The Principles of New Ethics II Wang Haiming, 2020-10-29 From Descartes to Spinoza Western philosophers have attempted to propose an axiomatic systemization of ethics However without consensus on the contents and objects of ethics the system remains incomplete This fourvolume set presents a model that highlights a Chinese philosopher s insights on ethics after a 22 year study Three essential components of ethics are examined metaethics normative ethics and virtue ethics This volume is the first part of the discussion on normative ethics The author sets out to discuss morality and shows how the reasoning behind it can be both good and bad for human society from various perspectives A system of an ultimate standard of morality is introduced and it is shown that where there are conflicts between different moral norms that cannot be compromised people undoubtedly sacrifice less important moral norms to follow more fundamental and important moral norms or principles The ultimate standard of morality is also the ultimate value standard for the evaluation of the goodness or badness of state institutions Justice is the fundamental value standard to measure state institutions Equality is the most important justice The Chinese version of this set sold more than 60 000 copies and has exerted tremendous influence on the academic scene in the People s Republic The English version will be an essential read for students and scholars of ethics and philosophy in general in the Middle East Keith David Watenpaugh, 2014-12-19 In this innovative book Keith Watenpaugh connects the question of modernity to the formation of the Arab middle class The book explores the rise of a middle class of liberal professionals white collar employees journalists and businessmen during the first decades of the twentieth century in the Arab Middle East and the ways its members created civil society and new forms of politics bodies of thought and styles of engagement with colonialism Discussions of the middle class have been largely absent from historical writings about the Middle East Watenpaugh fills this lacuna by drawing on Arab Ottoman British American and French sources and an eclectic body of theoretical literature and shows that within the crucible of the Young Turk Revolution of 1908 World War I and the advent of late European colonialism a discrete middle class took shape It was defined not just by the wealth professions possessions or the levels of education of its members but also by the way they asserted their modernity Using the ethnically and religiously diverse middle class of the cosmopolitan city of Aleppo Syria as a point of departure Watenpaugh explores the larger political and social implications of what being modern meant in the non West in the first half of the twentieth century Well researched and provocative Being Modern in the Middle East makes a critical contribution not just to Middle East history but also to the global study of class mass violence ideas and revolution

Mohanty, 2020-11-29 This book explores how the liberal conception of justice with all its ideological underpinnings is reflected in the framing and working of the Constitution of India in the adoption of broader socio economic objectives in the functioning of judicial and state institutions and in the formulation and implementation of development strategy It analyses the dynamics of the relationship between justice democracy and the state The book studies the liberal conception of social justice and its sufficiency and interrogates its performance and adequacy within the structural parameters and cultural conditions of postcolonial India It provides an analytical exposition of how the borrowed and inadequate conception of liberal justice and democracy inherited from colonial past and the espousal of the derivative developmental pattern based on modernist and constructivist paradigm have together failed to achieve the modest target of justice enshrined in the Constitution Interlinking justice democracy and state the book examines their operational dynamics in an integrated framework which has relevance for other Third World countries also because of socio economic and cultural commonalities
