step towards an integrative governance framework. This in turn holds the promise of sustainable management of small reservoirs.

Real Estate Finance and Economics Lucy Ogbenjuwa, 2023-01-23 Finance is essential to the real estate project development sector's success. However, there is still an enormous gap in the real estate sector. What seems to be required is a model that could guide managers in securing real estate project development finance. Findings have shown that no comprehensive framework is presently available. This book presents a toolkit to support real estate managers in securing real estate project development finance The book will help managers to understand the different financing options and criteria required by financiers The study includes case studies from developed and emerging economies including Germany the United Kingdom the United States of America China Nigeria and South Africa The author concludes that the dominant challenges common to managers in both economies are access to land collateral and rising interest rates

How to Improve Governance David Ferranti,Justin Jacinto,Anthony J. Ody,2009-09-01 In recent years the developing world has seen a burst of efforts to reduce corruption increase transparency and accountability and improve governance Needless to say this is an important and encouraging development However the lack of a reliable compass to describe where a country is at a given moment and where it could be heading in the absence or acceptance of proposed reforms can result in disastrous missteps The unfortunate absence of such a guide has helped lead to innumerable failed governments or ineffective regimes This important book aims to fill that void How to Improve Governance emphasizes the need for an overall analytical framework that can be applied to different countries to help analyze their current situations identify potential areas for improvement and assess their relative feasibility and the steps needed to promote them A country specific analysis needs to be comprehensive in the sense that it includes the four concepts of transparency accountability governance and anticorruption throughout the calculus Without such an analytic framework any reform attempt is likely to flounder for lack of a shared understanding of the underlying problems and of the feasible reforms The book gives special emphasis to the potential for civil society groups to play a stronger role in holding governments accountable for their use of public resources and to the importance of developing politically feasible prioritized country strategies for reform Whether one looks at how to increase domestic demand for good governance how to make government more accountable to the public or how to build democratic processes that deliver results the underlying issues are essentially the same As development actors of various types seek to help more and more of them are calling for a clearer conceptual framework to guide their efforts From the Introduction
